TERMINUS FOR TERMINAL — The center portion of building T-93 on Hamilton Air Force Base's south runway hangs in ruins while on either side doomed sections wait for demolition. This is how the building which could have been Marin County's passenger airline terminal looked this morning as Aviation Commission officials sought a cease and desist order to halt the destruction by the Air Force.

INSIDE T-93 — Partitions within the building stand in shredded ruin. They were knocked down prior to planned razing of the entire structure, which Air Force engineers rated structurally unsafe, the base commander said.

AF Wrecking Building Eyed For Joint Use

'Terminal' Action Termed Shocking

By PAT PERRY

T-93, an empty building on Hamilton Air Force Base which was being considered by the Marin County Aviation Commission for use as a passenger terminal in possible joint civilan-military use is being demolished.

The county's prime joint-use advocate Ben Ostlind said today: "I am shocked and disgusted. We couldn't replace that structure for a third of a million dollars. It was practically Marin's only chance of airline service."

"It isn't even a normal demolition. The plumbing has been smashed to pieces instead of being salvaged. It's as if someone just wanted to stop it being used."

Col. Vermont Garrison, commander of Hamilton, said today he was unaware county authorities had been interested in T-93 for use as a passenger terminal — "they have submitted no proposals to me.

"What has happened is that as far as the Air Force is concerned we consider it an unsafe building and are taking it down. We have no reason to stop."

Destruction of the former Reserve Training Wing building on the southern end of the flightline began some days ago, but local aviation officials only yesterday discovered it was happening.

Immediately, William W. Schwarzer, chairman of the aviation commission, fired off protest telegrams to the Department of Defense, Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R-First District; William H. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, Casper Weinberger (director of the Office of Management and Budget) and colonel Garrison.

Pleading for a cease and desist order, Schwarzer said: "Hamilton Air Force Base has started process of demolishing valuable surplus building T-93 which has great potential for use as an interim civil airline terminal. Destruction must be halted soonest pending decision on joint civilian-military use of base. Urge you take immediate action and notify proper authorities to stop any further destruction.

"Orders to cease and desist must reach Hamilton commander prior to 8 a.m. June 5."

However, Garrison said at 10:30 a.m. today he had received no such orders and demolition was continuing.

He said the wooden frame structure was of World War II vintage, and was involved with three or four other buildings considered to be beyond the state of economical repair, and scheduled for demolition.

Schwarzer said today it was "unfortunate" that the Air Force considered it necessary to raze the building. In his

Polls To Open at 7 A.M. Tomorrow; A Long Ballot

Election day tomorrow will climax months of clamor for hundreds of candidates and measures across California, with Marinites alone facing choices among 72 candidates on the ballot, 10 state propositions, a Bay Area regional measure, three local measures, and 27 candidates on the ballot, 10 state propositions, a Bay Area regional measure, three local measures, and 27 write-in candidates for President.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

County Elections Officer Peter C. Meyer predicted today that 70 per cent of the 106,244 registered voters in Marin will ballot in the primary election, the first in California in which 18-to-21-year olds will go to the polls.

Candidates will be on the ballot for President, House of Representatives, state Assembly, county board of supervisors, superior court judge, Marin Municipal Water District, two political party county central committees and two sanitary districts. Local measures will be on the ballot in the San Rafael, Dixie and Shoreline school districts and in Greenbrae.

In Sonoma County, voters also will ballot in races for the state Senate, House of Representatives, county board of supervisors, and on a proposal to repeal plans for an aqueduct to expand the water supply.

10 State Propositions On Ballot —Most Attention For Prop. 9

Ten state propositions will be on tomorrow's ballot, with major attention on Proposition 9, the Environment Initiative.

The complex initiative, opposed in a $1.6 million campaign by oil companies, labor, banks, utilities, railroads and heavy industries, would impose a five-year moratorium on construction of nuclear power plants, ban new or renewed offshore oil drilling on state tidelands, restrict pesticides, close polluting industry in periods of intense air pollution, limit polluting contaminants in fuels, and clamp tight conflict of interest restrictions on members of environmental quality control boards.

All of the state propositions require only majority approval for passage.

PROPOSITION 1 — A $250 million bond measure to provide additional funds for California veterans to finance the purchase or improvement of homes or farms.

PROPOSITION 2 — A $350 million bond measure, with $250 million in loans to replace schools failing to meet earthquake-resistance minimums, and $100 million in loans to low-wealth school districts for new classrooms and facilities.

PROPOSITION 3 — Amends the state Constitution to repeal the right of a defendant in a criminal case to represent himself.

Prosecutor Is Shocked By Angela Acquittal Verdict

Reaction to the acquittal of Angela Davis, charged in connection with Marin County's most celebrated crime, ranged today from shocked disbelief on the part of the prosecutor to absolute silence from San Quentin prisoners.

"I don't want to make any hasty remarks," Asst. Atty. Genl. Albert W. Harris Jr. said today from his San Rafael home. "I thought the evidence was sufficient" (to convict her of murder kidnapping and conspiracy charges stemming from the August 1970 Civic Center shoot-out).

Harris said he wanted to reflect further on the jury's verdict yesterday before making any more statements but in the meantime he used the words, "dismayed," "disappointed," "shocked" and "surprised" to describe his reactions to the end of the long case.

Angela Freed, But Claims No Trial Only Fair One

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)— Angela Davis was freed Sunday and kissed and embraced the all-white jurors who acquitted her. But she said she had not changed her mind about the injustice of the American court system.

"The only fair trial would have been no trial," she said.

Miss Davis, 28, the former UCLA instructor who is an admitted Communist, was found innocent of all charges that she conspired in the San Rafael kidnaping of hostages and murder of a judge.

Shrieks of joy filled the tiny courtroom on her acquittal and the usually stone-faced Miss Davis grinned broadly, said "Gee" and then went out onto a mall to talk to some 400 supporters.

"This is not only the happiest day of my life," she said, "But I am sure the people who struggled for me across this country and around the world are aware that it is a symbol that we are going to free all political prisoners and the oppressed."

As the jurors filed out, the spectators in the 40 by 40 foot room stood and joined in thunderous applause.

At a news conference a short time later, she was asked what she thought of her acquittal by an American jury which included no blacks.

"I didn't think of them as part of the judicial system," she said. "I thought of them as part of the people, people who have to be brought into the fight against injustice.

"If you are implying that my acquittal changes my mind about the American judicial system, then you are wrong. The fact of my acquittal means there was no fair trial at all. The only fair trial would have been no trial."

Despite a chain of circumstantial evidence from 97 state witnesses, the seven woman, five man jury found there was "reasonable doubt" that Angela knew of or participated in Jonathan Jackson's break into a Marin County courthouse on Aug. 7, 1970.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Shots Fired At Colombo's Sons

NEW YORK (UPI) — Shots were fired today at the two eldest two sons of ailing underworld leader Joseph A. Colombo Sr. as they drove up to their father's house. There were no injuries, police said.

Anthony

Police said an unknown person fired several shots at Anthony, 27, and Joseph Jr., 25, at 1:15 a.m., hitting the right front door window of Anthony's car. There were two other persons with the Colombos when the incident occurred.

A foreign made revolver of undetermined caliber was recovered in the street by police.

New Government

ROME (UPI) — The man Italians once called the "boy wonder" had the task today of uniting squabbling politicians into the nation's 34th postwar government.

Premier Giulio Andreotti received an open mandate to form the government last night from President Giovanni Leone.

He said he will give his answer after consultations this week with his own Christian Democratic party and the leaders of other "democratic" parties.

By this, he made it clear he will not include the Communists or the neo-Fascists in the consultations.

Prices Absorbed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are indications that food stores may have absorbed part of the increased cost of wholesale beef and pork in May instead of passing them on to consumers, according to an Agriculture Department economist.

Don Paarlberg, Director of Economics for the Agriculture Department, said in an interview yesterday that although government reports on May retail prices will not be issued until late this month, he believed they would show "margins were being squeezed" for major foods including both beef and pork.

He said indications are that retail supermarkets last month "swallowed" some of the wholesale increases by narrowing their margins, rather than adding to consumer costs.

Sniper Kills One

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI) — Police stepped up patrols through the night, watching for a sniper who cruised through the city in a light-colored car early yesterday killing one youth and wounding five other persons.

All of the victims, shot between 2:47 a.m. and 4:25 a.m. in a 15-block area of the Elizabeth business district, were black. Police said most witnesses gave conflicting stories about the gunman and his car but believed he was a white man.

Thunderbird Killed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A veteran pilot on the Air Force's Thunderbirds precision flying team was killed yesterday after ejecting from his crippled F4E Phantom jet during the final day of the International Transportation Fair.

It was the fifth accident and third death during the nine-day Transpo '72 at Dulles International Airport.

The pilot, identified as Maj. Joseph C. Howard, 32, of Ahoskie, N.C., was "severely burned," according to a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman. The Air Force has launched an investigation of the accident.

Howard's jet apparently lost power during the climb with the four other team planes and crashed two miles from the grandstand as thousands watched.

Fast At End

Chavez went without food, drinking only water, for 24 days.

The leader of the United Farm Workers Union told 6,000 cheering supporters at an afternoon Roman Catholic mass Sunday that he was "weak in body but strong in spirit."

He said his fast was "meant as a call to sacrifice for justice and as a reminder of how much suffering there is among farm workers."

Six Feared Dead

TAIPEI (UPI) — A U. S. Air Force C130 transport plane with six men aboard crashed early today near the Pescadores Islands into the Formosa Strait, an air force spokesman said.

The Nationalist Chinese government's rescue center said some wreckage of the transport was found and the body of one crewman was recovered. There were no signs of survivors.

Queen Leads Procession At Rites For Her Uncle

WINDSOR, England (UPI)— The nation said farewell to the Duke of Windsor today in funeral services attended by Queen Elizabeth and the royal family and carried by radio to the land he once ruled as King Edward VIII.

The services themselves in St. George's Chapel were private, only for some 200 family and close friends, but millions more listened to the last rites for a man whose hold on his former subjects even 36 years after he abdicated was shown by the 60,000 who came to his lying-in-state. He died eight days ago at 77 at his Paris home.

The Duchess of Windsor, 75 and suffering from the shock of her husband's death in Paris May 28, attended the services under the watchful eye of her New York physician, Dr. Arthur Antenucci. She declined the Queen's invitation to remain as a guest at Buckingham Palace and will return home today in a royal plane.

Burial was scheduled in the royal family cemetery at Frogmore House, half a mile from the chapel.

The Duchess drove to Windsor from Buckingham Palace this morning in time to join the royal ladies —the Queen, Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Anne, Princess Margaret and the Duchess of Gloucester whose husband —the late Duke's brother —is an invalid and unable to attend. They took seats in the choir.

The coffin was brought in by Welsh Guardsmen —the Duke was colonel-in-chief of the regiment. Walking behind it came the Dean of Windsor, who officiated at the funeral, and the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and the moderator of the general assembly of the Church of Scotland, who attended at the Queen's request.

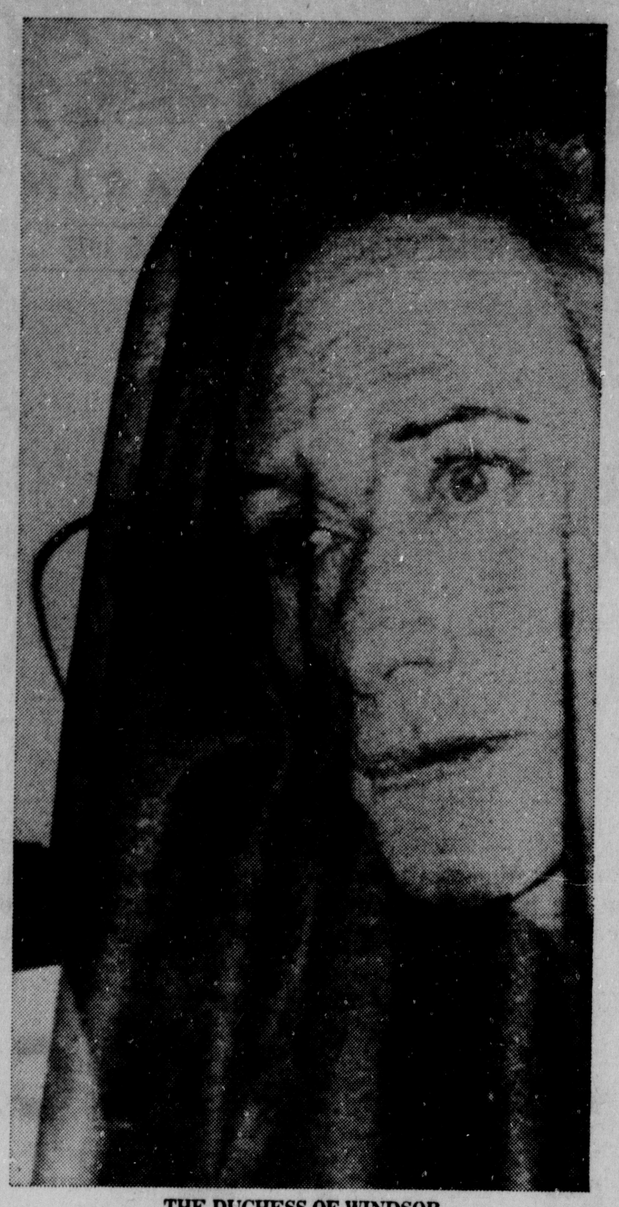
Then came the only foreign monarch, King Olav V of Norway, first cousin to the Duke, Prince Philip, Prince Charles, the heir to the throne, Prince Richard and Prince William of Gloucester, the Duke of Kent, Prince Michael of Kent, Earl Mountbatten and the Duke of Beaufort, a cousin of the Queen.

The coffin was draped with the Duke's personal red and gold standard. It bears a plate reading: "H.R.H. the Prince Edward Albert Christian George Andrew David Patrick, Duke of Windsor. Born 1894. Died 1972. King Edward VIII 20th January-11th December 1936."

Although he reigned as King Edward VIII of England for 327 days in 1936, the Duke was not accorded a state funeral in Westminster Abbey in London, along with its accompanying pageantry and parade.

For three decades the Duke remained cut off from the royal family, the result of his abdication for love of Wallis Warfield Simpson, a twice-divorced native of Baltimore. They were married for nearly 35 years — Saturday would have marked their anniversary.

The funeral ceremony's climax was the Archbishop of Canterbury pronouncing the blessing and trumpeters in red jackets and white breeches playing the Last Post and Reveille on horns draped with royal banners.



THE DUCHESS OF WINDSOR
Shows signs of funeral strain

A luncheon recess was scheduled between the funeral ceremonies and the burial.

Then the Duke, in burial arrangements made with his brother, King George VI, some years ago, was to be buried in the garden where he played as a child rather than rest in a stone tomb. Some day, at the Duke's request, his Duchess will be buried by his side.

Report On My Lai Is Demanded

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., has demanded the release of a 260-page secret report drafted by a panel of high-ranking U.S. Army officers which accuses two generals of misconduct in connection with the My Lai massacre.

Excerpts from the so-called "Peers Report" were published by the New York Times in its Sunday edition. The document was named after Lt. Gen. William R. Peers who headed the investigation.

According to the Times, the report cited Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, commander of the Americal Division, with 27 specific acts of misconduct or omission, and his deputy, Brig. Gen. George H. Young Jr, with 16.

"Those portions of the report published by the New York Times raise serious questions about the effectiveness of our system of military justice," Aspin said in a statement Sunday. "Gen. Koster and Gen. Young have been accused of 43 specific charges of misconduct. It is clear they should have answered those charges."

"It is foolish for the government to withhold a document, part of which has already been published," he added.

Requirements Eased By Vets Office

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The federal Veterans Administration has eased its requirements for documentary proof of beneficiaries' birth or marriage, according to J. E. Mullen, director of the San Francisco regional VA office.

He said that certified statements by veterans or their widows now are acceptable, in place of the formal birth or wedding certificates formally required.

Israel Pledges Hold On Cease-Fire Lines

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel today marked the fifth anniversary of the beginning of the Arab-Israeli war with a pledge to hold the current cease-fire lines until peace is made. The Arabs called for a new war to recapture the territory they lost.

Foreign Minister Abba Eban said in Tel Aviv today that "we've been five years on the cease-fire lines for the simple reason that the cease-fire lines cannot be changed except to be replaced by a freely negotiated peace."

WINE NOTES #7

The Wine Bibber's Bible by Jacques de Caso and J. N. Pratt is a book that wine drinkers will find delightful. Wonderfully written, very informative, and handsomely presented, it reads like an exciting novel — hard to put down. At $3.95 it makes a nice gift and will be a nice addition to any wine bibber's library.

We heard on the radio that the Sebastiani Kleinberger Riesling was not available in any wine and spirits shop which is untrue. We have it, have tasted it, and certainly are proud to sell it. It is truly unique.

Featuring the Oakville Our House Red as the Wine of the Month for June gives us an opportunity to introduce both a new wine and a new winery. Oakville wines are not widely available in Marin County but many Marin Countians have discovered the winery in their travels or heard about it from their friends. Both the Our House Red and White are ideal wines of their type and if you are looking for an everyday wine that tastes like wine, try these please.

Speaking of traveling, we would like to mention Mr. Tom Shamp who has started a Wine Country Guide Service, which he intends to conduct for groups of five or less.

He plans a very complete and instructive tour lasting four to six hours. Perfect for out of town business guests and people anxious to learn first hand about the Napa Valley. Write him at 1428 Main St., St. Helena, 94574 or pick up a brochure at any Bourbon Shop.

If you are traveling and need a handy way to carry some wine, stop in and see our six bottle cardboard wine carrier. These are very handy to airplanes and can be made into great gift packages. The price is right!

As June is graduation and wedding time many people are interested in punch recipes. The Wine Advisory Board publishes a nice booklet with all kinds of wine recipes in it and if you would like to have one, please see any Bourbon Shop salesperson.

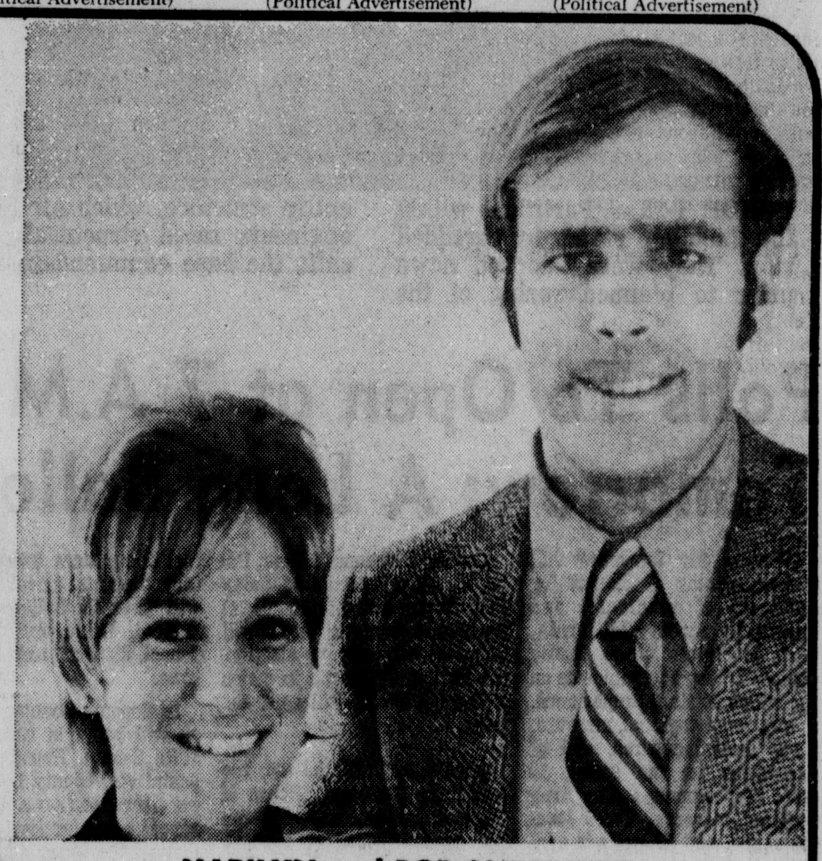
A STRONG ANSWER TO THE WATER CRISIS



MARILYN and BOB ANDERSON

WE BELIEVE THAT A REAL WATER CRISIS IS DEVELOPING IN MARIN COUNTY.

CONTROL OF THE WATER BOARD OF DIRECTORS IS IN EMINENT DANGER OF SHIFTING TO A MAJORITY WHO WOULD CURTAIL OUR WATER SUPPLY TO CONTROL POPULATION GROWTH.

WE BELIEVE THIS IMPRACTICAL AND COULD BE DISASTROUS.

BOB ANDERSON HAS GROWN UP IN THE WATER DISTRICT AND KNOWS HOW TO BRING THIS BADLY NEEDED WATER TO US WITHOUT TAXES.

WE BELIEVE ROBERT ANDERSON JR. TO BE THE MOST QUALIFIED CANDIDATE EVER TO RUN FOR THE BOARD OF THE MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT.

Scout, 12, Due Medal Of Merit

A 12-year-old Tiburon Boy Scout, credited with saving the lives of two scuba divers last November, will be presented with the Medal of Merit — scouting's second-highest life-saving award — at a ceremony tonight at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere.

David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. David D. Smith, 2 Lyford Drive, was approved for the honor by the National Council of Boy Scouts in New Brunswick, N.J., for pulling a neighbor, Robert M. Roney, and another diver, Tom Witte of Los Angeles, from treacherous surf near Fort Ross in Sonoma County on Nov. 27.

David, a sixth-grade student at Del Mar School and an independent-Journal carrier, had accompanied the two divers on an abalone hunt, and saved them by extending a spear gun to them after strong currents and pounding breakers overcame the pair.

He then administered first-aid and ran a half-mile to summon help.

Roney, a 220-pound former marine, said after the incident that he and his companion owned their lives to the 90-pound youth, a tenderfoot in Troop 9.

In addition to the scouting award, David has been approached by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, a Pittsburgh, Pa. group, for possible inclusion in a scholarship program.

The youngster told the Independent Journal yesterday that he has also received a congratulatory letter from State Sen. Peter H. Behr (R-San Rafael),

DAVID SMITH

who promised to nominate him for the Young Californian's Award, an honor given each year by Governor Ronald Reagan.

"All this is a surprise to me," David admits, adding that he "sort of expected" the scouting award but nothing else.

David's mother, Harriet C. Smith, said that her son learned how to swim when he was 18 months old, and was scuba diving by the time he was 5. When he was 7, she said, he spotted an infant on the bottom of a club pool and with the help of his father, brought the girl to the surface.

The young girl lived after artificial respiration was applied, she said.

"He knows no fear," his mother said.

A Daylight Attack On Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Communist guerrillas marked the apparent victory of Marshal Lon Nol in Cambodia's first presidential election with a rocket and rifle attack on the capital today in which at least six persons were killed, three of them children.

One 122mm rocket hit the Ministry of Defense building, killing three persons and wounding an undetermined number of others, and a round of recoilless rifle fire hit a children's playground about 70 yards from Lon Nol's home. Another rocket exploded harmlessly near the ministry.

Police Chief Chea Kim Eng said three children were killed and a child and a housemaid wounded by the shots at the playground.

MINIBUS CAPTURE

Shortly after the midafternoon attacks, he said, police chased and captured a minibus loaded with grenades and wiring. The three persons in the minibus and another riding a motorcycle escort escaped, one of them carrying with him a rocket grenade launcher, the chief said.

The attacks followed by one day the first popular presidential elections in Cambodia's history, and partial returns today showed that Lon Nol easily had won the three-man race.

Lon Nol, an army marshal, took over the government after the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk in 1970 at the time of Cambodia's entry into the Indochina War. He subsequently proclaimed himself president. The election confirmed him in office, but his two opponents said they planned to protest the outcome.

IN TWO YEARS

It was the first time in Cambodia's two years of war a rocket hit the capital in daylight. Three others have hit at night, two of them causing heavy civilian casualties.

Rumors had circulated through the capital that a rocket barrage would hit Phnom Penh if Lon Nol were elected. Most diplomats scoffed at the rumors as propaganda spread by Communists and Lon Nol's two challengers, but many inhabitants of the city gave them credence.

The incident followed heavy fighting between government troops and Communist forces in scattered incidents as the voting proceeded Sunday. Unofficial returns today gave Lon Nol a hefty lead with more than half the expected 2 million ballots counted and the national radio said he had gained enough votes to win.

Bond Asserts McGovern The Candidate For Blacks

By NELS JOHNSON

Julian Bond, the first black elected to the Georgia Legislature in the 20th Century, told a crowd in Kent Woodlands Saturday that Sen. George McGovern (D-S.D.) was the "only candidate black voters could consider" in California's presidential primary tomorrow.

The civil rights activist, once barred from taking his seat in the Georgia House because of his antiwar views, predicted that McGovern would "sweep the state" tomorrow and receive a first ballot nomination at the Democratic National Convention in July.

Bond, 32, made his comments in a 10-minute speech to a crowd of about 100 McGovern supporters who were gathered at a cocktail fund-raiser at the home of William M. Bennett, 35 Evergreen Drive.

Bond said that the senator from South Dakota had taken "all the right positions in terms of being a black man in the 1970s" in his drive to face President Richard M. Nixon in November's presidential sweepstakes.

"McGovern was the only senator to endorse all 61 points of the Black Caucus," Bond said. The Black Caucus, a group of black congressmen, presented President Nixon last January with a long list of demands, ranging from a call for educational reform to a proposed embargo on all Rhodesian goods. Nixon has ignored the demands, Bond said.

The Georgia legislator discounted the presidential candidacy of Rep. Shirley Chisholm (D-N.Y.) as being a "quest for delegates, not the presidency," and said that White House hopeful Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) was an opportunist whose record had become "scratchy and warped."

Bond, winding up a week-long California campaign effort for McGovern, said that black audiences throughout the state had been "extremely receptive," and predicted that Senator Humphrey would lose his grip on the black vote tomorrow at the polls.

"People like yourselves have the responsibility to let the rest of us who can't vote in California choose between Nixon and McGovern in November," Bond concluded.

Bond, who arrived at the fund-raiser 90 minutes late, scrubbed an appearance at a Marin City shopping center and, after brief comments in Kent Woodlands, headed for another rally in San Francisco.

The fund-raiser netted about $800 for the McGovern campaign.

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—The New York State Conference of the United Church of Christ Sunday elected a woman moderator for the first time in its history.

The Rev. Margaret R. Eddy, pastor of the Church of the Resurrection in East Harlem, was unanimously elected as Conference moderator Sunday at the end of a three-day annual meeting on the campus of Ithaca College.

Pets Banned On Back Trails

Pets have been banned from the back country trails of Point Reyes National Seashore, as well as Drake's and McClure's beaches, the National Parks Service has announced.

The new regulation, which takes effect July 1, does not apply to pets on leashes at Point Reyes Beach, north and South entrances.

The action, unanimously recommended by Marin County Park and Recreation Commission, was taken to protect visitor and wildlife safety.

Laird Asserts Need For Essential Arms

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird testified today the Soviet Union had "far outstripped" the United States in numbers of nuclear weapons and served notice the administration would proceed with crash programs to develop new submarines and bombers for the 1980s.

Laird told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that the Strategic Arms Limitations Talks (SALT) would lead to an overall reduction in defense spending during the next few years by eliminating 10 planned installations for the Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) system.

But he said the administration was still in need of full funding for other strategic programs in the offensive area.

Despite the SALT agreement, Laird testified, the Soviet Union has acquired such momentum in weapons production since its buildup began in 1965 "that the Soviet Union has far outstripped the United States in terms of numbers of weapons both offensive and defensive".

The Moscow control agreement "puts some brakes on the momentum" by freezing numbers of certain offensive weapons for the next five years, he said.

"It is absolutely essential during this period that the United States be in a position that it can go forward with new weapons programs," Laird said, "and that the United States not take unilateral action" to halt improvements and replacements of its offensive weapons.

Man Accused In Oroville Court Slayings Hangs Self

OROVILLE (UPI) —A postal worker facing murder charges in a court-room shooting that left an attorney dead and two persons wounded hanged himself early today in his jail cell, the Butte County sheriff's office reported.

Minyard Owen Rutherford, 57, was discovered by jailer Jack Kent at 3:45 a.m., hanging from his cell door.

Investigators said Rutherford, who was indicted last week by a county grand jury on murder and assault charges, hanged himself with a mattress cover he tied to one of the cross bars on his cell.

He was rushed to nearby Butte County Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Rutherford was charged last Tuesday in the death of Perry Farmer, 46, a prominent Oroville attorney. He was also charged with felonius assault on Superior Court Judge Jean Moroney and Mrs. Karolyn Garrick, who were wounded in the May 25 Butte County Superior courtroom shooting.

Deputies said they had instituted an around-the-clock hourly check system on Rutherford. He last was checked about 3 a.m. before his body was found.

Rutherford allegedly shot Farmer in the back of the head as he was presenting his case in a complicated civil case in a long-standing feud between Rutherford and Mrs. Garrick.

Mrs. Garrick, who was on the witness stand, was shot in the arm as the gunman ran from the courtroom. Moroney, who was in a nearby jury room, was nicked in the arm when he tried to bar the courtroom door.

Equally bitter was Marin's Dist. Atty. Bruce E. Bales, who had withdrawn from the case because of his friendship with the late Judge Harold J. Haley, who died in the shoot-out, and with his assistant, Gary W. Thomas, who was permanently wounded.

"My God," Bales said were his initial words on hearing the news. He attributed Miss Davis's acquittal to the jury being taken in by the "very emotional pitch offered by the defense."

He said that, despite the verdict, he remained convinced that Miss Davis was just as guilty if not more so than young Jonathan Jackson who died in the shoot-out.

Bales said that she might be even more responsible because of "her age, experience and intelligence."

In contrast to the wild jubilation of Miss Davis, her family and supporters who gathered last night in a victory celebration in San Jose, was the silence in San Quentin's adjustment center, where codefendant Ruchell Magee is held.

Officers at the prison said they were surprised at the lack of comment from prisoners in the center which also was where Miss Davis's alleged lover George Jackson was confined until his death in an escape attempt.

"No one had anything to say," according to prison spokesman Joseph R. O'Brien. "We were very surprised at this," he added.

Officers in the Marin Sheriff's Department, who acted as Miss Davis's jailors for 16 months, refused to comment on the verdict as did Assistant District Attorney Thomas.

Gertrude Haley, widow of the judge, did not want to comment, either, according to her attorney, John Buresh.

Building Ban Due Decision

The Mill Valley City Council will consider at 8 p.m. today an emergency ordinance that would impose a four-month moratorium on all building in the area of East Mill Valley surrounding upper Richardson Bay.

The emergency ordinance which can legally be adopted tonight on its first reading calls for a four month moratorium. The construction ban could be continued for an eight-month period and then an additional one year period.

The interim zoning ordinance prohibits all use of the land and property — even if the use is compatible with the current zoning unless a specific use permit is granted by the city.

Another Budget Round Is Set

Larkspur-Corte Madera School District trustees will further review the district's $2,091,000 budget proposed for 1972-73, at the board's regular meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the district offices.

Also on the agenda will be approval of teacher assignments for next year, and approval of the district goals statement, which has been in preaparation for two years.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen said the board also will discuss classified salary requests and review the schedule for teachers' in-service meetings before school begins next fall.

Boy Is Treated For Dog Bites

According to Larkspur police reports, Michael Ladd Kesecker, of 114 Acacia Avenue, was walking his St. Brnard, Bo, near his house, when the dog broke his leash and began fighting with another dog.

Kesecker said he was not sure which dog had bitten him, but believed it was his own. He could give no description of the other dog.

He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Mountain View Man Found Dead

Raymond MacInerney, 43, of Mountain View, was discovered dead in his car at 4 p.m. Friday on shoreline highway, a mile-and-a-half south of Tomales, according to Deputy Coroner Donald L. Cornish.

MacInerney, computer salesman for BCD Systems Co., was lying in a sleeping bag in his car with a hose attached from the exhaust into the car, Cornish reported. No note was found.

Motorcycle Accident Hurts Two

According to police Stratton was driving the mororcycle with Francis as a passenger. They were northbound on Magnolia Avenue at 8:30 p.m. when Stratton apparently lost control at the Estelle Avenue, intersection.

Antiwar Event In Petaluma Attracts 100

Antiwar activists and music lovers took over Walnut Park in Petaluma Saturday for an afternoon of speeches and dancing.

The low-key demonstration drew less than 100 people for a march down Petaluma Boulevard and for the afternoon festivities.

The predominantly young crowd danced to a succession of rock bands, basked in the sun and cheered heartily at short speeches made by members of the Sonoma Peace Coalition.

Petaluma Police Chief Larry D. Higgins had assigned 12 officers to the park but reported no incidents.

Roberts had been in the prison since August 1969 following a second degree murder conviction.

Prison spokesman Joseph R. O'Brien said that Roberts had killed a woman business partner during an argument in which he grabbed a gun from her. He shot her twice, O'Brien said.

Funeral arrangements were pending at the prison today.

opinion the demolition was not being carried out in the manner ordinary civilian buildings are taken down. — "there was no effort to save fixtures for instance."

Ostlind claimed T-93 was "practically ideal" for a terminal. "There was 60,000 square feet and we could have used two thirds of it without any expensive alteration."

In a proposal submitted to the board of supervisors on May 25 concerning joint-use proposals, Ray W. Foreaker Jr., director of public works, suggested "an as yet undesignated building to function as a terminal."

Today Foreaker said T-93 had never been specifically suggested for use in board proposals. He had personally seen the building but had no comment to make on its demolition.

Schwarzer was aware that T-93 might be destroyed. In a letter to Supervisor Michael Wornum on March 10 he wrote: "the possibility of the county leasing this building should be kept quiet until the base authorities have committed themselves to the destruction of the building. "At this point it is believed that no reasonable objection could be made to the county's proposal to lease the building for a nominal amount."

Joint civilian military use of Hamilton Air Force Base is an issue that has been tossed around county agencies like a hot potato for more than two years.

In March, the aviation commission referred back to the supervisors a request from Novato that a citizens' committee be included in planning joint military-civilian use.

Last week supervisors voted to refer the status report on joint use to the City of Novato, the aviation commission and the city-county planning council.

Joint runway use has been approved in principle by the Air Force and the Defense Department. Suggestions for use have included an access road from Highway 101 on the north side of the runway away from the military installation, plus a relatively small civilian terminal.

Twenty plane arrivals and departures daily had been mooted, and in Foreaker's proposal of May 25, he said Air California and Hughes Air West were interested in providing service to and from Southern California.

Opposition to joint use has come from groups who favor alternative expansion of Gnoss Field, the county airport north of Novato.

Dope Figure Pleads Innocent In Checks Case

Toi Ann Weindel, 20, of San Rafael has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to three counts of writing fraudulent checks and a preliminary hearing is set for Thursday.

Miss Weindel was arrested May 2 on the charges and two days later was sent to the California Institution for Women at Frontera as a result of a conviction for selling heroin.

The check charges were dismissed until she could be returned to Marin.

San Rafael police said they arrested her after she was identified as the passer of several bad checks over a period of months.

Belli Marries; Festive Party

Belli, of San Francisco, and Lia Triss of Bethesda, Md., were married Saturday in the 100-year-old Tuolumne County courthouse in Belli's boyhood hometown of Sonora.

The pair marched down the main street of the old mining town to a wedding feast composed mainly of 21 virgin goats, sacrificed earlier in the day, and magnums of Moet et Chandon champagne.

Guilty Plea In Check Case

Robert Monroe Newman, 56, of San Francisco has pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to a charge of passing a fraudulent check to buy a sports car.

As part of a plea bargain Judge Samuel W. Gardiner dismissed a car theft charge stemming from the purchase of a Porsche from Mill Valley Imports March 5 with the $4,029 bad check.

Sentencing was set for June 27, but the bargain calls for a maximum of six months in jail, restitution and a fine of $500. The district attorney recommended a year in jail.

Marin City Man Jailed On Warrants

White's struggle to resist arrest, according to deputies, ended when a second patrolman joined the fight, which sent deputy Gary Grimm to the hospital with a head injury and a torn uniform.

White was arrested on outstanding warrants for suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, obstructing a police officer, possessing a concealed weapon, possessing stolen property and threatening with a weapon.

As a result of yesterday's brief scuffle, he was also booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of battery against a police officer.

White, who lives at 41 Cole Drive in Marin City, recently was released from Marin General Hospital after being treated for gunshot wounds in both legs after a quarrel last week with a friend, Maxine Hall.

He was held to appear in Superior and Municipal courts today.

ANGELA

The state has charged Angela was a party to the plot, motivated by her love for George Jackson and determination to free him and the other "Soledad Brothers."

Superior Court Judge Harold Haley was killed by a shotgun blast in the head in a getaway van. Jonathan Jackson, 17, and two convicts were also killed. Two women jurors were wounded and Asst. Dist. Atty. Garry W. Thomas paralyzed for life.

The jury received the case at 11 a.m. Friday after 13 weeks of trial. They deliberated 13 hours before bringing in their verdicts.

The jury, headed by forewoman Mary Timothy, a medical technician at Stanford University whose husband is a Palo Alto attorney, notified Judge Richard E. Arnason at 10:30 a.m. PDT that they had reached their verdicts.

Arnason looked at the three written forms on the counts of the indictment—kidnap, murder and conspiracy. Then he handed them to court clerk Art Vanek.

When Vanek read the first not guilty verdict, there was a gasp in the courtroom, then the sound of sobbing and laughter mixed. When he concluded all three verdicts of innocence, Miss Davis rose and ran to her parents in the spectator section and embraced them and her two brothers and sister.

Mrs. Timothy was asked later what she thought of the American jury system.

"Well, I think it is the best anyone has yet devised," she said.

Angela was asked whether she would seek to return to her post as assistant philosophy professor at UCLA where she was fired by the board of regents.

"I haven't made any plans," she said. "I've been waiting for this day and now I can start making plans. This is the happiest day because it means this is now out of the way so I can resume the struggle against oppression."

Angela was asked what she thought of her personal safety now that she had been acquitted.

"Well, there is a danger," she said. "Over the past week we have received threats. But they are not going to deter me in the struggle to free the oppressed.

Youth Injured As Car, Bike Hit

Corte Madera police reported today that a 16-year old youth was injured last week when he collided with a car while riding his bicycle.

According to police, Rowley was northbound on Granada Drive and struck the O'Connor car while attempting to make a right turn on to Estrada Lane.

Arrested and booked at Marin County Jail were Warren Arthur Rhodes, 36, of no known address, and William Guy Pannell, 24, of 1427 Powell Street, San Pablo.

Rhodes also was booked on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs and officers reported he was carrying a small container of white pills. Both were held without bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Officers said they discovered a hole in the roof of the market at 10:55 p.m. and upon a search found Rhodes in a cold storage locker and Pannell hiding in a cabinet in the meat department.

Hitchhiker Neglects To Pay For Auto

Keeley, according to deputies, gave the rider Grimm's 1965 Chevrolet Nova with Georgia license plates, but has received neither the car nor any money during the past four weeks.

High Rating For Nursing Graduates

Eleven recent graduates from the College of Marin's vocational nursing program achieved high ratings on the California vocational nursing examinations administered in March, according to college publicist Earline Jones.

The average score of the students ranked seventh highest in the state. While the passing score is 400, the College of Marin nurses averaged more than 588 points.

Members of the class — who ranged in age from 17 to 47 — are currently employed in hospitals throughout the Bay Area.

The graduates are Karen Cohen and Bonnie Lee Hitzeman, both of Novato; Phyllis Fenstermaker, Rao Roegiers and Patricia Ann Williams, all of San Rafael; Ann Marie Grubbs, of San Anselmo and Kathy Melendy of Kenfield.

Also Elizabeth Stokes and Christine Weiland, both of Forest Knolls, Helen E. Reed of Tiburon and Carol Ann Coleman of Petaluma.

Art Scholarships Given Students

The Marin Society of Artists has awarded $100 art scholarships to outstanding graduates in each Marin County high school, according to Ursula Johnson of the society's scholarship committee.

Recipients and their high schools are: Elizabeth Myers, San Rafael; Debbie Riggins, San Marin; Linda Napoli, Tomales; Max Agajan, Redwood; Larry Kemp, Terra Linda; Lori Chrichton, Tamalpais; Jeffrey Slattery, Sir Francis Drake; and Douglas Satrom, Novato.

Awards were based on creative ability, merit, interest in further art education and need.

Ross Council Sets Session On Budget

The Ross Town Council will review the general government section of the proposed 1972-73 budget at its meeting Thursday at 8 p.m.

The council will also hear a status report on the street overlay program.

Land Near Novato Due Rezone Talk

The Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow will consider rezoning some 20,000 acres near Novato to the A-60, low-density designation.

The board, which will first meet at 9 a.m. as the board of directors of the Marin County Transit District, is expected to consider the item at about 3 p.m.

The rezoning is part of a series aimed at reclassifying the 210,000-acre agricultural preserve to prevent rapid urban growth and protect the agricultural industry.

So far, only one area has acutally been rezoned by the board. Supervisors, in March, approved the one-home-per-60-acres zoning for about 60,000 acres in the northwestern portion of the county.

The planning commission, meanwhile, has recommended several massive areas be rezoned and was to consider two more today.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors agenda also includes:

TRANSIT — Meeting as the transit district to receive a proposed Transit budget for fiscal 1972-73 totaling $848,000. If adopted, as is, the budget would require a tax rate of about five cents per $100 assessed valuation.

ANGRESS — An appeal hearing of planning commission denial of the comdominium development proposed by Herbert Angress for his bay front property on Tomales Bay near Marshall. This is the second appeal hearing on the development. During the first hearing, supervisors sent it back to the commission for reconsideration. The commission, however, rejected it again.

COUNSEL — A report from County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney on the Marks vs. Whitney case ruling that some tidelands sold by the state in the 1880s may not be developed. The board is expected to set Sept. 12 for a full hearing on the matter.

Opening Available In Rec Program

The San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department still has openings in several summer recreation classes, according to Gary Howell, city parks and recreation director.

Classes open include arts and crafts, bowling, drama, folk guitar, Indian crafts, judo and tumbling for girls, sewing and dog obedience. Information is available at the recreation office, Howell said.

ASSEMBLYMAN BAGLEY'S LEGISLATION WINS REIMBURSEMENTS FOR MARIN-SONOMA TAXPAYERS

Your Assemblyman has authored and successfully fought for measures which benefit the taxpayer. Here are three timely examples . . .

ANGELA DAVIS TRIAL COSTS

PROPERTY TAX REFUND FOR OPEN SPACE PROGRAMS

The open space exemption for farmers, dairymen and other owners of agricultural land was funded for the first time by Assemblyman Bagley's bill. This will return an estimated $273,000 to Marin and $463,000 to Sonoma in property tax relief, while at the same time encouraging preservation of open space.

AN ASSIST TO THE SMALL BUSINESSMAN

A bill authored by Assemblyman Bagley provides $100 million to replace property tax monies exempted by the 30% business inventory tax. In the coming fiscal year this will return an estimated $554,000 to Marin and $1,100,000 to Sonoma, providing needed relief for the small businessman.

Connally Will Tour For Nixon

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) —Treasury Secretary John B. Connally will leave Tuesday on a round-the-world tour of about 15 nations to represent President Nixon in international trade and monetary discussions, the White House said today.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Connally would not visit Hanoi during the three and one-half week trip. But he did not rule out the possibility that some of Connally's negotiations would be aimed at securing the release of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

A suggestion made Sunday by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, that Connally be sent to Hanoi to bargain for the prisoner release sparked speculation that the Democratic presidential hopeful had learned of such a plan by the Nixon Administration.

But Ziegler said there were no plans for Connally to directly negotiate with North Vietnamese officials, adding that Nixon had set forth last month the conditions for getting meaningful negotiations underway on both the prisoner of war issue and ending the Vietnam conflict.

Connally was scheduled to meet later today with Nixon and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser, at the President's vacation compound.

He, accompanied by Mrs. Connally, will leave from Key Biscayne Tuesday traveling first to Latin America where he will visit Venezuela, Colombia, Brazil, Argentina, Bolivia and Peru.

The remainder of his itinerary, Ziegler said, had not yet been worked out. Ziegler said the trip would take Connally to approximately 15 nations in South Asia, the Middle East and Europe, in addition to Latin America.

Ziegler said Connally would be prepared to discuss with foreign chiefs of state and heads of government the details of President Nixon's recent summit conference in Moscow and his earlier visit to Peking. The afternoon session here was to brief Connally on the complexities of the Nixon negotiations at the two summits.

Connally is expected to return to the United States around July 1.

The trip is the first of several such missions Connally will undertake as a presidential emissary. Nixon said last month, in announcing Connally's decision to resign from the cabinet, that he regarded him as a highly respected international negotiator.

A Decision On Postal Rates Is Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Postal Rate Commission said Monday it had reached a decision on the Postal Service's request for $1.45 billion in higher mail rates that were put into effect on a temporary basis more than a year ago.

The commissioners went to Capitol Hill to tell key congressmen of the decision in advance of the 3 p.m. EDT announcement.

Chief hearing examiner Seymour Wenner recommended Feb. 3 that the five-member commission approve the requested 8-cent rate for first class letters.

Wenner also proposed a 4.6 per cent increase in parcel post rates and a 17.5 per cent decrease in the proposed fourth class special rate for books, records and films. The Postal Service had not sought any change in parcel post but wanted an 83 per cent increase over five years for the fourth class special rate.

Not Too Far

ATLANTA (UPI — Women's lib hasn't come very far in the engineering field as yet. Georgia Tech University awarded more engineering degrees to women than any other school in the nation during 1971, and the total was 19.

ACLU Says Sinatra Is Treated Unfairly

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) protested Monday that Frank Sinatra has been subjected to unfair "trial by publicity" because of hearsay testimony taken by a House committee investigating crime in sports.

The ACLU took issue with the testimony given May 24 by Joseph Barboza, a self-described mob "enforcer" who said he had been told Sinatra had links with alleged New England crime boss Raymond Patricarca.

Sinatra has been subpoenaed to testify before the House Select Committee on Crime on Thursday.

Of the Barboza testimony, an ACLU statexent said: "This is a classic example of trial by publicity. Mr. Sinatra's case is but one example of a congressional committee publicly hearing adverse testimony, unproved, unchecked, and unrebutted, which could cause irreparable damage to the reputation of the person discussed."

Even if Sinatra clears his name, the ACLU said, "too much damage already has been done by then."

Barboza testified he had been told that Sinatra held an interest in a Las Vegas casino and a Miami Beach hotel on Patriarca's behalf. Committee investigators also noted that the entertainer once was vice president of Berkshire Downs Race Track at Hancock, Mass., in which Patriarca was said to have held an interest.

The ACLU said the testimony against Sinatra should not have been made public until he had opportunity be heard.

"We know of no necessary legislative purpose that was served by these allegations against Mr. Sinatra," the statement said.

The Budget Deficit To Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The administration told the Congress today that the government would run a $13 billion smaller deficit this fiscal year than originally estimated but that the deficit for fiscal 1973 would be $1.5 billion greater.

The revisions in the administration's red ink budget estimates, made public by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), placed the deficit for fiscal year 1972, which ends June 30, at $26 billion instead of $38.8 billion estimated last January.

For fiscal 1973, the deficit was estimated at $27 billion rather than $25.5 billion estimated earlier.

At the same time, administration economic spokesmen, testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee, asked for an increase in the national debt ceiling of $15 billion to $465 billion.

Last March, the administration had tried to persuade Congress to lift the ceiling to $480 billion but an unexpected flow of cash in recent months has allowed the Treasury to scale down its request.

At the same time, administration spokesmen cautioned against attaching tax reform to the pending bill to raise the national debt limit.

Democrats in both houses introduced comprehensive legislation last week to close gradually loopholes in tax laws. There has been talk of adding it as an amendment to the debt bill on the theory that President Nixon would have difficulty vetoing the measure.

Over 30 Years Experience in Nutrition
HERE'S HEALTH!
by JUNE EMBURY

We were fascinated with a recent story about some U.S. ground crew members stationed in England, who have become so fat "they couldn't run from one end of a bomber to the other without collapsing." The reason for the extra poundage seems to be the greasy, starchy, sweet food they eat, one of the chief offenders being fish and chips.

Meanwhile, the article said, the English themselves are showing the effects of another favorite dish - candy. Britishers eat more candy per capita than any people in the world. "Consequently, it's estimated that 1 in 3 of her Majesty's subjects are entirely toothless."

Dentists point out that toothpaste is taxed at 36.6%, while candy is taxed at only 22% there. They say were candy taxed at the higher rate, you'd not only have healthier teeth, but take in enough revenue to pay every dentist bill in the nation.

We'd add that programs emphasizing wholesome nutrition would provide even more important and effective benefits.

Polls To Open At 7 A.M. Tomorrow; A Long Ballot

appear on the Democratic ticket, but the contest has boiled down to a two-man race between Sens. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Of the others, Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Henry M. Jackson of Washington have dropped out of primary races, but still are hopeful of their party's nomination. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota appealed to his California supporters to vote for McGovern. New York Mayor John V. Lindsay has dropped out of the race.

The other two candidates are New York Congressman Shirley Chisholm and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty.

The Peace and Freedom Party's only candidate on the ballot is pediatrician and peace activist Dr. Benjamin Spock. The American Independent Party's ballot candidate is Merwyn H. Hemp.

The best known of the 27 write-in candidates for president is Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who is seeking write-in votes only on the Democratic ticket.

Total registration for the election is 106,244 in Marin and 109,087 in Sonoma. Democrats are the majoirty in each county.

In the Sixth Congressional District, which includes all of Marin and part of San Francisco, the incumbent, Republican William S. Mailliard of San Francisco, is unopposed for renomination. Facing one another on the Democratic ticket are San Francisco Supervisor Roger Boas, a car dealer, and Alan D. French of San Francisco, a 25-year-old Army veteran.

Former Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a Novato attorney, will not be on the ballot, but has filed a court test in a bid to qualify for the November ballot in the district as a nonpartisan candidate.

In the Fourth Assembly District, which includes all of Marin and Southern Sonoma below Santa Rosa, the incumbent, Republican William T. Bagley of San Rafael, is challenged for renomination by Robert D. Weinmann of San Rafael and Edward J. Gilmore of Ross. Democratic candidates are Harry J. Moore of Novato, a junior high school principal, and Joseph J. Franaszek of Tiburon, a student at the University of California, Berkeley. Bill Mack Webber of Petaluma, a student, is unopposed for the Peace and Freedom Party's nomination.

The hottest local contests have been in the county supervisorial races, with two incuments facing challengers.

In the Second Supervisorial District in the Ross Valley, incumbent Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. of Fairfax, a stockbroker, is challenged by Barbara Boxer of Greenbrae, a former stockbroker active in community services, and Dr. William J. Filante of Greenbrae, an eye specialist and teacher.

In the Third Supervisorial District in Southern Marin, incumbent Michael Wornum of Mill Valley, an architect, and city planner, is challenged by Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr. of Marin City, pastor of Village Baptist Church in Marin City.

In the Fourth Supervisorial District, incumbent Louis H. Baar did not seek reelection. Competing for his seat are James Dougan of San Rafael, an insurance agent, Gary T. Giacomini of Woodacre, an attorney, Patricia T. Maginnis of San Rafael, a medical technologist, and Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael, an economist. The district starts in parts of San Rafael and hooks around the Ross Valley into West Marin.

Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Greenbrae, facing the first challenge to an incumbent Marin judge in some 20 years, is opposed by attorney Charles R. Best of Sleepy Hollow.

In the Marin Municipal Water District, five candidates are competing for two seats. In Division 5, which includes most of Southern Marin, there are three candidates: Robert G. Anderson Jr., a high school industrial arts teacher; Willard A. Hall, a retired sales and consulting engineer, and Dr. Ronald T. Stafford, a physician. All three live in Sausalito.

In Division 2, which covers San Rafael, appointed incumbent John M. MacPhail Jr. is challenged by his aunt, Vera McPhail.

In the Novato Sanitary District, two incumbents and a challenger are competing for two seats. The incumbents are Edwin V. Grundstrom Jr. and Carlos B. Rivamonte. The challenger is Leroy J. Syrop.

In the Ross Valley Sanitary District, two incumbents face two challengers for two seats. The incumbents are Ray I. Johnson and Peter A. Ribar. The challengers are Joan Seminario and Roger Bockrath.

The three local measures in Marin are a $1.2 million bond measure in the Shoreline School District to remodel or expand each of the district's four schools, unification of the San Rafael and Dixie school districts, and formation of a county service area in Greenbrae to finance, landscaping and maintenance to the community.

The regional measure in the Bay Area is Measure A, which asks voters to ballot on the proposed Southern Crossing, an eight-lane, $556 million bridge across the bay from San Francisco to Alameda and San Leandro. A "yes" vote would permit the California Toll Bridge Authority to construct the bridge, while a "no" vote would bar construction without further specific approval by the state Legislature.

This regional measure will be voted in six counties, but not in Sonoma.

The Sonoma County Water measure was forced on the ballot as an initiative petition signed by 10,510 voters. It would require the county supervisors to repeal authorization to sell $115 million revenue bonds to finance water projects.

Measure D on the ballot for Southern Sonoma and some 130 North Marin voters proposes the unification of 13 school districts: Petaluma City High School, Old Adboe, Waugh, Petaluma Elementary, Cinnabar, Lincoln, Two Rock, Wilmar, Laguna, Cotati, Dunham, Liberty and the former Penngrove district.

In the First Congressional District, which includes Sonoma and North Coast counties, the incumbent, Republican Don H. Clausen of Crescent City is unopposed for renomination. Also unopposed in the primary is Jonathan T. Ames of Napa, who is seeking the nomination of the Peace and Freedom Party. He is a self-employed entertainer and producer.

Three Democrats are vying for the nomination to run against Clausen: William A. Nighswonger of Santa Rosa, chairman of the political science department at Sonoma State College; Patricia A. Losh of Eureka, a housewife, and James McClure Brown, also of Eureka, a minister.

In the state Senate's First District, each candidate is unopposed. Incumbent Democratic Sen. Randolph Collier of Yreka is seeking to retain the seat he has held since 1938. Henry Rogers, also of Eureka is seeking the Republican nomination. He owns a janitorial service.

Voters in the Fifth Supervisorial District, which includes a small portion of Cotati and Rohnert Park as well as West Sonoma, will choose among a slate of six candidates. They are: incumbent Robert Theiller, who operated a real estate firm before taking the full-time supervisor job; David E. Bills of Sebastopol, a building contractor; Jack R. Galvin of Bodega Bay, a state Assembly consultant; Virginia H. Hechtman, of Jenner, a former teacher and educational consultant; Grant F. King of Guerneville, operator of a tackle shop, and Bernard J. Lamb of Sebastopol, a feed store owner.

Forty-six candidates filed for election to the Marin County central committees of the Republican and Democratic parties, but because the number of candidates either matched or was less than the number of seats in some districts, only 28 will appear on partisan ballots.

No candidates filed for either the Peace and Freedom or American Independent parties. In the Third Supervisorial District, however, Richard M. Sutley of Mill Valley filed as a write-in candidate on the Peace and Freedom Party ticket.

Contested elections will be as follows:

REPUBLICAN

FOURTH DISTRICT — (Four candidates for three seats) Helen L. Gardner, Frank P. Myer, Howard C. Harvey and Jane King Fairchild, all incumbents.

FIFTH DISTRICT — (Five candidates for four seats) Patricia J. Story, Edward V. Lathrop and Ruth A. Smith, all incumbents, and Maynard A. Briggs and George C. Quesada.

DEMOCRATIC

SECOND DISTRICT — (Six candidates for five seats) Stewart N. Boxer, E. Barrett Guthrie, James M. Anthony and Herbert G. Hawkins, all incumbents, and Rev. Norman E. Leach and Ruth Logue Lederman.

FIFTH DISTRICT — (Four candidates for three seats) George J. Silvestri Jr., incumbent, and Joseph A. Forest, William B. Lynch and M. Elizabeth Smith.

In Sonoma County, there are only two contests for party central committees. Seven Peace and Freedom Party members are seeking six seats on the Second District committee representing Petaluma and most of Cotati and Rohnert Park: George J. Couch, Janet F. Couch, Edward J. Latham, Susan D. Latham, Patricia B. Patrick, Eliot Raleigh and Irvin Sutley Jr.

In the Fifth Supervisorial District, five Republicans filed for four seats on the central committee; Miriam H. Burdo, Edna I. Fletcher, Marjorie S. Miller, James K. Poor and Byron B. Snyder.

Classes In Disaster Help Slated

Signups for classes in disaster and emergency first aid preparedness are now open for nurses and workers in allied health fields, according to Mary Hooper, county director of public health nursing.

The county and the Marin Area Emergency Organization's health and medical division will sponsor two American Red Cross multimedia first aid courses.

The first course will be held on two Saturday mornings, June 23 and 30, in the Red Cross chapter headquarters in San Rafael. The second course will be held July 7 and 15, Mrs. Hooper said. Reservations may be made by calling her at the Marin County Civic Center.

Additional first aid classes, and special training in disaster-related nursing services will be given in September; signups are open now, Mrs. Hooper said.

New Principal Will Be Selected

Dixie School District trustees will meet in closed session at 7 p.m. Wednesday to pick a new principal for Miller Creek School, then go into open session at 8 p.m. in the district offices for a long but mostly routine agenda.

Clifford W. Campbell, superintendent, predicted the board may adopt pay schedules for teachers, administrators and nonteaching staff at the meeting and act on dismissal of one nonteaching employee.

A Victory For South In District Capital

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese ground forces and allied warplanes drove Communist attackers out of the district capital of Phu My along South Vietnam's central coast Monday. An American adviser said it was a big victory for the government troops.

"It was quite a victory. We've waxed them. They've withdrawn and pulled back, but they're still out there. I'll tell you we're going to win this one," said Col. Phillip Kaplan, senior U.S. adviser to the South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division.

Field reports said about 300 Communists were killed in three days of fighting, mostly by air strikes. Government casualties were listed as 16 killed.

Kaplan said a major part of the credit for the South Vietnamese victory should go to a defector who tipped government troops the attack was coming and gave details of the Communist plans.

Phu My is located in Binh Dinh province, South Vietnam's most populated area, about 280 miles north of Saigon. Most of the province is controlled by the Communists.

In other developments:

Two Communist 130 mm artillery shells exploded under the guided missile destroyer USS Joseph Strauss off Cape Mui Ron in North Vietnam, causing "shock" damage aboard the ship but no casualties.

Two American Marine pilots were killed when their F4 Phantom was shot down near Phu My. Four other planes and helicopters were shot down in the same area and two other aircraft were downed in other areas of South Vietnam. Two American airmen were also wounded in separate incidents, one near An Loc 60 miles north of Saigon, and the other about 25 miles north of Saigon.

The Communists sank two 35-foot South Vietnamese landing craft in a river 48 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Minh province. Two government sailors were listed as missing.

North Vietnamese gunners dropped 540 artillery, rocket and mortar shells into An Loc and three relief columns trying to fight their way into the town. A government spokesman said eight Communist and four government soldiers were killed.

Scattered fighting was reported in the Central Highlands city of Kontum which was attacked by the Communists 12 days ago. Government spokesmen said 204 Communists were killed in the city Sunday with South Vietnamese losses of 11 dead.

Saigon authorities said they captured eight Communist field leaders in an area of the capital almost leveled in the May offensive in 1968.

Radio Hanoi said anitaircraft crews shot down an American fighter-bomber 20 miles northwest of Hanoi Sunday but the U.S. command refused comment.

Some Voters Can Still Ballot

Registered voters who did not receive sample ballots still may ballot tomorrow, the Marin County elections office said today.

Acknowledging a handful of complaints from citizens who reported they did not receive their sample ballots, the elections office said that voters need only present their registration receipt to ballot at their regular polling place. Voters uncertain where to ballot may get this information by telephoning the elections office at the Civic Center.

The elections office said it received about a dozen such complaints this morning, several of them from persons who had failed to reregister after moving to a new address since the last election.

Alabama's Constitution Puts Beasley In Charge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) --Lt. Gov. Jere Beasley today assumed the duties of the Alabama governorship, a responsibility assigned to him under the state constitution until Gov. George C. Wallace returns to Alabama.

Beasley, 36, received authority to take over the governor's duties in a telegram from Secretary of State Mabel Amos because Wallace had remained out of the state more than 20 days. Beasley took no oath of office to assume the duties of governor.

Wallace has been confined to Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Spring, Md., since May 15 when he was shot during a political rally at a Laurel, Md., shopping center. Wallace left Alabama the morning of May 15 to campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The last time an Alabama lieutentant governor assumed the duties of governor was in 1967 when Albert P. Brewer took over for a few hours while the late Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace was confined to a Texas hospital. She returned to the state shortly after Brewer took over.

Elvin Stanton, Wallace's assistant press secretary, said in Silver Spring that he had no indication when Wallace would be able to return to the state. The constitution provides that the governor resume his duties when he crosses the state line to return home.

When he received official notice that he was to assume the governorship, Beasley was at the three bedroom old brick home in East Montgomery where he lives with his wife, Sara, and three children, Jere Jr., 11; Julia Ann, 9, and Linda Lee, 6.

Appearing to take the new responsibilities calmly, Beasley said "It's not exactly a sad day, but it is not happy by any means. I don't like the circumstances. I would much prefer the governor be here."

Beasley, from Wallace's hometown of Clayton, had been at odds with Wallace much of the time since they took office in 1971, but Beasley said Sunday he did not plan to make any changes while subbing for Wallace.

"Gov. Wallace and I never had any personal disagreements," he said. "Now is not the time to let any disagreements with his people stand in the way. The condition of the governor and his health are paramount."

Jesuit To Give Up Big Estate

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)— James Michalski would not give up his chance to become a Jesuit priest for half a million dollars.

When Michalski takes his vows Thursday, he will be giving up a family estate totaling almost that amount. His father, Leon G. Michalski, who died in 1968, offered James the money in his will if he would leave the religious life.

"What's so surprising?" he said. "I don't see life in terms of money. I'm really very happy. I feel I can bring more love into the world in what I'm doing."

Berrigan Leads Services Outside Cathedral's Walls

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rev. Daniel Berrigan paused for a moment in the rays of sunlight streaming into the Gothic cathedral and told his followers, "This is where we belong anyway—outside the walls."

With that, he led almost half the 500 persons who had gathered for a mass for peace at St. Patrick's Cathedral to a nearby concrete terrace.

There, with a cross fashioned out of two screws by a Danbury prison convict hanging from his neck, the antiwar priest delivered the sermon he was not allowed to deliver inside the church Sunday.

"Evidently," the Jesuit activist said, "I was prohibited because certain unpleasant questions would undoubtedly be raised if I did speak which would be emberrassing to the cardinal (Terence Cooke)."

Among the questions he intended to raise, Father Berrigan said, was why Cardinal Cooke had not denounced the recent escalation of the Vietnam War; why he did not raise the moral questions of the war during his visit to the White House, and why the cardinal did not visit war resisters in jail in addition to visiting troops in Vietnam.

Cardinal Cooke, who was out of town Sunday, two weeks ago issued a pastoral letter calling for a speedy end to the war.

However, Father Berrigan said the cardinal was "ignoring the questions we're trying to raise." He said the Catholic church "prefers good order over human life."

Ronald Stafford
For Water District

Ronald Stafford is a physician and conservationist who feels the electorate must do something to prevent the destruction of Marin County by over-development. Stafford thinks Marin residents do not look forward to an 8 lane Tiburon Blvd., or 10 lane Sir Francis Drake (The Transportation Committee of the City-County Planning Council projects this by 1990 if the present growth rate continues).

In an attempt to confuse and mislead the voters, Stafford's opposition has used scare tactics in talking about a "perversion of Water District function", a "control board directing the public's thinking", and "zoning with water". The developers and "growth is progress" people are frightened by Dr. Stafford's suggestions for effective action to limit unreasonable growth.

Dr. Stafford wants the Water District to remain a service agency - but one which is responsive to the voters.

Ronald Stafford has stated that:

(1) The Countywide Plan can establish reasonable growth limits to prevent over-development of Marin County. The Water District can help implement this by only allowing water connections consistent with the plan.

(2) If the Countywide Plan is not implemented, then voters have the option of not expanding the water supply in order to prevent unreasonable growth.

(3) The water supply of present users must be protected. (This carries out the intent of the State Water Code-Section 356). Voters should not be coerced into voting on bond issues by the threat of water rationing.

Voters subsidize growth through increased water rates and spiraling taxes for schools and other services.
Ronald Stafford thinks that a democracy should allow voters to make the ultimate decision about growth which we are obligated to pay for.

Endorsed by the Pacific Sun, Marin Alternative, and the Tiburon-Belvedere Committee for the Environment.

The Finale To State's Primary

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hubert H. Humphrey today accused George S. McGovern of voting to "emasculate" a key section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. He scheduled an hour-long telethon on election eve in a last-ditch effort to stop McGovern.

McGovern, confident of winning the important California primary and its 271 delegate votes, broke off his campaigning in the state to schedule a four-hour swing into New Mexico, which also holds a primary Tuesday.

Aides to both senators looked for a common break in the hectic schedules to arrange a fourth "debate," which Humphrey suggested and to which McGovern agreed.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a rally in Oakland, Humphrey accused McGovern of "a brazen and full scale attempt to emasculate the voting rights provision of the Civil Rights Act."

He said McGovern joined 22 senators, including 18 southerners, in voting against a provision that allows the attorney general to require that all courts expedite legal complaints on voting rights.

"I challenge Senator McGovern to deny to any black or any Mexican-American or to anyone else in the state of California that he did not cast this vote," Humphrey said.

The Mnnesota senator, trailing McGovern by 46-26 per cent in the highly-respected California-Field poll, scheduled a prime-time (8 p.m.-9 p.m.) television program during which listeners can call and ask him questions. The program will be shown on nine commercial TV stations and 32 cable television systems with an estimated 1.7 million viewers.

Humphrey surfaced his own poll, taken in Los Angeles County by Public Affairs Communications Associates in Washington, D.C. which showed the Minnesota senator trailing by less than 1 per cent. His campaign manager claimed the survey, taken Saturday, showed a Humphrey surge but also documented that Humphrey surprisingly trails McGovern among blacks and Chicanos and runs even with Jewish voters.

Humphrey's suggestion for still one more debate was made spontaneously during the third showdown (ABC's Issues and Answers) Sunday, which included other candidates for the nomination, Rep. Shirley Chisholm, Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty and a representative of hospitalized George C. Wallace.

The candidates sparred over the release of American prisoners-of-war; commitments to Israel; support of the Democratic presidential nominee, and other issues.

Humphrey urged President Nixon to send former Treasury Secretary John Connally to Hanoi with a fixed date for the withdrawal of American troops if North Vietnam would at the same time release the American POWs.

But Mrs. Chisholm and McGovern said the withdrawal of American forces should not be dependent on the release of the prisoners.

"We have to say 'let's get out of there' and at the same time continue negotiations for the release of the prisoners," Mrs. Chisholm said.

"I agree 100 per cent with what Rep. Chisholm has just said," McGovern said. "She is talking common sense on this issue. It is clear now that we are not going to get our prisoners released if we stay on this present military course."

McGovern and Humphrey promised to support the winner of the presidential nomination, but Mrs. Chisholm and Yorty refused to give a "blank check" pledge prior to the convention.

Asked to choose between Humphrey and McGovern, Mrs. Chisholm said "I would be interested in seeing who would be with Mr. Humphrey or Mr. McGovern in terms of a team. The vice presidency of the country is becoming very, very important."

On CBS-TV, where a court order gave her free time because she was excluded from last week's debate, Mrs. Chisholm called McGovern and Humphrey "part of the national leadership of recent years that has brought this country to its current malaise." She also predicted no candidate would win on the first ballot.

Maddox Slap At Some Governors

MONROE, Ga. (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox today criticized "fence-straddling" Democratic governors in the South for failing to endorse the presidential candidacy of George Wallace.

Maddox said in a prepared speech to a Monroe civic club that for the first time in history the South has its strongest presidential candidate.

"But fence-straddling Southern Democratic governors, by failing to endorse the candidacy of George Wallace and give him the enthusiastic support he deserves, are slapping Governor Wallace and the majority of their constituents in the face," Maddox declared.

He said the governors "are in touch with one another but are out of touch with the people and with reality."

Texas Demos Choose Wealthy Rancher As Governor Nominee

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Democrats have chosen wealthy rancher Dolph Briscoe, 49, as their nominee for governor, rejecting the liberal populist campaign of Frances Farenthold, the first serious woman candidate for governor in Texas in more than 30 years.

The results from Saturday's primary runoff reconfirmed the strength of the state's conservative Democrats, although the old ruling clique headed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson and former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally was shattered.

Corruption in state government was a major factor in both the May 6 primary and the runoff Saturday, and Briscoe, a cattleman and banker who already owns more land in Texas than any other individual, said in his campaign he was above corruption.

Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby Jr. won the party's nomination for lieutenant governor over State Sen. Wayne Connally, brother of the former treasury secretary. Hobby is unopposed in the November general elections.

The only big upset was the defeat of former Sen. Ralph Yarborough by Barefoot Sanders, former White House aide to Johnson, for the senatorial nomination. Yarborough came within about 500 votes of winning outright May 6, out of more than 2 million votes cast.

But voters returning Saturday chose the more conservative Sanders to challenge the Senate seat held by Republican John Tower in November.

Briscoe, who served in the state legislature from 1948 to 1954, ran a poor fourth in the 1968 Democratic primary for governor. But since that election, state government has been scandalized by stock bribes, use of stamps to buy personal goods and other misuse of tax money.

Three lawmakers have been convicted of felonies and four are awaiting trial. Among those already convicted was former House Speaker Gus Mutscher, who was also defeated Saturday. One of his proteges, Speaker Rayford Price, also lost in a runoff.

Brasilia, Brazil's capital, was founded with the aim of developing the country's interior.

Veteran In Senate Loses Bid; Admits Poor Drive

RALEIGH, N.C, (UPI)—Sen. B. Everett Jordan, the 14-year Senate veteran who lost his Democratic primary reelection bid to Rep. Nick Galifianakis, blamed his defeat on not taking his opponent seriously enough until it was too late.

Galifianakis' Republican opponent in the general election is making no such mistake. Jesse Helms, known for his conservative editorials over the Tobacco Broadcasting Network, claimed Sunday that many of Jordan's workers have pledged to support him.

Helms indicated these campaigners were angry over the "inaccurate statements" made against Jordan by the congressman.

When the unofficial tabulation was completed Saturday night, Galifianakis held a margin of almost 66,000 votes—334,326 to 268,555—over Jordan.

Jordan, 75, conceded after Saturday's defeat in the primary runoff that he should have put on a more active campaign for re-election. He didn't begin a real campaign unfil after he trailed Galifianakis, 43, in the first primary May 6.

Jordan, his deeply lined face squinting into the television lights, said Galifianakis had said some inaccurate things about him, but put most of the blame for the loss on a weak campaign effort.

Von Braun On Apollo Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Werner Von Braun believes the December Apollo flight to the moon will be the last in a "long time."

"I'm convinced we will one day revisit the moon but if we do, we will do it with more advanced equipment that will enable us to carry more payload to the moon and extend our lunar stay...to many weeks," Von Braun said Sunday.

The German-born rocket expert, who will retire from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) at the end of this month, made his comments in a radio-television discussion with Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr., R-N.Y.

The Henry A. Kramers Observe Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

Forty-year residents of Fairfax, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Kramer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary over the weekend.

They were honored at a reception yesterday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Ferrari of Novato. But actually, the former Ethel Oliver and Harry Kramer were married 50 years ago Saturday, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. W. S. Oliver, in Piedmont.

Although both the Kramers were living in San Francisco at the time of their marriage, Mrs. Kramer was born in Portland, Ore., and came to Oakland and then San Francisco as a girl. Mr. Kramer was born in San Francisco, and both attended San Francisco schools.

AFTER THEIR marriage, they continued to live in San Francisco. He was employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and she with the telephone company.

Mrs. Kramer ended her telephone work after seven years to raise a family, and the Kramers moved to Marin in the winter of 1932, temporarily, they thought, through the summer.

"We went back to the city and didn't like it, so we came back to Fairfax," Mrs. Kramer explained. The couple still lives in the house they bought then at 16 Marin Road. They say their neighborhood hasn't changed very much in 40 years.

Mr. Kramer retired from the PG and E in 1955. The couple likes to garden and he has been active in the Fairfax Lions Club and the San Rafael Elks Lodge. Mrs. Kramer has been a member of the Parent-Teacher Association and the Mothersingers group of the P-TA and the Dorcas Society of the Fairfax Congreational Church.

GIVING THE reception were the Ferraris, the Kramers' son Frank Kramer of Fairfax, and their daughter, Mrs. La Verne Ruhl of San Anselmo and their grandchildren, Mrs. Judy Cher of Sonoma, Lloyd and Curtis Ruhl of San Anselmo, Mrs. Charles Robinson of Mill Valley and Michael and Lynette Ferrari of Novato.

Attending the reception were two of the Kramers' wedding party, her sister, Mrs. Gladys Baird of Glendale, who was the flower girl, and Mr. Kramer's cousin, Mrs. Herman Persson of San Francisco. The Kramers also have a great granddaughter, Kimberly Robinson.

Some 50 relatives and friends attended the afternoon party.

HELEN HELP US!

Jealous Wife Considers Having Affair To Get Back At Husband

DEAR HELEN:

All I do is sit around and think about my husband's old girl friends. I guess he never went with a girl he didn't take to bed — until he met pure little me. Then he changed completely. We've been married a year and you couldn't ask for a more understanding, kind and true husband, but I still worry.

The minute he's out of my sight, I see him in my mind's eye, taking up with the first floozy he meets. I've thought of having an affair just to get even with him for his past. And then I get depressed, thinking that if I'd had flings before marriage, maybe I wouldn't be so jealous now. He never went home from a singles bar alone — back then. I never even went to one.

It's unfair, that he had all the fun before marriage, and I didn't. So I take it out on him by being mean and then I hate myself for it. What's wrong with me? — CRAZY JEALOUS FOR NO GOOD REASON

DEAR JEALOUS:

Are you jealous of the present or resentful of the past — when your husband had "all the fun and you didn't"? A little honest self-analysis (or perhaps a journey into your subconscious) might show you that his tales of conquests make you feel too, too "pure" and uninteresting by comparison. Are you actually pushing him toward cheap pickups so that you will have an excuse for a fling? Are you "competing" with him? Trying to find out what you missed, under the guise of getting even?

If so, you may lose him — for one of those "floozies" could just replace you permanently.

Be grateful you've got a great, faithful guy and knock off the curiosity, insecurity, anger, brooding — whatever — over a past that won't be repeated unless you ask for a rerun. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A few months ago I received an unsigned letter from a reader of your column. (I know because she enclosed a clipping from Helen Help Us — about friendship.)

You see, I'm serving time in prison, and this person remembered me after nearly 16 years. We were in grade school together. She wished me well and reminded me of a letter I once gave her in school, and how much it meant to her at a really "down" time in her life. She didn't think I'd remember anything about "that sad little girl" and so she said her name was unimportant.

Would you please print this letter, Helen, so that she will read it and know that I do remember. But most of all, please tell her that her letter to me here in prison helped in a big way — I still read it over almost every day. Please tell her I think she's a beautiful person and I hope her life has luck and happiness around every corner. The bad doesn't seem nearly so bad when there are people like her who really care. All the world needs a friend. — I REMEMBER HER

DEAR "REMEMBER":

How true: "Everyone in the world needs a friend." I hope your friend reads your "thanks" and writes again. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I don't know how to start this letter, but I need help and don't know where to get it. What I really need is somebody who won't turn his back.

I was in jail a year and a half and, while there, I learned a trade and started going to church. I've tried to do good since I got home but my kinfolks won't have anything to do with me and my wife turns me away. She likes someone else better now, and when I tell her I'm making it on my new job, she calls me a liar.

At church here in town I thought I'd be accepted but the people acted like I was a disgrace and wouldn't even shake my hand. I served my term. Do I pay for the rest of my life?

I don't know how much longer I can stand this — even at work they stay clear of me. The pen in not all that bad. I had friends there. The outside world doesn't want to give an ex-thief a second chance. — EX-CONVICT OF DENTON COUNTY

DEAR EX:

Has rejection by your wife and relatives made you so sensitive that you expect rejection everywhere? Perhaps your suspicions keep church members and fellow workers at a distance.

Stop thinking of yourself as "the ex-con nobody trusts," and remember there are many people waiting to give you a second chance, once you erase that "loner" image. — H.

Kostics Are Back From Europe Trip

By MOLLY MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kostic have just returned to Mill Valley after a month touring London, France, Northern Italy, Rome and Sweden. The highlight of their trip was the May 27 wedding of Mrs. Kostic's friend, Eva Munktell, in Uppsala, Sweden.

Eva, first American Field Service Exchange student at Katharine Branson School, lived duricg 1956 at the Mill Valley home of Dr. and Mrs. Rodney B. Hartman, Mrs. Kostic's parents. Transoceanic visits have been exchanged since.

Eva has now completed her medical education in Sweden and plans to practice in Southern Sweden with her doctor husband, Axel Davidson.

Their traditional reception for 100 guests was a formal, white-tie affair of eleborate Swedish ritual lasting late into the night.

The couple plans to revisit Mill Valley next year.

DR. AND Mrs. Hyman Krongard of Strawberry are showing cultural highlights of San Francisco to Mrs. Krongard's 16-year-old cousin. Their house-guest, James Noel Franks III of San Antonio, planned to escort their daughter, Anita, Saturday, when she was installed as guide of Job's Daughters Bethel 119 of Mill Valley.

SMART SHOPPER

McGovern For Consumer Checks

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Which of the major candidates for President would do the most to solve problems faced by American consumers!

Many persons would like to know before casting their ballots. So would the Consumer Federation of America, a collection of nearly 200 private organizations, which seeks to represent consumers in Washington.

The federation recently sent out a series of 10 questions to presidential candidates of both parties asking their views on major consumer issues.

On the Republican side, queries were sent to President Richard M. Nixon and Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio. Neither responded.

On the Democratic side, questionnaires were sent to Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, Gov. George C. Wallace, Mayor John V. Lindsay and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark.

Detailed responses to the questions were received only from McGovern and Humphrey. Muskie sent a letter, an aide for Wallace sent a general statement, and Representative Chisholm sent position papers from which her position was extracted where applicable. Others did not reply.

McGovern and Humphrey, the two leading candidates, show general agreement on most matters but differ significantly on three: consumer product safety legislation, no-fault automobile insurance and tax reform.

CFA REPORTS that McGovern is the only major candidate to flatly endorse an independent product safety agency with complete jurisdiction over government programs for safety of foods, drugs and other products. Such a proposal is the subject of hot dispute in Congress.

According to the CFA, both Humphrey and Muskie avoided taking a stand on the matter though both said they favor stronger government safety efforts.

On the matter of auto insurance, McGovern and Muskie both support a national no-fault insurance law. Humphrey says he has not decided what the remedy should be but concedes that reform is needed. The Wallace statement did not answer either question.

On tax reform, Humphrey and McGovern are not far apart. Both agree on the need for "meaningful tax reform. . .including elimination of income tax loopholes for the rich; pass through to consumers of tax savings given to regulated utilities; repeal of special tax dispensations recently granted to business. . ."

BUT McGOVERN has made tax reform the "central issue" of his campaign and has drawn up a detailed program aiming for savings of $28 billion. Humphrey co-sponsored a tax reform bill which seeks to save $14 billion. Muskie and Wallace also agree on the need for reform but are not specific.

The leading four Democratic contenders generally share views on the other issues in the survey, including the need for a law encouraging class action suits, stronger enforcement of antitrust laws, a more vigorous Federal Trade Commission, a comprehensive national energy program, a government trust fund for development of mass transportation systems and comprehensive health care.

The CFA did not sum up the answers and draw any conclusions for fear it might jeopardize its tax status. Copies of the 12-page pamphlet may be obtained from CFA, 1012 14th Street, N. W., Washington, D.C., 20005.

RAPPING ABOUT THE REDUCING WRAP

Many questions have been raised concerning the new methods of size and weight reduction now offered in health studios around the country. The following information is designed to help answer some of your questions about our organic mummy wrap, not to make or imply any medical or therapeutic claims.

Q. What is the Ann Marie Body Wrap method?
A. Our body wrap is a reducing process allowing a person to lose inches and in many instances, pounds, as it liquefies fat, lightens scars, stretch and age marks, increases the circulation, draws out the poisons and toxins without dehydration and most of all it conditions and shrinks the skin.
Q. Is the Organic Mummy Wrap safe for me to use?
A. A dermatologist brought this formula from Europe and developed this exclusively for Ann Marie Figure Salons. Any person can use our wrap. We suggest if you have any question about your health or reducing plans, consult your family doctor, before beginning your program of self improvement.

Nancy Ruud
Lost 8 inches from upper thighs in 2 wraps.

Jean Hicks
Lost 6 inches in first visit, next day another 7¾ inches all in the tummy area.

Q. Does wrapping involve exercise?
A. No, our body wrap works independently of exercise. You do nothing except lie back, relax, read a book, or even take a nap while your body wrap treatment works for you. We ask you not to go into any exercise program of any kind while on our program.

Delores Ownes
Went from size 12 to a size 9 in just 10 visits.

Q. Is the treatment hot?
A. No, heat sometimes triggers your body into gaining weight and makes your skin flabby. With our body wrap we cool the body making your skin young and tight. It feels good too.
Q. How fast will we see results?
A. You will feel and see results after your first treatment. In just 90 minutes we guarantee you will lose from 5 to 25 inches, depending on where you are wrapped or your money will be refunded.
Q. How do I know I am receiving results.
A. In many ways: Prior to the wrap we measure tightly and mark each and every person where they are measured. Second, after the wrap you are remeasured on the same mark so the before and after measurements are as accurate as possible. In addition many people will lose actual body weight as well as inches making the results evident.
Q. Is our wrap like most of the other wraps I have heard about?
A. No. Our wrap is considerably different from any of the other reducing wraps on the market. We use the compression method because it works best. We have used this for 13 years. This method molds the body the way you want it. It increases circulation, pulls fatty granules out of the tissue. The tighter you are wrapped the more you lose. Our lotion is different. It is organic and completely safe. Our added tightening ingredient LJ5 is also organic which conditions the skin and makes the inch loss more permanent.
Q. Do I lose all over?
A. Not necessarily, we use the controlled area method. What this means is we wrap you only where you want to lose. You can lose as much as 3 inches or more off midriff and back, without changing the size of the bust.

Q. Does this mean the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is a water loss that will return after drinking water?
A. We feel that the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is more permanent than dieting or exercise. As with dieting or exercising, the permanency of inch loss depends on a person's day to day habits after the event. Contrary to common belief, a liquid loss of this nature will not return permanently upon the consumption of non-caloric fluids. Drinking water is non-caloric and its ingestion travels the digestive process with the greatest percentage leaving the body through the urinary system. We encourage you to drink as much as eight glasses of water a day.
Q. Do you use any drugs or medications.
A. Absolutely not!
Q. How long does it last?
A. Nothing lasts forever but most of our ladies are happy for one year.
Q. Can the face be wrapped?
A. Yes. Most of our ladies do take facials. It is not only very restful but it stops the aging process, tightens the neck, eye and chin tissue as it lightens scar and age marks.

Ethel Fuller
Lost 18½ inches first visit mostly from hips and legs — 3 inches off arms.

Q. Do you keep wrap records in your salons?
A. At all Ann Marie Figure Salons, measurements before and after the process are recorded and the results totaled on a measurement chart. Statistical material gathered from these charts in our Santa Rosa salon, which we routinely keep, for the month of February, 1972, showed an average inch loss of 8.67 inches per application for patrons wrapped that month. This was based on approximately 211 wraps applied. If you would like to confirm the results for yourself, you're welcome to stop by and review our result charts at any time.
Q. Is the wrap painful?
A. No. Unlike salons who use rough paper which has to be hosed off, we use sterilized rolls of soft cotton bandages.
A. Our wrap has worked on thousands of other people and that's why we offer a money back guarantee if you don't lose from 5 to 25 inches, depending on where you are wrapped. May we suggest that anybody with a figure problem call us for a body wrap analysis without cost or obligation. These consultations are private and confidential.

TIME MAGAZINE: "The most passive reduction plan yet developed.

LEAVES COURTHOUSE — Angela Davis is accompanied by a friend, Victoria Marcado, and a retinue of bodyguards as she leaves the courthouse in San Jose after her acquittal by an all-white jury.

A JUBILANT CROWD — Angela Davis supporters clap their hands and break out in smiles upon hearing of Miss Davis's exoneration in the 13-week murder, kidnap and conspiracy trial in San Jose. The jury debated 13 hours over a three-day period which ended yesterday with the verdicts of innocent.

Two Parties, One Loud, One Quiet

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)— Angela Davis sipped champagne in a victory toast with the jurors who acquitted her Sunday of murder-kidnap charges and celebrated later at an earsplitting public party.

The black militant made her public appearance at a suburban night club where more than 500 boisterous supporters packed the darkened dance floor, dancing to the beat of a three-piece band.

Television and newspaper cameramen were ordered out of the nightclub and three Yugoslavian journalists flown here by the U.S. Information Agency especially for the verdict were roughly pushed away from Miss Davis' table.

The crowd, which included numerous whites and small children held on parents' shoulders, cheered loudly when Miss Davis, 28, arrived at the Safari Room, almost seven hours after she had told friends she would make the appearance.

Friends said she rested and talked with colleagues for several hours after a 3-1-2 hour private victory party she hosted for nine jurors and one alternate.

The quieter party was held at a friend's house where Miss Davis had been staying during the almost 14 weeks of trial. Jurors toasted Miss Davis with champagne and the former defendant signed autographs. Some of the jurors later arrived at the Safari Room fest.

A spokeswoman for the Angela Davis Defense Committee said that the defense had cost approximately $250,000. She said contributions would not meet all the costs, but that the deficit would not be known until the final bookkeeping.

ALL SMILES — Rodger and Darlene McAfee are all smiles upon learning of the acquittal of Angela Davis. The Fresno couple put up the collateral needed for Miss Davis's bond. McAfee said that "once again our faith in the American system has been justified in the acquittal. . . "

'Surprisingly Little Dispute,' On Panel, Eldest Juror Says

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—One of the jurors who acquitted Angela Davis said there was "surprisingly little dispute" during the 13 hours of deliberations in the murder-kidnap-conspiracy trial.

"From the very start we more or less considered it a very doubtful case," said Robert Seidel, 69, oldest juror.

"It was all circumstantial and we just couldn't forge a link" between Miss Davis and Jonathan Jackson, the 17-year-old youth who carried the guns into the Marin County courtroom and kidnaped five hostages.

Seidel said communism and race were never mentioned during the deliberations because Miss Davis "was not charged with being a Communist."

In Moscow, the Tass news agency said today the acquittal "signifies a victory for progressive American and world opinion."

The first official Soviet commentary of the Angela Davis acquittal refused to give any credit in principle to American justice, but said it was the collapse of a frame-up too offensive to be accepted even by the jury.

In Los Angeles, Sen. George S. McGovern told a crowd of cheering blacks at a rally in Watts that the acquittal should be "cause for rejoicing."

McGovern, speaking two hours after a jury in San Jose cleared Miss Davis of involvement in the Marin County courthouse shooting, was greeted by a crowd chanting:

"Power of the people has freed Angela."

"This is a happy day which I can understand," he said. "This is another demonstration that we can be pleased about.

"That's not a cause for mourning. That's not a cause for protest. That ought to be a cause for rejoicing."

MUSIC REVIEW

Two Shankar's Concerts Joy

By IRA KAMIN

Ravi Shankar gave two concerts Saturday evening at the Veterans Memorial Building. The 7 p.m. performance was pure joy. And I don't doubt the second performance at 10 p.m. was, too.

Shankar played two ragas with Alla Rakha on Tabla (Indian drum) and Shankar's son on Tamboura (a three stringed drone instrument) to an audience that only half filled the auditorium, but which sounded more than full with a thundering standing ovation for the master Indian musicians at the end of an exhilarating hour of pure sound. Shankar's son, a young man in his early 20s, replaced at the last moment the scheduled performer, Kamala.

Shankar is around 50 years old. Rakha is near 60. But the energy they communicated Saturday night was ageless and breathtaking.

The three musicians sat cross-legged and barefoot on a small, carpeted elevated stage surrounded by four full floral arrangements, while incense drifted through the auditorium.

Shankar's fingers moved with dazzling facility as he poured endless waves of fresh sounds from his gorgeous four foot long wooden sitar — a many stringed instrument that Shankar has described as having a "strange, zany, shimmering sound." Rakha played the tabla with ten fingers and his palms with easy humor that underscored his virtuosity. The tabla is a set of two drums, one like a small kettle drum, the other having a high pitched, wooden sound that Rakha tuned with a small hammer through the concert. Perfectly together, Rakha and Shankar rode smoothly over the placid drone of the tamboura.

And, in spite of their tremendous technique, one forgot about the instruments for they transcended the medium, and what came across was the essence of music, its spiritual sense.

At times, it was hard to tell who was playing what. Rakha and Shankar play so closely as to become one sound.

And the two show obvious delight in this closeness, as they grin at each other at the end of long phrases that end in miraculous unity.

Shankar began his career as a dancer. And it was after his success with a dancing troupe that he sought out his music Guru, Ustad Allaudin Khan, the father of Ali Akbar Khan, the master sarodist who directs a school of Indian music in San Rafael. Shankar always emphasizes the spiritual and classical nature of the music he plays. He says "You cannot do 'yea yea and go man go'. That's not my music really. It should be heard with a certain feeling of humility and sort of concentration."

When he plays, he closes his eyes or looks over at Rakha or his son. One gets the feeling this man is truly in touch with himself and the musicians around him.

The first raga they played was an evening raga, "with a mood of piece and devotion." The second, "An erotic raga, with more romance and freedom." In both, there was music that was probably never played before and will never be played again. Endless variations of the theme are played, and to be there, live, hearing and seeing these men perform such soulful, fresh music is an unearthly experience. It's also striking to note how temple-like they become in their gesture of a bow. Sitting cross-legged, their elbows outstretched and their palms clasped together above their heads, they form the architecture of Eastern holy buildings.

The 20-member Sufi choir opened the concert. They combine religious choral music of the East and West with tabla, guitar, trombone, reeds and bass into a relaxed, interesting sound.

Russian 1st In Piano Competition

BRUSSELS (UPI) — David Lively, experiencing his first taste of adulation, grinned at the audience and waved for silence. The audience stomped and cheered even more.

Marcel Poot, chairman of the jury of the Queen Elisabeth International Competition, shrugged and waited patiently to continue reading the list of winners.

Gilels' annoyance was understandable.

Valery Afanasiev, his favorite pupil, had placed first but had been booed by the 3,000 spectators gathered at the Brussels Palace of Fine Arts early Sunday to hear the results.

Afanasiev, 24, had taken the boos in his stride and hugged and kissed all the other 11 finalists. The Russian had given the impression throughout the competition that he lived in a musical world of his own.

His authority and flair impressed all, but he alienated many with an exaggerated, affected playing style.

He admitted to being embarrassed by the reaction of the audience and said later he thought Afanasiev was a "worthy winner."

The 18-member jury may have preferred other competitors to Lively because in effect he tried to win with one hand tied behind his back.

For this final test, Lively chose to play the piano concerto for the left hand by Ravel. He played it well, but it may not have shown his ability to its best advantage.

In the opening vote, Swann had tied with Afanasiev for first place. A revote gave first prize to the Russian.

Joseph Alfidid, a child prodigy born in Yonkers, N.Y., and who has lived in Belgium for nine years, placed third.

The gruelling competition—described by some as more demanding than the more widely recognized Soviet Tchaikovsky prize—had brought together 87 competitors from 26 countries.

The 12 finalists shared more than $20,000 in prize money.

For Afanasiev there was an even bigger prize: A series of recitals and concerts that will launch him on an international career.

Only Gounod's 'Faust' Gives Community Band Some Trouble

By ROBERT M. NESS

Admirably upholding its traditional quality of performance, the College of Marin Community Band presented the final concert of its season Saturday night before a capacity audience at the college's Fine Arts Theater.

Under the direction of conductor John Myers and guest conductor Gordon Lowe, the group scored with some impressive band works by Fisher Tull, Percy Grainger and Don Gillis, but missed the mark with an arrangement of ballet music from Gounod's "Faust".

Following a rousing march of fame, "Men of Ohio" by Henry Fillmore, Myers led the band through a most difficult and impressive work by Tull, "Toccata". The piece requires rhythmical virtuosity from conductor and players. Potential difficulties rising from constantly changing meters are compounded by the numerous and erratic entrances demanded of the various instruments. Although the performance demonstrated considerable skill, a few wrong entrances contributed to an insecure feeling that permeated the work.

Grainger's "Lincolnshire Posey" is an exceptional work for band. Based on six folk songs gathered by Grainger at the turn of the century in England, it exploits band resources with skill and art. In the third song, "Rufford Park Poachers", Grainger creates an especially unusual instrumental texture by overlapping the tune in solo E flat clarinet, piccolo, and oboe — creating haunting, poignant dissonances.

Guest conductor, Lowe, the head of the music department at Terra Linda High School, conducted "Tulsa (A symphonic Portrait in Oil)" by the American composer and wit Gillis, who is a one of a kind composer. He makes no intellectual demands on his audiences and, with a natural honesty, carries them through a series of fun sounds. A deceptively somber section will suddenly turn into a Souza-like march, followed by a police whistle and a mockery of Ferde Grofe. Lowe and the band had a good time with this work as he demonstrated again his rare ability to get the utmost from both the players and the played.

The juxtaposition of Maurice Ford's transcription of "Tulsa" against Dan Godfrey's of Ballet Music from Gounod's "Faust" illustrates the plague hovering over band repertoire. Often there is not a substitute for string textures no matter how skilled the arranger.

"Tulsa" worked well for band because its instrumentation and textures fell naturally in place with wind instruments. Godfrey's arrangement was not so musically fortunate. While it brilliantly displays a band's technical abilities, for the most part it is musical nonsense. Clarinets simply are not violins.

Dr. Wolff Leads Choruses In Brilliant Bach Mass

Obviously touched by a lengthy standing ovation, Dr. S. Drummond Wolff made his final bow and retired as the director of the College of Marin choruses. His years in Marin could not have culminated in a more fitting evening than they did last night.

A spellbound capacity audience of 1,500 persons listened in awed silence as Dr. Wolff carried the choruses to new heights in Bach's glorious Mass in B Minor. Despite the overcrowded and hot conditions in the college's gymnasium where the concert was held, the proverbial pin would have rumbled had it been dropped.

Soprano Meg Broughton, contralto Donna Petersen, tenor Paul Raabe, and organist Arthur Hills joined Wolff, a small professional orchestra, and the combined College of Marin Community Chorus and Collegiate Chorale for this memorable performance.

The mass is a succession of great dramatic contrasting choruses interspersed with plaintive arias and duets. While the soloists were superb throughout, it was the chorus that stole the show. From the opening darkly fugal "Kyrie" to the final glorious "Dona nobis pacem," this group of about 300 voices was beautifully balanced, ever secure, and always sensitive to the dynamic leadership of Wolff.

He will be missed. Last night's brilliant musical offering emphasized how much we will miss him. R.N.

Salad Oil King Is Released

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UPI)— Anthony "Tino" De Angelis, former "salad oil king" of Bayonne, N. J., was released from federal prison on parole today after serving seven years of a 20-year sentence.

De Angelis, 56, was sentenced in 1965 on three counts of fraud and one count of conspiracy in connection with an elaborate scheme that reportedly caused his creditors to lose $150 million.

DeAngelis was charged with forging about $100 million in American Express Co. warehouse receipts and using that as collateral to borrow money.

The receipts were supposed to be for salad oil stored in De Angelis' firm in Bayonne, N. J.

As the price of vegetable oil declined, creditors learned they held receipts for 1.8 billion pounds of vegetable oil, though there was only 100 million pounds in the plant.

When creditors asked De Angelis to cover the transactions because the market was falling off, he filed for bankruptcy.

Acquitted In Two Slayings

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)— A superior court jury acquitted Sunday Raymond L. S. Patriarca, New England's reputed underworld chieftain, of two counts of being an accessory to murder in the April 1968 shooting of two men.

Patriarca was charged on two counts of being an accessory in the shootings of Rudolph Marfeo and Anthony Melei, at a Providence grocery store on April 20, 1968. The jury deliberated three days on the charges.

Patriarca, 64, identified as New England underworld chief by witnesses who appeared before the House Crime subcommittee, is in federal penitentiary in Atlanta. He was convicted previously of conspiracy in the Marfeo-Malei shootings.

Environmental Film Contest Winners Named

First place awards of $175 each went to a Dominican College art class taught by Sister Adele; William Cooper of 606 Las Colindas Road, San Rafael, and John and Peter Merrill of 2060 Vineyard Road, Novato. A $75 second place award went to Anita Coggs, Ellen Kaye and Kim Colby of Terra Linda, and the motion picture class taught by Kenneth Rosenberg at Davidson Middle School won a $75 special award for its animated feature.

The Lions club earned the prize money by operating the parking lot concession at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building in the Civic Center.

The winning filmmakers will be guests of the Marin Association of Life Underwriters at a luncheon in the Alvarado Inn, Ignacio, June 16.

The Lions club will arrange for showing the films to interested groups throughout Marin County, according to member Peter M. Rohrer.

WORD-A-DAY

Educational Leader On Agenda

Tamalpais High School District trustees may name an educational leader for Tamalpais High School today and extend the dual-administration policy to Redwood High School.

Their meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Redwwood High School faculty lounge, instead of the new student center at Tamalpais High School as previously announced.

District Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins explained that construction work on the center will not be completed in time for the meeting.

District residents and a screening committee have for weeks been winnowing a list of 150 applicants for the Tamalpais educational directorship.

Oral interviews of the four finalists were held Wednesday and Thursday, and the committee and Hawkins were to recommend the top candidate to the board today.

Hawkins also will recommend that Redwood High School Principal Donald N. Kreps be reassigned as educational leader at the school for 1972-73.

No recommendation as to who will be the principal — with duties limited to administration — has been made.

In March, trustees voted 4-1 to move Tamalpais High Principal Raymond J. Bell into purely administrative duties and recruit a new educational leader. The twin leadership policy, part of Hawkins' long-range restructuring of the district, was first put into effect at Sir Francis Drake High School last year.

The trustees also will be asked to authorize filing a new set of charges against Tamalpais High English teacher Kenneth A. Anderson to obtain a required new Superior Court hearing on his firing.

The district and Anderson have been battling for months over his ouster on grounds of "encouraging, condoning and participating" in a student's confessed role in three Southern Marin bombings last year, as well as earlier charges of "unfitness for service" and "persistent violations of and/or refusal to obey school rules."

Proposed teacher evaluation guidelines will be presented to the board for a third hearing, after two prior rejections and revisions. The guidelines are required under the Stull Act.

Trustee Bette S. Wallace will report on the recent Project Breakthrough conference on Black Education.

Driving Course

A defensive driving course designed to instruct licensed drivers in safe driving techniques will be conducted on June 13, 20, 22 and 27 at the Whistlestop, 930 Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael. A two-hour class session will be held at 10 a.m. each day.

STUDENTS' INSIDE VIEW

Workings Of Law Enforcement

By PAT AGNLE

The young policeman's voice was earnest as he discussed how an officer should conduct himself making an arrest.

The small group of high school students, gathered in the conference room of the Corte Madera Police Department, listened intently. Some took notes to insure the officer's words would not be forgotten.

"When I arrest a drunk, even a sloppy drunk, he's "sir" to me and I treat him like a gentleman because I'm seeing a fine citizen at his worst," Patrolman Gregory Rossoff told his audience.

"If you can treat a man with respect when he's at his worst, you've got it made," he added with a smile. Several teenagers nodded in agreement.

The students receiving this inside view of the problems and challenges of law enforcement are part of a junior cadet program, sponsored by Corte Madera police and Redwood High School, designed to give them a firsthand look at daily activities of a police department.

For many, the experience gained as a junior cadet will be the first step toward careers in police work, according to Rossoff, the department's assistant juvenile officer, who has directed the program since it began last May.

In addition to providing the training necessary to enable interested students to become full-fledged paid police cadets when they reach age 18, the course seeks to "break through some of the traditional hostilities between police and young people," Rossoff said.

"We also want to instill a better understanding of law enforcement and the role of police officers in protecting life and property."

Under direct supervision of officers, cadets perform many police functions, including receiving complaints and taking reports, maintaining records and files, dispatching, and analysis of of marijuana and dangerous drugs. Perhaps the most valuable training comes with the opportunity to ride along in patrol units and assist patrolmen when the need arises.

In addition, through lectures by Rossoff and fellow officers, they receive instruction in criminal law, the laws of evidence and search and seizure, juvenile procedures, pistol-shooting and testifying in court.

Sometimes they have a chance to put their training to practical use. "One of our former junior cadets was called on to testify in court on a narcotics arrest I made," the dark-haired Rossoff said. "He was on the stand for 45 minutes and did a marvelous job."

Field trips, too, are part of the program and the cadets have journeyed to the Marin County Communications Center and San Francisco police headquarters. They have also participated in drug education programs, grammar school career days and have demonstrated bicycle safety for younger children.

Often the learning process is mutual, according to Rossoff. "The comments the cadets make give me an insight into my own job," he admitted. He told of three different cadets who had complained that many Corte Madera policeman rode in patrol cars with their hands on the unit's shotguns.

"This was something the officers were doing unconsciously, but it made the kids uptight and they saw it as threatening," he said. "As a result we now have a policy that officers keep their hands off the shotguns while riding around."

To qualify as a junior cadet, youngsters must be Redwood High students, 14 to 18 years old and have a desire to learn more about the inner workings of a police department, according to the 25-year-old director. The student must also be willing to spend the approximately 10 hours a week required. (The cadets receive 10 units of high school credit upon completion of the semester course.)

Even teen-agers with minor juvenile arrest records are eligible, Rossoff said, adding: "We judge these cases on an individual basis."

Since the program began, 36 teen-agers have participated and the waiting list is long since only the 10 top applicants, screened through an oral examination, are selected each semester. The fact that approximately 50 students apply for each new program is both surprising and gratifying to the director, since there is no recruitment program and the word simply "gets around."

Last week the current nine cadets — six boys and three girls — gathered at the police station to discuss what they had learned and experienced since they begin in January.

All wore regulation blue shirts and dark blue trousers or skirts. The boys had relatively short hair (above the collar), a requirement for admission, but said they had no complaints about that regulation.

Most of the teen-agers readily said their ideas about police officers have changed radically since they first became cadets.

Cadet Brad Brixon's comment was typical. "I always thought they were mean old men, cruising around in patrol cars and talking on the radio," he said. "Now I know they are fine people." As a result of his contact with officers, Brixon has decided he wants to be policeman.

Not surprisingly, most of the students said that, since joining the cadet program, they had received harassment from some of their classmates, from mild teasing to cutting comments like "So you're gonna be a pig?"

"I just take it in stride," said Cadet Peter Martin. "At first it bothered me a little, but you get used to it after a while. You can't let a silly thing likethat get you down."

Five of the male cadets and two of the girls said they are not seriously considering careers in law enforcement and all the students indicated they found the profession exciting, challenging and rewarding.

For Scott Huber, being a pliceman will be a childhood dream come ture. "Ever since I was a little kid I admired policemen and wanted to be one and help people." For James Arab, the appeal comes from "never knowing what to expect, wondering what's going to happen next."

Each cadet had his own idea of the most important qualities which every good policeman must possess, from "patience," and "the ability to think quickly and stay calm" to "understanding, the ability to put yourself in the other guy's shoes."

Rossoff had his own idea. "Above all things, a good policeman must have compassion; without that he can't make it," the officer said. "You have to have genuine feelings for people in trouble."

Several cadets said the most valuable knowledge they had gained from the program was the ability to talk to and relate to people in all kinds of situations. "I've learned that an officer must control his negative feelings and emotions and stay clam, no matter how trying the situation is," Huber said.

Cadet John Musaus said his experiences on patrol had taught him the necessity of "keeping control of a situation and yourself."

For example, he said that at an accident, people may be upset and running around and even yelling at officers. "You have to be able to say 'I'm the authority here' and make it stick and that's not easy," Musaus said.

The cadets were in strong agreement on one point: all police departments should initiate cadet programs similar to that in Corte Madera.

"Without programs like this, there is always going to be bad feelings and misunderstandings between young people and police," one cadet said. "And that's sad because my experience as a cadet has shown me there can be real communication and even friendship between most policemen and the kids in their communities."

$500 REWARD IN BOLINAS VANDALISM

A $500 reward has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals who damaged Bolinas fire fighting vehicles and two Stinson Beach businesses on Memorial Day Weekend.

The money is offered by the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club, according to president Philip L. Fritchey who said persons with information are urged to write to the club, Post Office Box 64, Bolinas.

On Sunday, May 29, vandals shot out the windows of the Bolinas Firehouse and fired from 15 to 20 shots at three fire trucks, rendering the vehicles temporarily unusable. Damage was estimated at $200-to-$300 by Bolinas volunteer fire chief Jose A. Silva.

In Stinson Beach the vandals also shot out three windows of the 7-11 store and two from the Seashore Realty and damaged a Stinson Beach telephone booth.

Hit-And-Run Suspect To Court Today

A San Anselmo man, arrested Friday on suspicion of felony hit-and-run and felony drunken driving after an accident that sent a Corte Madera man to the hospital, was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Myron Francis Kaczmarek, 28, of 10 Yolanda Drive, San Anselmo, was arrested Friday night in San Rafael at the request of Larkspur police after a motocyclist said he was hit by Kaczamarek's car.

Robert Malcolm Johnson, 41, of 112 Walnut Avenue, Corte Madera, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises he received when his motorcycle spilled. He also complained of neck pain.

According to police, Johnson said he was westbound on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at its Greenbrae intersection with Highway 101 when Kaczmarek's car cut in front of him, striking his motorcycle.

Johnson fell off his motorcycle and Kaczmarek drove onto Highway 101 northbound, according to police. After a police radio call for help, Kaczmarek was spotted at Anjo's bar at 545 4th Street in San Rafael, where he was arrested.

Kaczmarek was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail, to appear in municipal court.

Innocent Plea To Bad Checks

Linda Susan Smith, 20, address unknown, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to five counts of possessing more than $2,000 in bad checks. A preliminary hearing was set for June 15.

She is charged with having the checks totaling $2,099 and $59 in savings bonds which were cashed in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Larkspur and Novato.

Hollis Refuses To Give Names

Despite an opinion by the county schools' legal adviser that he should do so, County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis today refused to release the names of four unsuccessful applicants for a recent board vacancy.

Hollis said he refused to divulge the names because the original notices seeking applicants for the position had promised not to.

The county board voted behind closed doors May 17 to appoint William L. Sisk of Novato to the position. He will serve until November when he must seek reelection.

Hollis today said that Godino's opinion came too late to alter the board's stand in the matter. He said he was aware of a 1968 public records law (which Godino said would require releasing the names but would stand on the previous board policy of concealing the names in this instance.

Five Novato residents applied for the seat of James A. Swenson, who retired June 1 from the board.

Board member Parrick W. Pollack requested a written opinion May 23 on whether the board policy was legal, which Godino gave last Friday.

Building Of Mooring Is Halted

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Bay Conservation and Development Commission has ordered a Tiburon man to cease illegal construction of a seaplane mooring for which he has no permits.

William F. O'Keeffee Sr. of 4960 Ranch Road had about 20 pilings driven into the bay offshore from his home during the Memorial Day weekend, the commission's staff reported. A neighbor complained to the commission after a pile driver started hammering the 24-inch timber pilings.

O'Keeffee plans to build a platform on the pilings to moor a seaplane, the staff reported. O'Keeffee agreed to cease construction and to apply for permits from Marin County, the bay commission and the Army Corps of Engineers. Rejection by any of the three agencies will force removal of the pilings.

The commission's staff said that O'Keeffee apparently knew that he should have obtained permits, but thought no one would care if he proceeded without them.

Budget Draft To Be Studied

The Ross School District board will hold a special meeting at 7:45 p.m. today to review the second draft of the district's $565,920 budget for 1972-1973.

The second draft of the budget is approximately $10,000 higher than the first draft, which has been reviewed by the board in three previous meetings.

According to board president Sally Ann Rakow, the $10,000 increase is spread out across several budget categories.

The board will also discuss the continuing negotiations between the district's representative and the Certificated Employee Council. Mrs. Rakow said she might call the board into closed session to direct Supt. Thomas A. Anderson on the negotiations.

22-Year-Old Due Time In State Prison

A 22-year-old Santa Venetia man facing four different cases in Marin courts has agreed to plead guilty in all and go to state prison.

In a plea bargain worked out with Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court, Jerry Ray Wade agreed to state prison provided the sentences run concurrently.

Another condition was that charges of possessing marijuana and heroin against his girl friend, Patricia Ann Fusilier, 20, of Marin City be dismissed.

Wade pleaded guilty to possessing heroin in that case stemming from a raid on his apartment April 13, during which a large quantity of heroin was seized. A marijuana possession charge was dropped.

The same deal was worked out on heroin and marijuana charges filed in December. Agents raided Wade's motel room at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael Dec. 13.

Wade also pleaded guilty to two counts of forging credit card slips dating from August and October.

Two Arrested In Novato Theft, Assault

Marin County sheriff's deputies arrested two youths yesterday on suspicion of armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon at Lion's Park, west of Novato.

Booked were Erick Winfield Alford, 19, of 1304 Cambridge Street, Novato, and Arnold Dean Ash, 18, of Glen Ellen, Sonoma County. They were arrested in the 1600 block of Center Road, Novato, at 7 p.m.

The two men were held at Marin County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bail each and were to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Novato police, who aided in the arrest, reported the victim was James F. Cantwell, 20, of Peoria, Ill., but had no details of the event. No report was available at the Marin County Sheriff's Office.

Mills Believes Nixon Will Be Hard To Defeat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., believes President Nixon's peacemaking trips to China and the Soviet Union raised his stature to the point it will be tough for the Democrats to defeat him this year.

"It's going to be very difficult," Mills said Sunday of the prospects of beating Nixon. "He is more accepted now than before he made these trips."

Mills, the chairman of House Ways and Means Committee who is a Democratic presidential candidate, said that "President Nixon must defeat President Nixon if he is to be defeated." He said the state of the economy could be Nixon's biggest problem because "he has a real job to do to get the economy going."

Water District Candidate Rules Out Planning Role

Willard A. Hall, candidate for the Marin Municipal Water District board from Division 5, believes the district should limit itself to the function of providing water and not ecgage in planning by withholding water to curb development in the county.

Hall, a retired sales and consulting engineer is one of three contenders for the board seat now held by Robert G. Anderson of Sausalito who has indicated he will not run again when his term expires at the end of this year. Also competing for the post (representing Sausalito, Marin City, Tamalpais Valley, Belvedere and Tiburon) in tomorrow's election will be Robert G. Anderson Jr. and Dr. Ronald T. Stafford.

The candidate, a 23-year Sausalito resident who resides at 21 Vista Clara, is currently in Europe and was not available to present his ideas for an election roundup story on the water district election.

In a communique issued through his campaign manager, James E. Muldoon, Hall said he thinks planning for future water must be geared to the cisions of city and county planning agencies in Marin.

Officials engaged in planning must be kept aware of the need for additional water which their plans may create, Hall said.

He favors the proposed intertie with the North Marin County Water District which will bring an additional 4,000 acre feet of water annually to the MMWD for the next several years.

Trustees Will Inspect Path

Fairfax School District trustees will meet at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow at the boundary of the White Hill School playing field to inspect a problem with the dividing berm between the school property and neighboring houses in Meadowland.

The board will then hold the rest of its meeting inside the school on Glen Drive, according to Supt. H. Reginald Hammond.

Spokesmen for the Fairfax Little League and the Cricket Club will present requests for a clubhouse at the White Hill School, and the board will hear a report on parents' reactions to pupil report systems.

An amended contract with the Patchetts Transportation Co. for school bus leasing will be presented for approval.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

West's Opening Lead Is Key To Hand — Even The Poor Best

You can sometimes produce the right effect on your partner by suggesting that he shuffle up his cards face down and pick his opening lead at random. "The leads won't be any worse than they are now," you can politely explain, "and at least we won't have to pretend that any thought went into the selection." Actually, however, even the worst player has some reason for choosing his lead, and if you can work out that reason you will know something about his hand.

SMALL CLUB

West opened the deuce of clubs, and declarer captured East's jack with the ace of clubs. The late Helen Sobel Smith, playing the South hand, took a few seconds to work out the logic of the inept opening lead and then came up with a magnificent play at the second trick.

Clearly, West had led from four clubs to the ten. Most experienced players lead fourth best from a broken suit, and when the deuce is the fourth-best card there cannot be a fifth best; and the suit is therefore only four cards in length.

WEST QUESTIONED

Why would West lead form a four-card suit headed by the ten? Obviously, he could not have a better suit to lead. The odds were overwhelming that West held no five-card suit; and in that case, his distribution was surely 4-1-4-4. The singleton had to be in hearts, for otherwise West would have led his partner's suit.

OTHER HAND

Declarer turned her attention next to the East hand. If West held four spades, East was bound to hold the other two. But East was sure to hold the ace-king of spades for his opening bid. Hence East held the blank ace-king of spades.

Acting on this reasoning, South led the three of spades at the second trick! This was high enough to drive out East's king. Another low spade drove out the ace, and declarer had tricks to burn.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player doubles.

MICHAEL WORNUM'S PLATFORM

TAXES —
The spiralling property tax continues to be the most pernicious tax of all. I have, and will continue to demand State legislative action to reduce such an unfair burden. I will continue to demand economy and efficiency in our county government.

ENVIRONMENT —
The Marin Conservation League lauded 1971 as a "vintage year for conservation in Marin County." I have fought and I will fight to preserve the environment of Marin as the most vital issue of this campaign.
Most important of all is the growing popular awareness of this unique environmental heritage and the people's determination to save it while there is yet time. I want to be a leader in this movement.

TRANSPORTATION —
Unrestrained freeway proposals have been curtailed and the supremacy of the automobile is being challenged. In its place a brand new bus and ferry system is operating. Long-range solutions to our transportation problems are near realization. I want to be part of their implementation.

U.S. Believes Ransom Will Be Returned

ALGIERS (UPI)—The United States believes Algerian officials will return the $500,000 given in ransom to a potsmoking Black Panther and his blonde girlfriend who hijacked a jet from San Francisco, an american diplomat said Sunday.

Algerian officials today refused to comment on the statement of William Eagleton, chief of the U.S. interests section of the Swiss embassy, who is negotiating for return of the money and the hijackers.

The hijackers were identified as William Holder, 22, San Diego, Calif., a Vietnam veteran and a member of the Black Panther Party, and Katherine May Kerkow, 21, of the same address as Holder. They were taken away for questioning by Algerian authorities as soon as they landed Saturday.

Algerian government officials said they were "thoroughly investigating" Holder's request for political asylum but offered no other indication as to the hijackers' fate.

Eagleton said the United States had asked for return of the money, and "we assume they will return the money."

The hijackers commandeered a Western Airlines Boeing 727 in the air over Washington state Friday night and demanded the ransom plus a longer-range Boeing 720 to take them to Algiers. Half the passengers were released when the hijackers changed planes in San Francisco and the rest got off at a refueling stop in New York.

The plane returned to Los Angeles Sunday night.

In other hijacking developments, FBI agents in Reno said that the remaining $155,000 of $200,000 given to a hooded hijacker who bailed out of a United Airlines 727 jet Friday night was found in sagebrush near Reno Sunday. The hijacker lost the money as he reached for his ripcord, and had left the other $45,000 behind when he jumped.

Robb D. Heady, 22, a parking lot attendant and a former Vietnam paratrooper, has been charged with that hhijacking.

Accused Hijacker Due To Face U.S. Magistrate

MIAMI (UPI)—Frederick W. Hahneman, accused of hijacking an Eastern Air Lines jetliner May 5 and parachuting over Honduras with $303,000 ransom money, was to go before a U. S. magistrate today.

Hahneman is charged with air piracy and kidnaping in the month-old hijacking that led to an intensive manhunt in four Central American countries.

He surrendered meekly at the U. S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Saturday, and was flown to Miami the same day accompanied by four FBI agents and two Eastern Air Lines officials.

The ransom money has not been recovered, but William V. Howard, Eastern vice president for industrial and personnel relations, said the search continues and "we have reason to be optimistic and hopeful" that all the money will be found.

The Allentown, Pa., Call-Chronicle quoted U.S. Marine Sgt. Earle Cole, who is stationed at the Honduras embassy, as saying Hahneman told him Saturday he was dying of liver cancer and wanted "to do one last thing for Honduras."

Cole also said he was told, "You can forget about the money. You'll never see it again."

Surging A's Capture 2

CLEVELAND (UPI) —The Oakland A's, 6-2 on their current road trip and riding a 3 1-2 game lead in the American League West, open a three-game series tonight with Cleveland.

The Athletics move over from Baltimore where Jim Hunter pitched a two-hit shutout Sunday and three other Oakland pitchers combined for still another shutout to give them both games of a doubleheader with identical 2-0 scores.

Cleveland spent the day defeating California, 6-4, to move into second place in the A.L. East, three games behind Detroit.

The win stopped California's winning streak at five games.

In both the A's-Baltimore contests, Oakland scored its runs in the first inning, then relied on top pitching to make the margin stand up.

Hunter picked up his 100th big league game win in the opener after Campy Campaneris opened with a single and two outs later Sal Bando found Oriole starter Mike Cuellar for his second home run of the year.

The nightcap saw Dave Hamilton start from the mound. The rookie lefthander threw six hits in six innings then was spelled by Rollie Fingers and Darold Knowles, who gave up a hit apiece.

FOX HOSPITALIZED

Giants Swept By Pittsburgh

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mamiger Charlie Fox is in the hospital today nursing himself after another kidney stone attack, and the way his San Francisco Giants are playing these days, maybe they should join him.

Sunday, before a fine turnout of 19,929, the Giants fumbled their way to a 4-3 and 9-1 doubleheader loss to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pitching once again was their nemesis. They didn't have any pitching to speak of and then ran into Bruce Kison, the World Series hero, who stopped them on three hits.

In the opener, Ron Bryant was nursing a 3-2 lead in the seventh when he started to bend a little and was removed by acting skipper Johnny McNamara. Jerry Johnson came on to get out of a budding jam in that inning and then got cuffed around himself in the eighth when the Pirates put together three singles and a sacrifice fly for two runs and the ball game.

In the nightcap, the Giants were out of it by the second when the Pirates jumped Charlie Williams and Don Carrithers for five hits and five runs and before the game was over they had 16 hits in all off four pitchers for an easy victory.

Chris Speier hit his sixth homer in the first inning of the opener and Dave Kingman followed with his 14th. It looked like the start of a fine afternoon but as things turned out that was about all the attack the Giants could muster for the next five hours. A sacrifice fly by Gary Maddox got them their third run in the fifth and a walk to Bobby Bonds and singles by Jim Howarth and Al Gallagher in the fifth netted their lone second game tally.

The double loss dropped the Giants 13 1-2 games behind in the National League West with a 17-34 won-loss record.

Today is an off day in the

IN TIBURON

Net Upset: Zwieg Wins

Zwieg yesterday pulled the only major upset in the $2,000 Bay Counties Invitational tennis tournament, defeating seventh-seeded Bob Siska of San Francisco in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5.

The other seven seeded players in the tournament, held at Tiburon Peninsula Club, advanced without difficulty. The tourney will conclude next Saturday and Sunday.

Barry MacKay of Ross, seeded No. 1, drew a bye in the first round. He then trounced Mark Rodnick of Larkspur and Redwood High School on Saturday, 6-2, 6-3, and trampled Bill Maze of Orinda yesterday, 6-1, 6-4.

Henry Kamakana of Los Altos, seeded No. 2, defeated Dick Brunstetter of Tiburon easily yesterday morning, 6-1, 6-1. Other seeded players who advanced were, in order, Whitney Reed, Greg Shephard, Rich Anderson, Tom Brown and Charley Darley.

Other than Zwieg and MacKay, the only Marin County men's singles player to win a match was Terry Moor of Sausalito, who triumphed twice. He beat Paul Welles of Albany Saturday, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, and Chuck Bleckinger of El Cerrito Sunday, 6-3, 6-1. He then lost to Darley in a tough match, 6-1, 6-7, 6-4.

TREVINO 2ND

Sanders Wins Kemper Open

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI)—Flamboyant Doug Sanders, his lean days behind him and his ailing wrist on the mend, says "there's no question I can win now."

The fun loving 38-year-old veteran of 15 years as a touring golf pro answered the question himself Sunday with a 38-foot birdie putt from the edge of the 18th green to squeeze past Lee Trevino and win the $175,000 Kemper Open.

The win was a long time coming. Sanders, making a comeback from tendonitis in his wrist, had not won a professional tournament since 1970, when he took the Bahamas National.

He was up with the leaders throughout the Kemper, firing a one under par 71 in the first round and then turning in three 68s in a row for a 13-under par total of 275.

He played close to flawless golf in the final round of the Kemper.

He began the round tied for second place with Trevino and upstart Cesar Sanudo at nine-under par. Gibby Gilbert of Hollywood, Fla., held the lead at 10-under.

Sanders, playing in the two-some ahead of Trevino, fired pars on the first three holes and then birdied holes four and five.

Trevino followed suit.

Then the merry Mexican birdied number six on the Quail Hollow Country Club course to go one stroke ahead of Sanders at 12 under par.

Trevino stayed ahead until he ran into his nemesis—Quail Hollow's eighth hole, a par three, 244-yard hole.

As he had done in every round of the Kemper, Trevino shot a bogey four on the eighth, which he calls "the worst hole in the world."

Sanders birdied the ninth hole and was in the lead, 12 strokes under par, until the 14th hole, which he bogeyed and Trevino birdied, pulling them even.

Both birdied the 15th hole and were even going into the 18th. The sellout crowd of 23,000 began preparing for a playoff.

Then Sanders sank his putt.

Trevino placed his second shot on the 18th hole only five and a half feet from the pin and lined up for what seemed a sure birdie for the sudden-death playoff.

Trevino missed and Sanders pocketed $35,000 in first prize money and got a congratulatory call from Vice President Spiro Agnew.

UCLA Track Men Earn The Crown

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Jim Bush makes no bones about it, he was really upset at his UCLA track and field team after arch-rival Southern California won the Pacific 8 Conference championship two weeks ago..

"We were flat and seemed uninterested in what we were doing," Bush said today, "but I'm willing to forget all that now."

And why shouldn't Bush forget. His team won the "really big one" this weekend —the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships — and ran USC into the ground in the process.

REMEMBERED

USC INTO THE ground in the process.

"I think the boys remembered some of the things I had to say after the Pac 8," said Bush. "They came to Eugene in a wonderful frame of mind and even after the Trojans jumped in front Friday I felt we would win it."

Win it the Bruins did—and for the second year in a row—as they grabbed 16 points in the 400 meter dash on a repeat victory by world record holder John Smith in a swift 44.5 and a third by Benny Brown, and a 13-4 sweep in the triple jump led by Jim Butts' winning leap of 53 -2 1-4. Harry Freeman did 52-10 1-4 for third and Milan Tiff did 52-9¼ for fourth.

TRIPLE JUMP

UCLA picked up 20 points in the triple jump to go over the top and a surprise 3:05.3 victory in the mile relay—final event in the three-day championships at Oregon's Hayward Field — proved so much icing on the cake.

The Bruins finished with 82 points, far out-distancing Southern Cal with its 49 points and Texas El Paso with its 45.

Five meet records were set on Saturday's program for a total of 12 in three days.

Smith's 400 meter dash victory set one record and others were added Saturday by Joe Lucas of Georgetown in the steeplechase (8:30.1), Dave Wottle of Bowling Green in the 1,500 meters (3:39.7), freshman Tom Woods of Oregon State in the high jump (7-3 1-4) and Steve Prefontaine of Oregon in the 5,000 meters (13:31.4).

SEVEN MARKS

The other seven marks came in the decathlon by Ron Evans of Connecticut (7,571 points), Al Schoterman of Kent State in the hammer (231-3), Tom Hill of Arkansas State in a a heat of the 110 meter high hurdles (13.3), Cliff Branch of Colorado and Warren Edmonson of UCLA in heats of the 100 dash (10.0) and John Halberstadt of South Africa and Oklahoma State in the 10,000 (28:50.4).

Bill Bowerman of Oregon, who will lead the U.S. Olympic team to Munich, said he was heartened by many performances in the NCAA. Later this month he will have a flock of collegiate stars as well as the open stars in Eugene for the Glympic trials.

Two collegiates who won't be coming back, though, are Branch, who will sign a contract with the National Football League Oakland Raiders in two weeks, and Edmonson, who claims he is quitting track to concentrate on football.

DOUBLE WIN

Fred Debernardiof UTEP was the meet's only double winner, taking the shot put with a heave of 66-6 1-2 and the discus with a throw of 196-5.

Since Halberstadt is not an American, Prefontaine and Lucas loom as strong Olympic candidates in the distance races.

Prefontaine ran 63, 62 and 60 seconds for the last three laps but said he wasn't going all out.

LUCAS

Lucas, as most of the collegiate stars, probably will pass up the AAU championships at Seattle on June 15-16-17.

Other champions crowned in the NCAA included Canadian Rick Dowsell of Ohio U. in the javelin (265-11), Bruce Collins of Pennsylvania in the 400 hurdles (49.1), Dave Roberts in the pole vault (17-3), Larry Burton of Purdue in the 200 dash (wind aided 20.5), Willie Thomas of Tennessee in the 800 (1:47.1,), Randy Williams of Southern Cal in the 110 highs (13.4) and Edmonson in the 100 (10.1).

Report: NBA To Absorb 6 ABA Squads

GREENBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Some six American Basketball Association teams will join the National Basketball Association later this month, the Greensboro Daily News reported today.

The newspaper said agreement for the ABA teams to be absorbed has been reached between NBA commissioner Walter Kennedy and owner Tedd Munchak of the Carolina Cougars, representing the ABA.

The agreement will be ratified by the NBA owners at a meeting June 15-16 at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., the Daily News said, quoting an unidentified source.

The Daily News said the Pittsburgh, Memphis and Florida franchises of the ABA would be dropped and the Denver club would be put "on ice" for several years while a new arena is built.

The newspaper said the Virginia Squires is in debt and may be rejected by the NBA owners, meaning that Carolina, New York, Indiana, Utah, Dallas and Kentucky are the only certain additions.

FRENCH OPEN

Tennis Crown For Billie Jean

PARIS (UPI) — Billie Jean King has scaled that final, elusive peak in the world of championship tennis.

Billie Jean won the $100,000 French Open women's tennis championship—the only major title she had never previously held—by downing Australian Evonne Goolagong, 6-3, 6-3 Sunday.

The 28-year-old Mrs. King, of Long Beach, parlayed a strong net game and the mental lapses of Miss Goolagong to take the French Open crown from the brow of the talented 20-year-old. Miss Goolagong had never before lost a set at Roland Garros Stadium, where the event was held.

Mrs. King, the self-proclaimed "old lady" of women's tennis, is a three-time winner at Wimbledon, twice women's champion at Forest Hills and a winner in Australia, but this marked the first time she had gotten past the quarter-finals in seven attempts in the French Open.

In the men's tennis, 34-year-old Andres Gimeno, of Spain, won his first major title by defeating France's Patrick Proisy, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1 in the rain. Gimeno wept for joy after winning the $12,000 first prize.

Mrs. King was also overcome by emotion after defeating Miss Goolagong. The first woman athlete to win over $100,000 in a single year tossed her racquet into the air, sat down and wept.

Mrs. King had originally intended to skip the Paris tournament this year but later reneged when she felt it might be a competitive tune-up for Wimbledon.

Crew Title Claimed By Redwood

Redwood High School's varsity eight-oared rowing team today is laying claim to the unofficial championship of the five-school North Bay Crew League.

Redwood's crew defeated previously undefeated Berkeley High School by one and one-half lengths in a 1,500-meter race on the Oakland Estuary Saturday afternoon. Redwood's winning time was 5 minutes, 18.8 seconds. The victory gave the Larkspur school a 7-1 record compared to Berkeley's 4-1 mark.

The lone loss for Redwood's eight-oared team came at the hands of Salesian High of Richmond. Other competing schools were St. Joseph's High of Alameda and Concordia of Oakland.

The team has been invited to compete against Shawnigan Lake Boys School of Vancouver Island, B.C., and nearby Brentwood College June 24, but it has not been determined whether they will make the trip or not, according to the team's advisor, Bob Cumming, president of the Marin Rowing Association.

In four-oared crew, Redwood's four teams went through the season unbeaten, lightweight and heavyweight squads, both varsity and junior varsity.

Staub, Munyon Bats Give Suburban Split

Dennis Staub drove in two runs with a third-inning triple and scored on a single by Jess Munyon as Suburban Auto Repair of San Rafael defeated Green Lantern of Hayward, 3-0, to gain a split of a Golden Gate League softball doubleheader Saturday.

Gibson Shuts Out Dodgers; Cubs Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Winning a ball game on June 4 isn't as important as winning one in the World Series, but for the individuals involved it can sometimes be as meaningful.

This was the case with a former Series heroe Sunday — an old-time great bent on proving he hasn't yet lost all his skills.

SELF HELP

Bob Gibson, 36-year-old right-hander with St. Louis and loser of his first five decisions this year, posted his third consecutive victory and second straight shutout as the Cardinals whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-0. Gibson, who has a 7-2 record in World Series competition, including three successes in 1967, helped his own cause with a two-run homer.

In other games, the Houston Astros whitewashed the Montreal Expos, 5-0, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs beat the San Diego Padres, 3-1. Pittsburgh swept San Francisco 4-3 and 9-1, and Atlanta topped New York 9-3.

FIVE SINGLES

Gibson limited the Dodgers to five singles and a walk, and hit his first homer of the year following Dal Maxvill's single with two out in the ninth. A crowd of 43,818 turned out at Dodger Stadium for a special oldtimers ceremony during which the numbers worn by former Dodgers Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Sandy Koufax were retired.

Speaking of Gibson's performance, Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston commented: "He'd have beaten a lot of clubs today. We don't get shut out very often (four times in 46 games). Every time we got someone on base, we hit into a double play."

8TH HOMER

Darrell Evans drove home three runs with his eighth homer of the year and two more with a bases-loaded single in pacing Atlanta's rout over the Mets before a capacity crowd of 52,216 at Shea Stadium. Reliever Ron Schueler (2-1) hurled three-hit ball over the final 6 1-3 innings.

Don Wilson, who has two career no-hitters, had another one going at Montreal before Ron Fairly led off the eighth inning with a single. Wilson then allowed another hit in the ninth in evening his record at 44. Cesar Cedeno broke up a scoreless battle with a homer in the eighth, and Houston wrapped it up with four more runs in the ninth.

BENCH

Johnny Bench doubled home the only two runs of the game in the first inning and Jack Billingham, Tom Hall and Clay Carroll combined for an eight-hit shutout as Cincinnati handed the Phils their 18th defeat in 19 games. The Reds now have won seven in a row.

Randy Hundley's first homer in two years broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth inning and Ferguson Jenkins (6-5) held the edge in Chicago's win at San Diego.

ANGEL CAUGHT — Cleveland Indian catcher Ray Fosse tagged out California Angel center fielder Ken Berry at home plate yesterday in Cleveland. Berry was trying to score from third base on an infield hit, but Indian third baseman Craig Nettles' throw in the third inning nailed the Angel outfielder. (UPI Telephoto)

Schaal Belts First Grand Slam In Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Paul Schaal did something Sunday he had never done in 11 professional baseball seasons — hit a grand slam home run.

SCHAAL

Schaal's grand slam enabled the Royals to capture the opener, 7-5. Left-hander John Curtis, making his first start since being recalled from Louisville, shut out the Royals on seven singles in the nightcap, 4-0.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees, 6-1 and 5-4, the Detroit Tigers beat the Minnesota Twins, 3-0, the Cleveland Indians downed the California Angels, 6-4, and the Texas Rangers routed the Milwaukee Brewers, 10-0.

A crowd of 51,904 — largest Sox' home crowd since July 27, 1954 — saw the White Sox win their opener behind Tom Bradley's six-hitter and take the second game on pinch-hitter Dick Allen's three-run ninth-inning homer off Yankee relief star Sparky Lyle.

SIXTH WIN

Mike Andrews and Carlos May drove in two runs each with singles in the third inning of the first game with Bradley cruising to his sixth win on a six-hitter. Allen's game-winning homer in the ninth inning of the nightcap came after Mike Kekich walked Bill Melton and yielded a single to Andrews. Allen picked a 1-1 pitch by Lyle, who entered the game with 10 saves in 16 relief appearances.

Mike Stanley's two-run homer in the seventh inning was the big blow for the Tigers as Tom Timmerman turned in a four-hitter while striking out six and walking one. The victory gave the Tigers a three-game lead over both the Indians and Orioles in the AL's eastern division.

WILCOX

Milt Wilcox hit a two-run double and allowed three runs in 6⅔ innings before giving way to reliever Ed Farmer as the Indians ended the Angels' five-game winning streak. Alex Johnson homered for the Indians, who dealt Rick Clark his fifth loss against four wins. Leroy Stanton hit his sixth homer of the year for the Angels.

Eleven Rangers batted in a six-run first inning and Rich Hand, Mike Paul and Horacio Pina combined in a six-hitter over the Brewers. Dave Nelson started the Rangers' big inning with a bunt single and finished it with a run-scoring single. Nelson and Ted Ford had three hits each in the Rangers' 14-hit attack.

Tired Allison Wins Mason-Dixon Race

DOVER, Del. (UPI)—Although driving himself to the point of exhaustion, Bobby Allison never considered stopping for a relief driver en route to his victory in Sunday's 500mile Mason-Dixon stock car race.

"I like to finish them myself if I can," Allison said following the NASCAR victory which left him so dehydrated by intense heat it took him five minutes to get out of his 1972 Chevrolet at the end of the race.

Although track temperatures reached 118 degrees during the race, Allison, the defending champion, claimed "I get in condition for it."

HE said he never considered the possibility of making a late pit stop to have a relief driver take over the wheel.

Allison picked up about $13,000 for the win. He credited a changed tire wedge with enabling him to pull ahead of Petty in the last laps.

Leroy Yarborugh finished third in a Mercury, Jackie Oliver, fourth in a mercury and John Sears fifth in a Plymouth.

Pole-sitter Bobby Isaac was in the 13th of 19 cars finishing the race. In qualifying rounds, he had led with a 130.809 speed.

Corder Clouts One

Tom Corder of Novato hit a home run yesterday for Bakersfiald of the California League as the Dodgers' farm club split a doubleheader with the Visalia Mets, winning the first game, 14-5, and losing the nightcap, 8-5. Corder hit his homer in the first game. Bakersfield leads the league by nine games.

schedule and the Giants open a three-game stand on Tuesday against the equally foundering St. Louis Cardinals. The pitching assignments for that series are Rick Wise vs. Steve Stone, Reggie Cleveland vs. Juan Marichal and Seippo Spinks vs. Sam McDowell.

Willie McCovey, who hit a homer in his first game Saturday, played only in the second game Sunday after striking out as a pinch-hitter in the ninth of the opener. Willie seemed to be having trouble with his timing —which is understandable —but said he feels okay and will be ready to play on Tuesday.

"It's almost like going to spring training all over again, for me," said McCovey. "I'm just feeling my way around, but the important thing is that my hand feels fine."

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

After delivering the ball, you should be able to hold your final position for several seconds without difficulty. If you have to hop a bit or otherwise adjust to keep your balance, it's likely your approach has been rushed. If you are not well balanced, you will have difficulty being accurate both on strike and spare balls.

Padre Infielder Has Achilles Tendon Surgery

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—San Diego Padres infielder Dave Campbell was resting today after undergoing surgery Saturday on a ruptured tendon.

Team physician Paul Bauer said Campbell was lost to the National League Padres when his left Achilles tendon ruptured and sent him sprawling in the Chicago-San Diego game Friday night.

"The operation went well, and I have every anticipation that Campbell will be able to play next year," Bauer said.

Mays Race Win By Bobby Unser

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Bobby Unser drove his turbo-charged Eagle-Offenhauser to victory Sunday in the 150-mile Rex Mays Classic, which was held up for 45 minutes when Johnny Rutherford hit the wall after spinning out of a turn.

Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., led all the way from the pole except for about three laps for a mandatory pit stop. He set a new track record in qualifying Saturday of 126.06 miles per hour and his winning time was 109.139 m.p.h.

Unser led the field of 34 cars and finished four seconds ahead of Mark Donohue, the Newton Square, Pa., driver who won the Indianapolis 500 this year.

In third place was Gary Bettenhausen, of Tinley Park., Ill., driving a McLaren-Offenhauser. Billy Vukovitch of Fresno, Calif., in an Eagle-Offenhauser was fourth and Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., in a Parnelli-Offy, finished fifth.

The 45-vinute halt in the race came in the 42nd lap when Rutherford, of Fort Worth, Tex., smashed his Eagle-Offy into the wall after spinning out of the north turn.

He leaped from the car as it burst into flame and suffered only minor hand and foot burns. Oil and gas from his car spread onto the track and caught fire, delaying the race.

Donohue and Bettenhausen, both on the McLaren team, fought a duel in the last few laps and with only six laps to go Donohue passed Bettenhausen to drop his teammate into third.

Admission Talks At NHL Meeting

MONTREAL (UPI)—The annual National Hockey League meeting open today, with highlights of the four-day convention expected to include the admission of two new teams for the 1974-75 season and the drafting of 42 players by the new Atlanta and Long Island teams, scheduled to begin play next fall.

Today's schedule includes meetings of the rules committee and the players-owners council, along with the intra-league draft.

The NHL owners held a special meeting two weeks ago in New York on applications which would increase the 16-team setup to 18 in two years. At that time, the Governors heard 10 applications from eight cities, then asked for more time to reach a decision. Their final choice, admitting two more teams to the NHL, is expected to be made before the end of this week.

NHL President Clarence Campbell praised the applicants and their "high quality" presentations, saying, "the Governors and myself have been overwhelmed with the fine enthusiasm shown by the applicants and this I must admit is a pleasant problem."

The fledgling Atlanta and Long Island teams have already put up part of their $6 million franchise fee and will stock their teams in Tuesday's expansion draft.

The 14 existing teams will be allowed to protect 15 skaters plus two goalies at the outset. As they lose one player, they can fill in with another from their own list. No team can give up more than three players and clubs that gave goalies in the Buffalo-Vancouver draft two years ago are exempt this year from losing another goalie.

Three other drafts this week will also see a number of players change clubs.

The inter-league draft Tuesday gives NHL clubs an opportunity to obtain American Hockey League and Western Hockey League personnel.

The reverse draft, in which NHL clubs make certain players available to the AHL and WHL, will be held Thursday. This draft has two phases, with players going for $15,000 in the first half and $7,500 in the second.

The big plum will be the draft of amateur players which closes the meetings Thursday afternoon. The finest junior and college graduate players will be available to all 16 teams, with Atlanta and Long Island getting first choices, and the other clubs following in the reverse order of last year's regular season finish.

However, Montreal Canadiens' General Manager Sam Pollock, an experienced trader and dealer in professional hockey, has managed to secure four of the first round choices in the amateur draft —his own, plus three others from earlier deals.

Several trades also are likely after the intra-league and expansion drafts. The trading deadline passed in May without any special deals, and the lists were then frozen until after the expansion clubs chose their players.

There is always a flurry of activity along the trading market at the annual sessions, and since the intra-league draft price is $40,000, teams often pass up an available player in hopes of making a man-for-man trade for him.

THIS DAY IN SPORTS

Bruins' Green In Draft

MONTREAL (UPI)—Veteran defenseman Teddy Green, who made a comeback after being critically injured in a stick fight, has been left unprotected by the Boston Bruins in the intra-league draft at the National Hockey League meetings.

Milt Schmidt, Boston's general manager, said Sunday, "I had to think of the future.

"Look, we have some older players and I have to think about what's best for the team overall. I didn't like to put up Teddy, but in all logic, I had to."

This led to speculation that Green either would be drafted by the Vancouver Canucks, who have the first draft pick today, or would sign with Winnipeg in the World Hockey Association, which drafted him earlier. He is a native of Winnipeg.

Winning Diet For British Golfer

SANDWICH, England (UPI)—Strange as it may seem, tongue sandwiches, bananas, tomatoes and coke are what British Amateur golf champions are made of.

Homer ate exactly the same lunch every day of the week-long British tournament, including Saturday when he beat 43-year-old Alan Thirlwell in an all-English 36-hole final to win the title at Royal St. Georges.

"I'm superstitious," the 28-year old golfer said after his 4 and 3 win, the first major victory of his amateur career. "So I did not want to take a chance on a change of diet affecting my luck."

Kemp Richardson of Huntington Beach, Calif., is not superstitious and certainly did not restrict his eating habits to such an extent.

But the 26-year-old stockbroker, who survived longest of the 43-strong original American challenge, had every reason to curse the ill-luck that caused his downfall in Friday's quarter-finals.

After being taken to extra holes by Thirlwell, runner-up in this tournament 14 years ago, Richardson got all the bad breaks to lose at the 20th. He was robbed of victory when Thirlwell chipped in from off the green at the 19th and then saw a fickle wind plug his tee shot at the next hole under the lip of a trap to end his hopes.

It was the first final since 1968 without an American involved. Best placer after Richardson was Walker cupped Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., who reached the fifth round Thursday. Marty West of Washington, D.C., and John Arnold Cameron of Dallas, Texas., bowed out in the fourth round.

Belgium Grand Prix Taken By Fittipaldi

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

NIVELLES, Belgium — Emerson Fittipaldi's problem is that he does not know how good he is.

Fittipaldi was still talking modestly yesterday after winning the 30th Grand Prix of Belgium. It was his second Grand Prix victory of the season and his fourth Formula One success in nine races.

He completed the 316.54 kilometers (196.7 miles) in one hour, 44 minutes, 6.7 seconds, an average speed of 113.353 miles per hour. He won by 27 seconds over Francois Cevert of France and Denis Hulme of New Zealand.

"Talk of me succeeding (Jackie) Stewart as champion is just that —talk," said Fittipaldi. "We have a long way to go yet and anything can happen. At the moment things are running for us, but in our sport they can change overnight."

Baseball

Track and Field

LOS ANGELES — George Woods, an Olympic silver medalist in 1968, became the third man in history to break the 70-foot barrier in the shot put yesterday when he uncorked an effort of 70-1 3/4 at the Compton Invitational Track Meet. The others were Randy Matson and Al Feverbach.

Football

CHICAGO — Ray May, linebacker of the Baltimore Colts, won the Byron R. (Whizzer) White Humanitarian Award given by the National Football League Players Association last night.

PITTSBURGH — Steve Joachim, considered by coach Joe Paterno as the top sophomore quarterback ever to play for Penn State, has decided to play his junior and senior seasons somewhere else.

"I have to find a place where they throw the ball," Joachim said yesterday. He indicated he was leaning toward Temple, near his home town of Haverford, Pa.

Basketball

EDINBURG, Tex. — The trial begins today for two Pan American University basketball stars, Leo "The Lion" Tolis and Reese Stovall, on charges of rape and assault to rape two coeds in a campus dormitory.

LOS ANGELES — Bill Walton, star center of the UCLA basketball team, has been hospitalized for an infection and will remain at the UCLA Medical Center for a week to 10 days, it was disclosed yesterday. The nature of the infection was not revealed.

Golf

TOWSON, Md. — Carol Mann ended a seven-year victory drought at the course closest to her own home town yesterday when she won the $30,000 Lady Carling Open golf tournament. She came from two strokes off the pace by tying the women's course record yesterday with a six-under-par 67 for a 54-hole total of 210.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — The Texas Open, the granddaddy of pro golf's winter tour, probably will be revivied this fall after a lapse of one year with the pro golfers themselves backing the event with cash. Contracts have not been signed, but all signs pointed to the event's resumption either the first or second weekend in November as a $125,000 stop on the tour.

Rowing

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — The University of Pennsylvania won the varisty eight-oared event Saturday in the 70th annual National Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta on Oondaga Lake. Wisconsin won the Ten Eyck trophy, emblematic of the school with the best over-all showing.

Awards Night

Terra Linda High School spring sports awards night will be tomorrow beginning at 7 o'clock in the high school's gymnasium. Honored will be those who participated in baseball, track and field, golf, tennis, swimming and gymnastics.

PHILS' MANAGER

Son Defends His Father

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Turn the clock back a few years. Turn it back to when you were 7.

You're no different than any other healthy, red-blooded 7-year-old boy.

You hear the kids on the block talking about this fresh batch of bubble gum cards they've just gotten in at the neighborhood drug store so you fish out that quarter you've been keeping in your pocket for this kind of crisis and you hurry up to where they're selling these cards because you don't want to get shut out.

You look at the picture on one of the cards. By golly, it's your father!

WORKED UP

You're so worked up, so carried away by the whole thing, you can hardly say your own name. You've got to show this to all the other kids on the block. And that's what you do.

"Hey, look! This is my Dad."

The others circle around you, skeptically, curiously, the way all kids do. They inspect the card closely to make sure it really is your father, and then one of them, the biggest one, naturally, pipes up:

"He stinks, and so do the rest of the Phillies."

You don't believe your ears.

Wars have been fought over less.

You're Bryan Lucchesi, an exceptionally sensitive, well-behaved boy, but this time you don't wait for any draft call.

It is now one year later. Bryan Lucchesi is 8 and some of the kids in the neighborhood still haven't let up. Maybe it's because he lives only five blocks from the stadium in the Packer Park section of Philadelphia, or more likely because the Phillies have dropped 18 of their last 19 ball games, but now and then he'll still hear some kid on the block say, "your father won't be around here managing too long."

Maybe yes, and maybe no, but the Phils did make a move over the weekend when Paul Owens replaced John Quinn as general manager and that has to take at least a little of the heat off the club's field manager.

FATHER

Bryan's father, Frank Lucchesi, manages the Phillies and is doing the best he can with what he has. What he has isn't much.

Some of those things the other kids say to his son bother Frank Lucchesi, but he realizes kids will always be kids.

What hurts more is that the Phillies started off so well, eth-then suddenly plummeted toward the bottom, and what hurts most is the absence of the optimism shown by the entire club only a few weeks ago.

THIRD YEAR

This is Lucchesi's third year with the Phillies. Despite their record, unmistakable signs of improvement are apparent.

During Lucchesi's first year, he stuck with frail, nail-biting Larry Bowa and Bowa gradually established himself as a major league shortstop. Last year Lucchesi brought along Willie Montanez nicely, and this year he's doing a fine job with rugged Greg Luzinski.

No matter what, Bryan Lucchesi's father will stay with 'em until he falls down, and then he'll simply pick himself up and start all over again.

Children's Apparel, Gift Store To Open At Lark Creek Shoppes

The White Rabbit, a new children's apparel and gift shop, will open in August at 244 Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, at Lark Creek Shoppes near Lark Creek Inn.

Three energetic housewives with work experience in leading fashion stores have formed a corporation to operate a shop dealing in custom children's apparel, small antiques and women's gifts. They are Constance (Connie) J. Feder and Sandra M. Kretchmer of San Rafael and Marjorie W. Schlobohm of Novato.

Mrs. Kretchmer has a degree in merchandising and worked two years at Livingston's in San Francisco. Mrs. Feder worked for Saks Fifth Avenue in San Francisco, and Mrs. Schlobohm at Lord and Taylor in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Schlobohm is now in Durope looking for merchandise for the store. Mrs. Kretchmer also plans a similar mission to Europe later this year, while Mrs. Feder plans a buying tour in New England in August.

Mercer Baenziger

MRS. CAY MERCER of Belvedere has been named director of promotions and special projects at Interpacific Services, San Francisco.

She has been closely associated with the travel industry for 27 years, working with her late husband Sam N. Mercer, who was an executive with Pacific Far East Lines, American President Lines, and other travel organizations.

Richard Banks, general manager of Interpacific, said Mrs. Mercer will work in the travel division. The company is active in foreign trade, property management and general sales agency operations.

Mrs. Mercer is the author of the Hawaiian cookbook, "Wikiwiki Kaukau" (Quick Cooking). She lived for many years in Hawaii and in the Philippines and for a short time in Port Moresby and Sydney, Australia.

ALBERT F. BAENZIGER of San Rafael, assistant manager of Crocker Bank's Tiburon-Belvedere office, has been appointed assistant manager of the bank's Van Ness-California office in San Francisco.

A native of Massachusetts, Baenziger joined Crocker Bank in 1966 and has served in administrative capacities in several branches in the Bay Area.

DYNASIX CORP., headquartered at Northgate Industrial Park in San Rafael, has purchased 6,100 acres of the Wickersham Ranch (west of new Lake Sonoma) in Sonoma County for re-sale to the public in 160-acre parcels. The purchase price was in excess of $1 million.

James Hechim of Novato, vice president of Dynasix, said the company's aim to to reclaim the extensively logged and overgrazed ranches in the area, thus reversing the ecological imbalance "In many cases, the cost of a reclamation program on large ranches is economically unfeasible from the rancher's standpoint," Hechim said. "But land in smaller parcels, such as 160 acres, urges the owners of these smaller parcels to take advantage of government programs to upgrade the land."

Dynasix has negotiated access agreements so that each parcel has a 60-foot right of way for general road and utility purposes which will start at Skaggs Springs Road and enter the southeastern corner of the ranch. Existing roads on the ranch have been graded, sloped and drained for watershed.

VAN C. ATHANASAKOS of 3 Mount Darwin Court in Lucas Valley has been named vice president for finance by Fox & Carskadon Financial Corp.

Athanasakos, who has been associated with accounting and management consulting firms, was former director of information systems for Sutro and Co. in San Francisco.

JOHN A. GOVI of San Rafael has been named manager of the San Rafael district of the California State Automobile Association. He succeeds William F. Lennon, who was appointed manager of the Petaluma district.

Govi began his career with CSAA in 1955 as a sales representative in the Vallejo district. He was promoted to sales manager in Sacramento in 1957 and was appointed manager of San Francisco sales in 1962.

VOTERS of San Rafael precinct 1200 will be served pastries and cookies tomorrow when they go to their polling place at 221 Third Street in the Montecito shopping center.

That's because the poll happens to be the new offices of Homestead Savings and Loan Association, which will use the polling place fee received from the county to buy goodies for the voters.

"We're happy to offer our services during the election," said branch manager Gene DiBasilio. "As a new facility, it will give us a chance to introduce ourselves to more people of the community."

"CREATIVE Problem Solving" will be discussed at a daylong seminar for managers, at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael on June 14.

University of California Extension will present the seminar to show how creative behavior can be put to use in managerial practices to eliminate creative blocks and develop self-confidence, sensitivity to problems, originality and flexibility.

Seminary leader will be M. O. Edwards, Palo Alto management consultant and former director of the Midwest Creative Problem Solving Institute at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn. Further details are available at Continuing Education in Management, U.C. Extension, 2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley.

New Castle-Cooke Executive Announced

Cargo Theft Losses Pass $500,000

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Fragmentary figures on cargo theft losses in California and Washington — mostly trucking losses — total more than $528,000 since the first of the year.

E. J. Halm, manager of the National Automobile Theft Bureau's Pacific Coast division, said his organization has just begun to compile a centralized record of cargo losses. "The reports are far from complete, but thefts are frequent and costly," he said.

The $528,500 in losses represented 22 cargo thefts reported to NATB by selected insurers. Reports from other states and insurance companies in the 10-state division have not yet been put into a central file, Halm said.

Nationally, cargo thefts "have become a growing problem," Halm said, with an annual drain on the economy of from $8 billion to $10 billion, according to figures compiled by the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Small Business.

Market In Big Slide During The Early Trade

NEW YORK (UPI)—Profit taking helped accelerate a sharp stock market slide during the first hour today, with airlines taking one of the largest beatings.

The market, which had a strong runup in the past three weeks, has run out of steam and may be in for a sharp adjustment, some analysts aid. Profit taking at this time would be normal, they suggested.

Others noted there is little in the news background to stimulate investors. Most of the econcomy has been encouraging, but analysts said investors already have discounted this.

American Airlines was the most active issue, down 1 3-8 at 43 3-8 because of a block of 261,000 shares at 41 1-2, down 3 1-4. UAL Inc. was second, off 2 5-8 at 45 5-8 in trading that included a block of 96,700 shares at 45, off 3 1-4. Curtiss-Wright was third, off 1 3- 8 at 40 3-4, and Delta Airlines was fourth, off 2 1-8 at 53 1-2.

Some analysts said airlines have reached their peak prices and profit taking is now in order. Others trading lower were National, down 2 1-2, and Northwest, Flying Tiger, TWA and Eastern, around a point each.

Bechtel Agreement With Tokyo Firms

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bechtel Corp. has announced that a tripartite protocol agreement was signed in Tokyo with two major Japanese engineering construction firms.

Bechtel, Kajima Corp. and Taisei Construction Co., Ltd., will cooperate in projects in Japan, Southeast Asia and other nations, according to terms of the pact.

Airline Bonds Good For Future Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought 5M American Airlines 11s of 1988 at par and 5M TWA 11s of 1986 at 108. These were purchased for their high return. Should my wife survive me, her only income would be from Social Security interest and dividends, as my pension terminates at my death. We also hold the enclosed list of common stocks. Should I settle for less income from safer bonds? — M.J.

A. Both airlines have experienced a turnaround in operations. As a result of a three-way pact in conjunction with United Air Lines, capacity has been cut on four major domestic routes. The pact, which expires in September, is expected to receive CAB approval for extension beyond that date.

TWA increased its load factor on these routes from 33.9 to 49.8 per cent in the 6 months through March. For the month of May, TWA reported a 7.8 per cent increase in domestic traffic and a 24.4 per cent rise in international passenger revenue miles. American's management expects 1972 results will be encouraging and the second quarter profitable.

Your bonds are selling well above par value indicative of market appraisal of the bonds' safety and investment appeal. Hold for income.

Q. At the present time, I have about a 10-to-12 point loss in Textron. Should I hold or sell? I am interested in growth. — R.J.

A. Textron's (NYSE) takeover of American Research & Development has added an important new dimension to the structure of this mammoth conglomerate. A.R. & D.'s portfolio, after the distribution of Digital Equipment shares, has a value of about $85 million. This venture capital company holds shares of more than 40 companies, many of which are also publicly held.

Earnings for the parent company — A.R. & D will be operated as an independent subsidiary — are expected by management to reach record levels this year. In the first quarter, profits rose 10 per cent on a 5.5 per cent gain in sales. Consumer, industrial and metal product groups led, in the order given, the strong showing of the initial quarter. Hold for recovery.

WATER — SOUTH MARIN

Two of the three candidates are 28 years old. One a doctor, the other a school teacher. Both want to limit the right of the people to move into the area with the resulting depreciation of property values. I know, I can't sell my property in Bolinas because of the moratorium. For a better Marin, please vote for Willard Hall, an engineer with many years of actual experience in the water utility field.

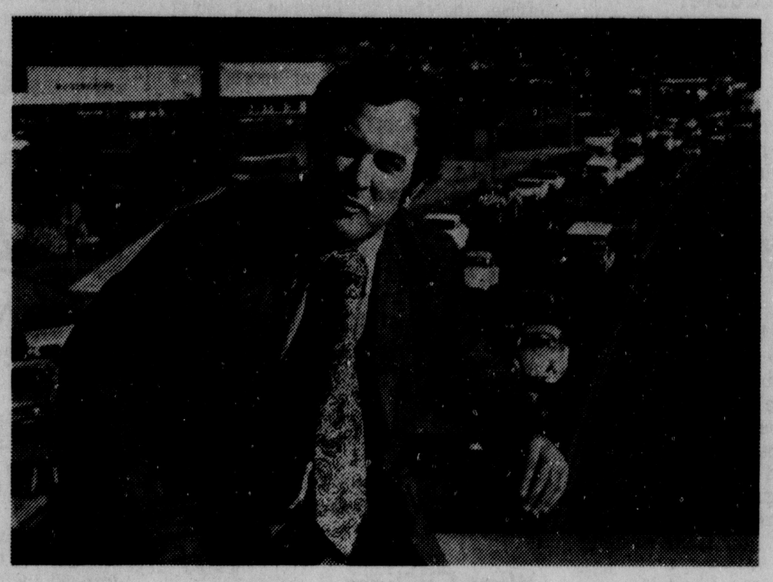
"Point A can be a long and polluted way from point B, in a county that doesn't have adequate transit alternatives to the automobile."



"51 per cent of the people who live in Marin work in Marin. Yet, the only way someone in Corte Madera can get to work in San Rafael is by car. There are 30,000 elderly citizens in Marin who often have no mode of transportation. The ramifications of this are obvious; congestion equals paralysis—the flow of commercial and social activity is inhibited and everyone pays. If Marin does not begin initiating alternatives to the automobile, such as the use of rail service on the existing NWP right of way and compact inter-community service, we will face a future so congested and polluted as to be no future at all."

Collective Bargaining Vs. Right To Know

There was a bit of a flap in Mill Valley last week. Jean Barnard, who just took over the mayor's chair, turned out to have appointed a committee to deal with an employee grievance without bringing the matter up at a city council meeting.

As this is written, Mill Valley's city manager and city attorney are researching to find out whether what Mayor Barnard did was all according to law. Whether it was or not, the issue it presents is of importance to everybody.

MADAME MAYOR'S unilateral appointments were to a committee to handle a grievance brought by Local 2167, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO. This is the union that represents Mill Valley's employees in negotiations with the city.

Mrs. M. Golden, union steward in the city library, in a letter to the editor which appeared last Thursday emphasized that the procedure used by Mayor Barnard was entirely in accord with the union's grievance procedure.

We don't doubt it.

ALSO ENTIRELY in accord with union procedures are the closed meetings between negotiators named to represent city or county and those appointed by the unions. These closed-door negotiations, which result in commitments that become public only after they already have been made, fix salaries and working conditions for the public's employees.

Even what the unions are asking (or demanding) need not be made public, except in the school districts, which come under a special law.

Behind those closed doors, the decisions are reached which obligate over 60 per cent of the county's budget and even higher percentages of some city budgets (about 70 per cent in Mill Valley, according to Mayor Barnard).

The money for these comes out of taxes — yours and ours.

THERE ARE LAWS on the books to prevent city councils and boards of supervisors from obligating the taxpayers' money without public hearings at which the taxpayers can object. Yet other laws permit closed-door negotiations with employee representatives which result in commitments the public can in no way invalidate. City councils and boards of supervisors empower their negotiators to commit our tax money without our knowledge.

Thus, 60 to 70 per cent of the spending of our local governments is placed entirely beyond our control.

It is argued that there is no difference between such secret union negotiations on behalf of employees in private industry and on behalf of public employees. There is great difference.

Those who do the closed-door negotiating with the public employees are not answerable for the payroll. We taxpayers are.

NEARLY 30 YEARS ago, President Franklin D. Roosevelt (certainly no enemy of organized labor) declared:

"All government employees should realize that the process of collective bargaining as we understand it cannot be transplanted into the public service."

It was true when he said it then. It is still true today.

Honeysuckle

Honeysuckle vines grow wild over Marin's fences, walls, and an occasional tree trunk. They are undistinguished in appearance. But they cannot be missed. All through the summer, and especially on warm evenings, their blossoms fill the air with a fragrance so lovely and rich we can almost taste it. It is a fragrance so appealling to the highly subjective olfactory sense that we have found few people who did not enjoy it.

Honeysuckle is wild nature's gift of fragrance to the people of Marin.

Photogenic Raccoons

Few Marin animals, except perhaps the deer and the rabbits, are as photogenic as raccoons. But getting their pictures is a bit of a problem. They are strictly nocturnal. Most of us use a flash. But our personal raccoons are not so tame that we can get close enough for a good picture. We set up the camera so that it could be triggered by a pull of a fishline in the house. But raccoons are so curious about everything that we were a bit worried that they might fool around with the camera and knock it off the feeding table.

They were a bit leery of the contraption at first. Before long, one was bold enough to venture a close inspection. He licked it with a long tongue, decided it was inedible and harmless, and turned his attention elsewhere.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Gun Control Good Idea, But Is It Enforceable?

In reference to your letter of May 24 entitled "What More Needed For Gun Control Law?". . .

Suppose an effective gun control law was in effect today which required all firearms to be registered. Would all murders and assassinations by firearms cease? Would every criminal immediately rush to the nearest police department to have his gun registered? Unfortunately I just don't believe that either will happen.

Of course nobody wants criminals to possess firearms but logically gun control isn't the way to stop murders and assassinations. For example, how can gun control stop would-be assassins who have no criminal background?. . .None of the more recent assassins had any more of a criminal background than you or I. . .

The point is that guns are here to stay and no law enforcement is going to stop one man with one gun from shooting somebody else. . .

Gun control in itself is not bad as an idea but to try and enforce such a policy would be herculean. In fact the only possible way that any gun law could work is to have each gun owner or potential gun owner undergo an intensive psychiatric examination to determine emotional stability. It may be an absurd idea but it is actually the only logical one. And it probabably wouldn't work either.

Sale Of Personal Data By State Charged

According to the latest veterans magazine I have received and according to legislation passed in Congress, we the people are entitled to privacy and a guard against the invasion of our privacy by the "Fair Credit Reporting Act of 1970." This is a laugh of the century. The power-mad, all-powerful Department of Motor Vehicles makes money "on the side" by selling all your personal information — they have bank reports, insurance reports, personal habit reports, driving reports, etc., etc. on you. They sell this information indiscriminately to all "snooper," credit investigators, banks, collection agencies, etc., etc. for certain fees.

Where they "steal" the information, I do not know. But every day the large so-called law-abiding bureau violates the law and your constitutional rights. When does this hideous practice stop, Mr. State Sen. Peter Behr?

Improved Coverage Of Track Appreciated

On behalf of the Marin County Athletic League track coaches, may I take a moment to acknowledge your sports coverage for high school athletics this spring. Sports coverage in the Independent-Journal has fluctuated tremendously the past few years, but this spring, primarily due to Mr. Lew Coddington's efforts, the coverage given to all sports has reached a high point with your newspaper. Attention given to track and the other so-called "minor sports" has been consistent — something lacking in the past. Attempts to keep all readers informed of league standings and the important struggles of the past season have been realistic and accurate.

We as coaches tend to be rather critical people — whether it be of ourselves or others. May it please you to know that the track coaches, at our last meeting, felt that this year's total coverage of Marin County high school athletics and, in particular, track and field, was worthy of praise and our thanks on a job well done.

What Civilians Need Hamilton Field?

Will conservation groups please tell me — since the I-J hasn't: Why is the board of supervisors trying to make Hamilton Field share its facilities with civilians? What civilians? Whose convenience will be served by opening Marin Air-Space to those few civilians who operate private aircraft? How many of them live in Marin? We have acess to Oakland and San Francisco airports — do we need or want our clean and reasonably quiet air polluted without reason?

I don't understand why this very important subject hasn't been taken up by concerned people. Let's hear from you, please.

Despicable To Turn Back On Country

I must respond to Robert Moore's diatribe against the country and his country's flag. And somewhere I have read, or heard, that a man who is disloyal to his country lives in exile.

All of, I am certain, want our country, which we love, and those people whom we love to be perfect, but, alas, this is very unrealistic and wishful thinking. If one believes in the perfectibility of man and realizes that imperfect men govern countries, then it is basic logic to assume that since the ones who govern are not perfect (not here, not yet!) neither will the countries they govern be perfect.

I would hope my country will always be right, as I would hope my mother will have always been sober, but, if the one should be occasionally pressured into being wrong, or the other to have been pressured into becoming an alcoholic — to turn my back on either and to have walked away would have been disloyal and despicable!

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, June 5, the 157th day of 1972 with 209 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Gemini.

Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the leader of Nationalist China, was born June 5, 1897.

On this day in history:

In 1966 American astronaut Gene Cernan left Gemini 9 for a two-hour, 10 minute spacewalk.

In 1968 Robert Kennedy was shot in Los Angeles by Sirhan B. Sirhan, a 24-year-old Arab. The senator died shortly after and Sirhan remains in prison with a life sentence.

U.S.-Soviet Arms Agreement Assured Of Senate Approval

The White House has good reason to be confident that the Nixon-Brezhnev nuclear arms agreement will get the necessary two-thirds Senate approval. They have counted heads and see nothing near to the 34 votes which would be needed to defeat it.

There will be full-length hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but this will be one matter on which its usual anti-administration majority will be decisively with the President.

There will be flashes of sharp opposition from some conservative senators and retired military leaders, but it is evident that this capstone of the Moscow summit reflects dominant opinion in the country and in both parties in Congress.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S STRONG POSITION. President Nixon knew from the start that a U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms pact, which he would deem acceptable, could only be defeated in the Senate if the nation's top military leaders strongly opposed its terms.

This is why Nixon brought the Joint Chiefs of Staff into the middle of all the advanced planning for SALT. They shared in developing the U.S. negotiating position. Further, Nixon put the actual negotiating into the hands of a trusted, hard-line diplomat, Ambassador Gerard C. Smith, who has the confidence of the military.

The Joint Chiefs will collectively and individually support ratification with one warning — that the United States must use the provisions of the treaty which permit both sides to exchange outdated nuclear weapons for more advanced nuclear weapons.

IS THE COLD WAR NOW OVER? The candid answer is no, but it has been considerably contained. There are still some very sensitive areas of the world where U.S.-Soviet confrontations cannot be ruled out, as in the Middle East.

But the Nixon-Brezhnev meeting made large headway in removing some major causes of the cold war, not just reducing tension. The joint enterprises in space, science, environment, medicine and arms control could become constructively habit-forming.

HOW NIXON PLANNED THE MOSCOW SUMMIT. Every U.S.-Soviet summit conference, including the two at which Britain and France were also present, has either accomplished nothing or left things worse than they were before.

There have been five such since the end of World War II: Geneva, Paris, Camp David, Vienna and Glassboro. They were all futile.

What made the Nixon-Brezhnev meeting different? Both sides had learned from past experience, and there was readiness to co-operate.

But Nixon applied two of his own concepts of summitry which paid off. He felt that details, and then negotiations, on every issue the summit would cover were essential to success. Example: Thirty months of advanced negotiation went into the arms agreement. Nixon also believed that some delicate issues could only be resolved at the top.

This is exactly what happened. The advanced SALT talks made agreement possible, but Brezhnev and Nixon alone were able to tesolve three areas of differences.

REMEMBER WHY KHRUSHCHEV KILLED THE PARIS SUMMIT? He came to Paris but refused to sit down with President Eisenhower. He walked out before the meeting even began. His stated reason — because the United States had sent U-2 spy planes over Soviet territory.

Things have changed. The U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms treaty provides for the very kind of inspection Khrushchev used to blast the Paris summit. It permits surveillance overflights to protect against violations of the treaty and guarantees that neither side will interfere with such inspection.

'Sea Mammal Protection Bill' Strikes At Eskimos' Livelihood

As soon as the wind opened a "lead" in the ice pack covering the Arctic Ocean, the men vigorously chopped a trail through the hard-packed ice ridges and dragged their skin boats to the edge of open water. They built camps with ice barriers against the ceaseless, knifelike wind, and waited and watched for bowhead whales to migrate past the point.

When one was spotted within chasing distance, the sentry on duty spread the word and they rushed their boats after it. If they caught up, they shot it with an explosive dart and attached floats to keep it from sinking, then towed it back to the ice. A flag was run up on the team captain's house in town, and the whole population ran out onto the ice to watch the butchering and get their share of muktuk.

IT HAS BEEN a good spring because so far the village has taken 16 whales, and slabs of meat are stacked outside many houses in Barrow. Sixteen whales is not a lot by commercial whaling standards, but it makes a banner year for one Eskimo village. And that difference — between the mass catch of whales and other sea mammals by mechanized outsiders on the one hand, and the small but vital catches by Eskimos who have made a living from the sea for at least 6,000 years on the other — is at the heart of an emotional controversy between Alaskan natives and the Congress of the United States.

The House has passed, and the Senate is considering, a "sea mammal protection bill" that is shot through with loopholes that favor large-scale sealskin dealers in New York and South Carolina, for example, while limiting the Eskimo's catch to what he can eat and turn into handicraft articles with his own hands.

An outcry against it has risen from Barrow, Kotzebue, Nome, Bethel, and from the cities where friends of hunters in those Eskimo villages have access to media that might reach back to Washington.

One supporter asserted that "the bill as it now stands will surely drive into extinction those land mammals dependent on the ocean mammals, and those are none other than the Eskimos." Another Alaskan suggests that "we take two Eskimos, two Indians and two Aleuts and put them in zoos for preservation" — or call for volunteers to be stuffed and mounted in museums along with other extinct species.

THAT MAY overdramatize the situation. The native is not totally dependent on sea hunting, as he used to be. Here in Barrow, many have jobs at the Navy Arctic Research Laboratory, or at the government school or the government hospital. Many get government food stamps. Everyone who has his own transportation now uses snowmobiles (fueled by $1-a-gallon gasoline) rather than dog sleds, so the tremendous amount of meat formerly needed to feed working dog teams is no longer essential.

But what little extra cash the Eskimo makes still comes mostly from locally made fur mukluks, parkas, dolls and walrus-tusk carvings, or from sending those raw materials inland for crafting. The Eskimo has existed for centuries by using every ounce of every whale, every polar bear, seal, walrus he killed — for his own food, for his dogs, for his own clothing, for barter to other villages, for sale to outsiders.

Yet, altogether, despite wastefulness that has grown in recent years, he has made only a tiny dent in the sea mammal population. It is the outsider, the white man in it for high profit rather than subsistence, who has decimated the animals.

THE NATIVES of Barrow take three or four polar bears in an average year. Hunters from outside, using airplanes to range far out over the icecap, took 60 in this area this spring alone. The typical polar bear hunter is a Texas oilman or some other sportsman affluent enough to afford about $7,500 to bag his trophy; the Eskimo down on the ice surface takes only those bears he blunders into, and each at potential danger to his own life.

Even grosser disproportions exist between the Eskimo catch of whales or seals and those taken by highly mechanized whaling fleets or the mass clubbing slaughter of baby seals in the Canadian arctic each year.

The Eskimo thinks, in short, that he is being discriminated against. There have been congressional hearings at which he has said so. His friends are taking up a collection now to send a delegation to protest in Washington. But the wholesale fur dealers in New York and elsewhere have reached Congress already.

The prospect today is that the bill will keep the United States wide open to large-scale fur trade, and thus the animals involved will be cut down as ruthlessly as ever.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

June 5, 1962

Charles E. Simpson, Monterey police chief, concluded a study of the San Rafael Police Department with a report that urged revision of the city charter to make the police chief appointive.

Secy. of the Treasury John F. Dillon said the Kennedy administration would propose a top-to-bottom reduction in federal income taxes in 1963.

20 YEARS AGO

Marin voters put Vera L. Schultz and Stephen Balzan into a run-off for county supervisor from the Third District, and incumbent William D. Fusselman and Carmel Booth into a runoff in the Second District.

Another run-off was forced for Marin Municipal Court judge, between Richard M. Sims and John J. Miller.

Corte Madera Cracks Down On Those Sneaky Tennis Players

The Corte Madera Town Council, never known as a group to coddle to the criminal element, has issued a new hard-line policy to its police force.

First target of this get-tough approach is that hard-core ring of 11 and 12-year-olds which sometimes frequents the town's tennis courts holding up everyone else's game.

Alas, the young tykes — who somehow have learned that a flat, paved surface is ideal for tennis — are to be banished from the playing area on weekends and holidays unless accompanied by parents.

Not only banished, but — if the situation warrants — subject to misdemeanor arrest and a chance to cool their sneakers in the county's pokey.

THE TOWN COUNCIL also has ordered the same ration of justice for anyone caught on the courts without tennis shoes, spending more than five minutes warming up, playing more than one set, etc., etc.

EVER WONDER if that welfare pie is really as good as it looks? Why not ask someone who eats it.

Under a new public information program sponsored by the Marin County Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee, some county residents may get a chance.

As outlined by members of the committee, the new program will provide just about any group or organization a welfare recipient willing to discuss life on welfare.

The program has already been tested with surprising success, especially among high school students, the committee reports. "They are willing to ask questions about all they've heard their parents say," one member explained.

The idea behind the speaking program is to fight the "welfare image" by showing "We're just average people except we're poor," a young mother said.

PUBLIC APPEARANCES comprise the second new program initiated by the committee, which was created to advise the welfare department on the needs of the indigent.

Several months ago the group's public information subcommittee launched a new program to answer inquiries about the welfare program provided the questions didn't infringe on recipients' privacy.

Public response to the offer was good initially but has slowed down, members report.

Persons with questions about either program may write Robert R. Beebe of the information subcommittee, care of Family and Children's Services Committee, P.O. Box 4160, Civic Center Branch, San Rafael.

Dramatists Workshop Is Announced

The Marin Shakespeare Festival and Tamalpais High School District will cooperate in an 11-week high school students' drama workshop beginning June 19, according to Susan Walker, executive director for the festival.

Students will earn high school credits while they study both acting and stagecraft. Dan Caldwell, head of the Tamalpais High School drama department, and Robert Greenwood, music department chief, will lead the course.

Other instructors will come from Redwood High School, Reed College, San Francisco City College, and the professional staff of the Shakespeare Festival.

Classes will be held at Tamalpais High and at the Festival's outdoor theater in Forest Meadows, San Rafael.

Big Endians Vs. Little Endians: Swift Anticipated Sociologists

Jonathan Swift once divided the human race according to the ways its members cracked their breakfast eggs: Big Endians and Little Endians. He was, of course, exaggerating — just barely — the awful compulsion men have to classify the friendlies and the hostiles: Our Kind and Everybody Else.

The Greeks were practically that blunt about it. They divided the world into two parts: Greeks and barbarians. The root meaning of barbarians — "men with beards" — suggests a sad fact. Big Endian-Little Endian distinctions tend to emphasize only what is superficially different and strange.

Yet the consequences can be far from trivial. To set up categories is to introduce value judgements — the Ins and the Outs, the Good Guys and the Bad Guys. Push Big Endian-Little Endian words to their limits and ghettos and even concentration camps materialize.

NONE OF THE TRADITIONAL Big Endian-Little Endian methods of separating men from men — by race, by nation, by ideology — have been abandoned in the 20th century. But thanks to the latter-day inventions of psychology and sociology, people are now also divided according to temperament and life-style. There are the introverts and the extroverts, the hip and the square, and so on. Nobody who uses these terms needs to be told how loaded they are. But on the whole, they start fewer wars.

Nietzsche was the Milton Bradley of these intellectual parlor games. He divided men into Apollonians and Dionysians. Apollonians, like the Greek god they are named after, are devotees of reason, law, moderation. Dionysians subscribe to passion and ecstasy; you call it "chaos," they call it "creativity."

Spengler, another German, may be all-time champion at "What's My Type?" He invented, among other types, Faustian men, defined as limit-exceeding boundary-busters who sent Gothic spires thrusting into the sky in search of infinity during the Middle Ages and now, presumably, are sending up rockets, probing for that secular version of infinity: the future.

THE LATEST Nietzschean gamesman is a British professor, now teaching in the United States. In "Cities of Light and Sons of the Morning," Martin Green extrapolates from his own position. He is, he decides, an Erasmian — liberal rather than radical, a man of ideas rather than actions, a dreamer of the triumph of moderation and reason. An "antienthusiastic" man of the "soggy, would-be center," a man "never carried away," a don, Green is measured even in his self-contempt.

In that self-contempt he envies the polarizers: the contemporary world's two brands of revolutionaries. The Calvinist in Green's scenario is today's political radical. Dedicated, disciplined, dogmatic, he is more apt "to demonstrate and organize truths than to respond to them." Thus, by a curiously mixed theological metaphor, the Berrigans would be Calvinists, along with Norm Chomsky.

Calvinists driven to their duty can make Green feel guilty. But Faustians are the people he really envies. The Faustian, in Green's variation, is the gambler who goes with his hunches, the man of heat rather than light.

"Does he know of death and the Devil" Or is he all sweetness and light?" Luther's test for the Christian teacher is Green's test for Faustians and Erasmians.

IT IS THE FASHION to put down "sweetness and light," and Green — basically a sweetness-and-light man — does so while deferring to "death and the Devil" contemporaries like Norman Mailer and Leslie Fiedler: the Other.

"I can't love what is unlike me." The old slogan of Big Endians and Little Endians has been reversed. In Green's hand, labeling, which began as a technique for discriminating against aliens, has ended up as a technique for discriminating against oneself.

All of which leads us to a final label, fellow labelers. Definition of a sophisticated Big Endian: A Man who lays his egg on its side, and then orders Rice Crispies anyway.

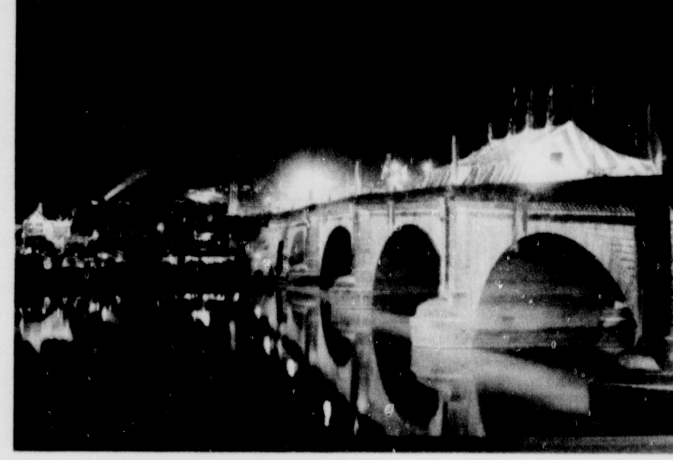
Fly as our guests to see how Lake Havasu City is growing– but still protected from overgrowth!



You can be McCulloch's flight guests to Lake Havasu City, Arizona. There it won't take you long to learn that Lake Havasu City's 8,000 residents really like the community's sunny, year 'round better living and recreation . . . its priceless protection from "Big City" conditions.

The community is protected from overgrowth problems by its Master Plan conceived by C. V. Wood, Jr., famed designer of new communities.

The $117 million in physical improvements to date has included all the things needed for the "good life" — homes, schools, medical facilities, shopping centers, utilities, industry and recreation facilities. Recent progress includes a second shopping center, the new $1.75 million Senior and Junior High Schools, the second golf course and two new medical centers.

Besides the Master Plan for controlled growth, the size of Lake Havasu City is further limited by surrounding Government-preserved recreational land . . . it's an "act-now" opportunity!

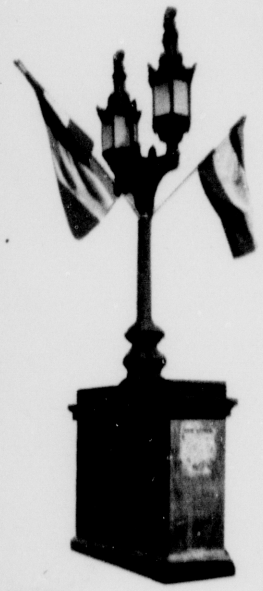
Fly to the wonderful small world of

Lake Havasu City Arizona

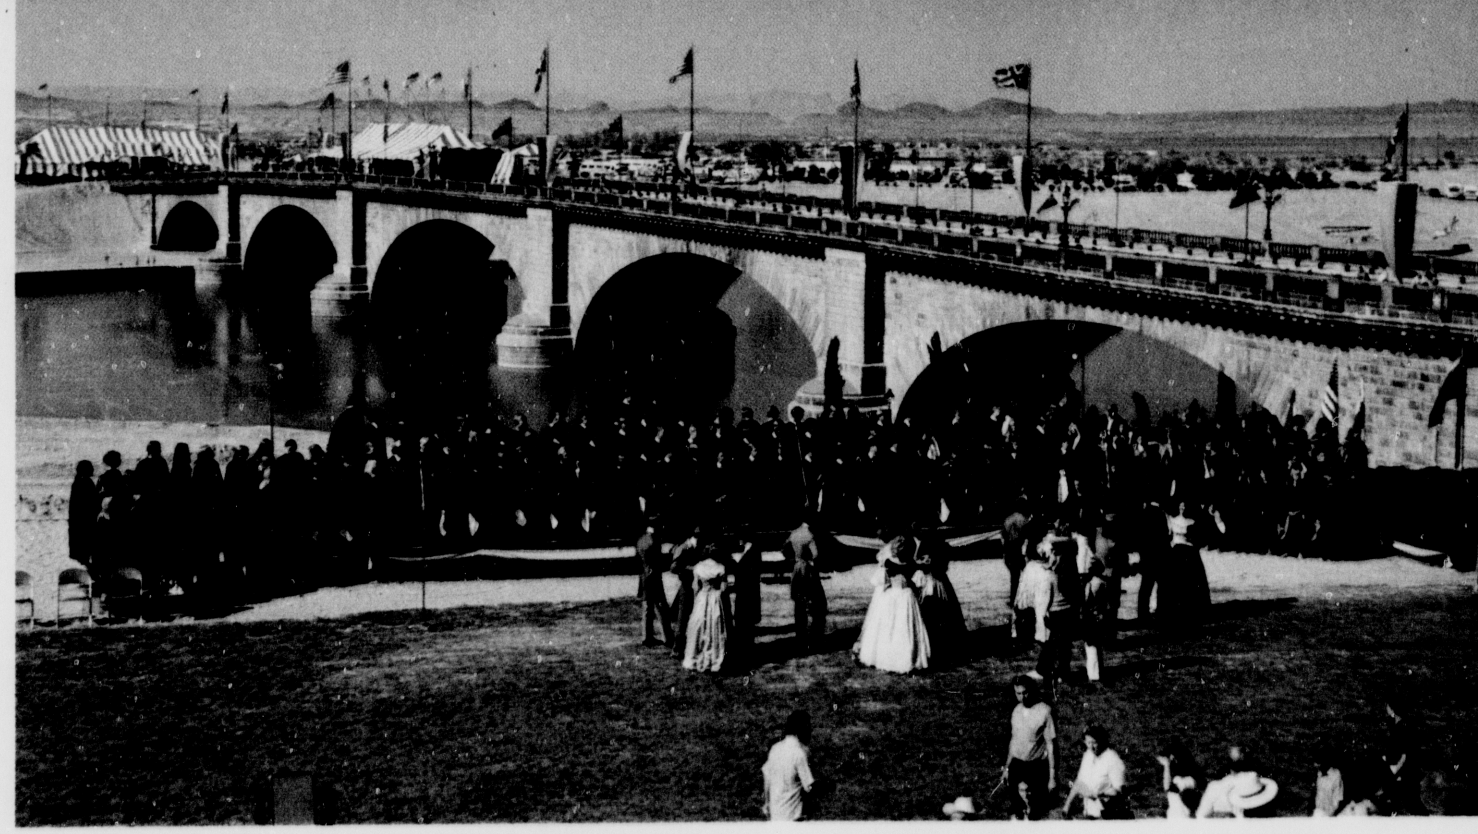
as McCulloch's flight guests!



Now both of you — husband and wife — can fly as our guests to a wonderful small world — Lake Havasu City, Arizona!

You'll find a land of year 'round water recreation, better living and industry. All in a protected "small town" environment.

You'll see that Lake Havasu City is truly a planned city — self-sufficient and beautiful. As McCulloch's first planned city, it was begun in recognition of a growing national need for completely new cities — with a new approach to living.



London Bridge at Lake Havasu City. Its reconstruction has been called one of the most fascinating engineering feats in modern history. Above is a scene during the London Bridge dedication ceremony attended by thousands in October, 1971.

Lake Havasu City is designed to help relieve the pressures and problems that beset most of our nation's big cities — congestion, traffic snarls, pollution, noise and tension. Developed every step of the way according to McCulloch's Master Plan for a balanced population and economy — light industry, service businesses and "leisure industry."

You'll also see the famous London Bridge and even walk across it. Now it's completed — but the opportunity it represents is just beginning!

You'll learn firsthand how London Bridge can have far-reaching effects on the economic future of Lake Havasu City. Its reconstruction alone was an $8 million project. And now still more employment is expected to result as the proposed multi-million-dollar International Resort Center is developed. Already the City of London has completed its English Village, including a pub and restaurant, on an acre of land it owns.

Also, adding to the jobs provided by other employers already established in Lake Havasu City, McCulloch Corporation is now moving its entire Los Angeles chain saw manufacturing operation employing over 700 to this community. When the entire move is completed in 1975, it is anticipating up to 1200 employees in Lake Havasu City — with an annual payroll of millions.

While you are at Lake Havasu City, you'll also see the miles of beautiful beaches, golf courses, over 400 businesses, banks, schools and light industries that have sprung up in just eight short years. And Lake Havasu City is still growing! Since 1964, capital investment has increased by 1480%, and the increased valuation total went up 3350%!

You'll see a pleasant community of new homes — a thriving town of over 8,000 residents who have "found their place in the sun" — in the nation's third fastest-growing state.

All this growth is coupled with the many advantages of a new and better way of life that can mean new opportunities for you. So fly to see for yourselves the many opportunities that Lake Havasu City offers you!

See the city! See the opportunities!

TERMINUS FOR TERMINAL — The center portion of building T-93 on Hamilton Air Force Base's south runway hangs in ruins while on either side doomed sections wait for demolition. This is how the building which could have been Marin County's passenger airline terminal looked this morning as Aviation Commission officials sought a cease and desist order to halt the destruction by the Air Force.

INSIDE T-93 — Partitions within the building stand in shredded ruin. They were knocked down prior to planned razing of the entire structure, which Air Force engineers rated structurally unsafe, the base commander said.

AF Wrecking Building Eyed For Joint Use

By PAT PERRY

T-93, an empty building on Hamilton Air Force Base which was being considered by the Marin County Aviation Commission for use as a passenger terminal in possible joint civilan-military use is being demolished.

The county's prime joint-use advocate Ben Ostlind said today: "I am shocked and disgusted. We couldn't replace that structure for a third of a million dollars. It was practically Marin's only chance of airline service."

"It isn't even a normal demolition. The plumbing has been smashed to pieces instead of being salvaged. It's as if someone just wanted to stop it being used."

Col. Vermont Garrison, commander of Hamilton, said today he was unaware county authorities had been interested in T-93 for use as a passenger terminal — "they have submitted no proposals to me.

"What has happened is that as far as the Air Force is concerned we consider it an unsafe building and are taking it down. We have no reason to stop."

Destruction of the former Reserve Training Wing building on the southern end of the flightline began some days ago, but local aviation officials only yesterday discovered it was happening.

Immediately, William W. Schwarzer, chairman of the aviation commission, fired off protest telegrams to the Department of Defense, Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R-First District; William H. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, Casper Weinberger (director of the Office of Management and Budget) and colonel Garrison.

Pleading for a cease and desist order, Schwarzer said: "Hamilton Air Force Base has started process of demolishing valuable surplus building T-93 which has great potential for use as an interim civil airline terminal. Destruction must be halted soonest pending decision on joint civilian-military use of base. Urge you take immediate action and notify proper authorities to stop any further destruction.

"Orders to cease and desist must reach Hamilton commander prior to 8 a.m. June 5."

However, Garrison said at 10:30 a.m. today he had received no such orders and demolition was continuing.

He said the wooden frame structure was of World War II vintage, and was involved with three or four other buildings considered to be beyond the state of economical repair, and scheduled for demolition.

Schwarzer said today it was "unfortunate" that the Air Force considered it necessary to raze the building. In his

Polls To Open at 7 A.M. Tomorrow; A Long Ballot

Election day tomorrow will climax months of clamor for hundreds of candidates and measures across California, with Marinites alone facing choices among 72 candidates on the ballot, 10 state propositions, a Bay Area regional measure, three local measures, and 27 candidates on the ballot, 10 state propositions, a Bay Area regional measure, three local measures, and 27 write-in candidates for President.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

County Elections Officer Peter C. Meyer predicted today that 70 per cent of the 106,244 registered voters in Marin will ballot in the primary election, the first in California in which 18-to-21-year olds will go to the polls.

Candidates will be on the ballot for President, House of Representatives, state Assembly, county board of supervisors, superior court judge, Marin Municipal Water District, two political party county central committees and two sanitary districts. Local measures will be on the ballot in the San Rafael, Dixie and Shoreline school districts and in Greenbrae.

In Sonoma County, voters also will ballot in races for the state Senate, House of Representatives, county board of supervisors, and on a proposal to repeal plans for an aqueduct to expand the water supply.

10 State Propositions On Ballot —Most Attention For Prop. 9

Ten state propositions will be on tomorrow's ballot, with major attention on Proposition 9, the Environment Initiative.

The complex initiative, opposed in a $1.6 million campaign by oil companies, labor, banks, utilities, railroads and heavy industries, would impose a five-year moratorium on construction of nuclear power plants, ban new or renewed offshore oil drilling on state tidelands, restrict pesticides, close polluting industry in periods of intense air pollution, limit polluting contaminants in fuels, and clamp tight conflict of interest restrictions on members of environmental quality control boards.

All of the state propositions require only majority approval for passage.

PROPOSITION 1 — A $250 million bond measure to provide additional funds for California veterans to finance the purchase or improvement of homes or farms.

PROPOSITION 2 — A $350 million bond measure, with $250 million in loans to replace schools failing to meet earthquake-resistance minimums, and $100 million in loans to low-wealth school districts for new classrooms and facilities.

PROPOSITION 3 — Amends the state Constitution to repeal the right of a defendant in a criminal case to represent himself.

Prosecutor Is Shocked By Angela Acquittal Verdict

Reaction to the acquittal of Angela Davis, charged in connection with Marin County's most celebrated crime, ranged today from shocked disbelief on the part of the prosecutor to absolute silence from San Quentin prisoners.

"I don't want to make any hasty remarks," Asst. Atty. Genl. Albert W. Harris Jr. said today from his San Rafael home. "I thought the evidence was sufficient" (to convict her of murder kidnapping and conspiracy charges stemming from the August 1970 Civic Center shoot-out).

Harris said he wanted to reflect further on the jury's verdict yesterday before making any more statements but in the meantime he used the words, "dismayed," "disappointed," "shocked" and "surprised" to describe his reactions to the end of the long case.

Angela Freed, But Claims No Trial Only Fair One

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)— Angela Davis was freed Sunday and kissed and embraced the all-white jurors who acquitted her. But she said she had not changed her mind about the injustice of the American court system.

"The only fair trial would have been no trial," she said.

Miss Davis, 28, the former UCLA instructor who is an admitted Communist, was found innocent of all charges that she conspired in the San Rafael kidnaping of hostages and murder of a judge.

Shrieks of joy filled the tiny courtroom on her acquittal and the usually stone-faced Miss Davis grinned broadly, said "Gee" and then went out onto a mall to talk to some 400 supporters.

"This is not only the happiest day of my life," she said, "But I am sure the people who struggled for me across this country and around the world are aware that it is a symbol that we are going to free all political prisoners and the oppressed."

As the jurors filed out, the spectators in the 40 by 40 foot room stood and joined in thunderous applause.

At a news conference a short time later, she was asked what she thought of her acquittal by an American jury which included no blacks.

"I didn't think of them as part of the judicial system," she said. "I thought of them as part of the people, people who have to be brought into the fight against injustice.

"If you are implying that my acquittal changes my mind about the American judicial system, then you are wrong. The fact of my acquittal means there was no fair trial at all. The only fair trial would have been no trial."

Despite a chain of circumstantial evidence from 97 state witnesses, the seven woman, five man jury found there was "reasonable doubt" that Angela knew of or participated in Jonathan Jackson's break into a Marin County courthouse on Aug. 7, 1970.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Shots were fired today at the two eldest two sons of ailing underworld leader Joseph A. Colombo Sr. as they drove up to their father's house. There were no injuries, police said.

Anthony

Police said an unknown person fired several shots at Anthony, 27, and Joseph Jr., 25, at 1:15 a.m., hitting the right front door window of Anthony's car. There were two other persons with the Colombos when the incident occurred.

A foreign made revolver of undetermined caliber was recovered in the street by police.

New Government

ROME (UPI) — The man Italians once called the "boy wonder" had the task today of uniting squabbling politicians into the nation's 34th postwar government.

Premier Giulio Andreotti received an open mandate to form the government last night from President Giovanni Leone.

He said he will give his answer after consultations this week with his own Christian Democratic party and the leaders of other "democratic" parties.

By this, he made it clear he will not include the Communists or the neo-Fascists in the consultations.

Prices Absorbed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are indications that food stores may have absorbed part of the increased cost of wholesale beef and pork in May instead of passing them on to consumers, according to an Agriculture Department economist.

Don Paarlberg, Director of Economics for the Agriculture Department, said in an interview yesterday that although government reports on May retail prices will not be issued until late this month, he believed they would show "margins were being squeezed" for major foods including both beef and pork.

He said indications are that retail supermarkets last month "swallowed" some of the wholesale increases by narrowing their margins, rather than adding to consumer costs.

Sniper Kills One

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI) — Police stepped up patrols through the night, watching for a sniper who cruised through the city in a light-colored car early yesterday killing one youth and wounding five other persons.

All of the victims, shot between 2:47 a.m. and 4:25 a.m. in a 15-block area of the Elizabeth business district, were black. Police said most witnesses gave conflicting stories about the gunman and his car but believed he was a white man.

Thunderbird Killed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A veteran pilot on the Air Force's Thunderbirds precision flying team was killed yesterday after ejecting from his crippled F4E Phantom jet during the final day of the International Transportation Fair.

It was the fifth accident and third death during the nine-day Transpo '72 at Dulles International Airport.

The pilot, identified as Maj. Joseph C. Howard, 32, of Ahoskie, N.C., was "severely burned," according to a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman. The Air Force has launched an investigation of the accident.

Howard's jet apparently lost power during the climb with the four other team planes and crashed two miles from the grandstand as thousands watched.

Fast At End

The leader of the United Farm Workers Union told 6,000 cheering supporters at an afternoon Roman Catholic mass Sunday that he was "weak in body but strong in spirit."

He said his fast was "meant as a call to sacrifice for justice and as a reminder of how much suffering there is among farm workers."

Six Feared Dead

TAIPEI (UPI) — A U. S. Air Force C130 transport plane with six men aboard crashed early today near the Pescadores Islands into the Formosa Strait, an air force spokesman said.

The Nationalist Chinese government's rescue center said some wreckage of the transport was found and the body of one crewman was recovered. There were no signs of survivors.

Queen Leads Procession At Rites For Her Uncle

WINDSOR, England (UPI)— The nation said farewell to the Duke of Windsor today in funeral services attended by Queen Elizabeth and the royal family and carried by radio to the land he once ruled as King Edward VIII.

The services themselves in St. George's Chapel were private, only for some 200 family and close friends, but millions more listened to the last rites for a man whose hold on his former subjects even 36 years after he abdicated was shown by the 60,000 who came to his lying-in-state. He died eight days ago at 77 at his Paris home.

The Duchess of Windsor, 75 and suffering from the shock of her husband's death in Paris May 28, attended the services under the watchful eye of her New York physician, Dr. Arthur Antenucci. She declined the Queen's invitation to remain as a guest at Buckingham Palace and will return home today in a royal plane.

Burial was scheduled in the royal family cemetery at Frogmore House, half a mile from the chapel.

The Duchess drove to Windsor from Buckingham Palace this morning in time to join the royal ladies —the Queen, Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Anne, Princess Margaret and the Duchess of Gloucester whose husband —the late Duke's brother —is an invalid and unable to attend. They took seats in the choir.

The coffin was brought in by Welsh Guardsmen —the Duke was colonel-in-chief of the regiment. Walking behind it came the Dean of Windsor, who officiated at the funeral, and the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and the moderator of the general assembly of the Church of Scotland, who attended at the Queen's request.

Then came the only foreign monarch, King Olav V of Norway, first cousin to the Duke, Prince Philip, Prince Charles, the heir to the throne, Prince Richard and Prince William of Gloucester, the Duke of Kent, Prince Michael of Kent, Earl Mountbatten and the Duke of Beaufort, a cousin of the Queen.

The coffin was draped with the Duke's personal red and gold standard. It bears a plate reading: "H.R.H. the Prince Edward Albert Christian George Andrew David Patrick, Duke of Windsor. Born 1894. Died 1972. King Edward VIII 20th January-11th December 1936."

Although he reigned as King Edward VIII of England for 327 days in 1936, the Duke was not accorded a state funeral in Westminster Abbey in London, along with its accompanying pageantry and parade.

For three decades the Duke remained cut off from the royal family, the result of his abdication for love of Wallis Warfield Simpson, a twice-divorced native of Baltimore. They were married for nearly 35 years — Saturday would have marked their anniversary.

The funeral ceremony's climax was the Archbishop of Canterbury pronouncing the blessing and trumpeters in red jackets and white breeches playing the Last Post and Reveille on horns draped with royal banners.

THE DUCHESS OF WINDSOR
Shows signs of funeral strain

A luncheon recess was scheduled between the funeral ceremonies and the burial.

Then the Duke, in burial arrangements made with his brother, King George VI, some years ago, was to be buried in the garden where he played as a child rather than rest in a stone tomb. Some day, at the Duke's request, his Duchess will be buried by his side.

Report On My Lai Is Demanded

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., has demanded the release of a 260-page secret report drafted by a panel of high-ranking U.S. Army officers which accuses two generals of misconduct in connection with the My Lai massacre.

Excerpts from the so-called "Peers Report" were published by the New York Times in its Sunday edition. The document was named after Lt. Gen. William R. Peers who headed the investigation.

According to the Times, the report cited Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, commander of the Americal Division, with 27 specific acts of misconduct or omission, and his deputy, Brig. Gen. George H. Young Jr, with 16.

"Those portions of the report published by the New York Times raise serious questions about the effectiveness of our system of military justice," Aspin said in a statement Sunday. "Gen. Koster and Gen. Young have been accused of 43 specific charges of misconduct. It is clear they should have answered those charges."

"It is foolish for the government to withhold a document, part of which has already been published," he added.

Requirements Eased By Vets Office

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The federal Veterans Administration has eased its requirements for documentary proof of beneficiaries' birth or marriage, according to J. E. Mullen, director of the San Francisco regional VA office.

He said that certified statements by veterans or their widows now are acceptable, in place of the formal birth or wedding certificates formally required.

Israel Pledges Hold On Cease-Fire Lines

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israel today marked the fifth anniversary of the beginning of the Arab-Israeli war with a pledge to hold the current cease-fire lines until peace is made. The Arabs called for a new war to recapture the territory they lost.

Foreign Minister Abba Eban said in Tel Aviv today that "we've been five years on the cease-fire lines for the simple reason that the cease-fire lines cannot be changed except to be replaced by a freely negotiated peace."

WINE NOTES #7

The Wine Bibber's Bible by Jacques de Caso and J. N. Pratt is a book that wine drinkers will find delightful. Wonderfully written, very informative, and handsomely presented, it reads like an exciting novel — hard to put down. At $3.95 it makes a nice gift and will be a nice addition to any wine bibber's library.

We heard on the radio that the Sebastiani Kleinberger Riesling was not available in any wine and spirits shop which is untrue. We have it, have tasted it, and certainly are proud to sell it. It is truly unique.

Featuring the Oakville Our House Red as the Wine of the Month for June gives us an opportunity to introduce both a new wine and a new winery. Oakville wines are not widely available in Marin County but many Marin Countians have discovered the winery in their travels or heard about it from their friends. Both the Our House Red and White are ideal wines of their type and if you are looking for an everyday wine that tastes like wine, try these please.

Speaking of traveling, we would like to mention Mr. Tom Shamp who has started a Wine Country Guide Service, which he intends to conduct for groups of five or less.

He plans a very complete and instructive tour lasting four to six hours. Perfect for out of town business guests and people anxious to learn first hand about the Napa Valley. Write him at 1428 Main St., St. Helena, 94574 or pick up a brochure at any Bourbon Shop.

If you are traveling and need a handy way to carry some wine, stop in and see our six bottle cardboard wine carrier. These are very handy to airplanes and can be made into great gift packages. The price is right!

As June is graduation and wedding time many people are interested in punch recipes. The Wine Advisory Board publishes a nice booklet with all kinds of wine recipes in it and if you would like to have one, please see any Bourbon Shop salesperson.

BOB ANDERSON

MARILYN and BOB ANDERSON

WE BELIEVE THAT A REAL WATER CRISIS IS DEVELOPING IN MARIN COUNTY.

CONTROL OF THE WATER BOARD OF DIRECTORS IS IN EMINENT DANGER OF SHIFTING TO A MAJORITY WHO WOULD CURTAIL OUR WATER SUPPLY TO CONTROL POPULATION GROWTH.

WE BELIEVE THIS IMPRACTICAL AND COULD BE DISASTROUS.

BOB ANDERSON HAS GROWN UP IN THE WATER DISTRICT AND KNOWS HOW TO BRING THIS BADLY NEEDED WATER TO US WITHOUT TAXES.

WE BELIEVE ROBERT ANDERSON JR. TO BE THE MOST QUALIFIED CANDIDATE EVER TO RUN FOR THE BOARD OF THE MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT.

FOR HEROIC ACT

Scout, 12, Due Medal Of Merit

A 12-year-old Tiburon Boy Scout, credited with saving the lives of two scuba divers last November, will be presented with the Medal of Merit — scouting's second-highest life-saving award — at a ceremony tonight at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere.

David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. David D. Smith, 2 Lyford Drive, was approved for the honor by the National Council of Boy Scouts in New Brunswick, N.J., for pulling a neighbor, Robert M. Roney, and another diver, Tom Witte of Los Angeles, from treacherous surf near Fort Ross in Sonoma County on Nov. 27.

David, a sixth-grade student at Del Mar School and an independent-Journal carrier, had accompanied the two divers on an abalone hunt, and saved them by extending a spear gun to them after strong currents and pounding breakers overcame the pair.

He then administered first-aid and ran a half-mile to summon help.

Roney, a 220-pound former marine, said after the incident that he and his companion owned their lives to the 90-pound youth, a tenderfoot in Troop 9.

In addition to the scouting award, David has been approached by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, a Pittsburgh, Pa. group, for possible inclusion in a scholarship program.

The youngster told the Independent Journal yesterday that he has also received a congratulatory letter from State Sen. Peter H. Behr (R-San Rafael),

DAVID SMITH
Life saver

who promised to nominate him for the Young Californian's Award, an honor given each year by Governor Ronald Reagan.

"All this is a surprise to me," David admits, adding that he "sort of expected" the scouting award but nothing else.

David's mother, Harriet C. Smith, said that her son learned how to swim when he was 18 months old, and was scuba diving by the time he was 5. When he was 7, she said, he spotted an infant on the bottom of a club pool and with the help of his father, brought the girl to the surface.

The young girl lived after artificial respiration was applied, she said.

"He knows no fear," his mother said.

A Daylight Attack On Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Communist guerrillas marked the apparent victory of Marshal Lon Nol in Cambodia's first presidential election with a rocket and rifle attack on the capital today in which at least six persons were killed, three of them children.

One 122mm rocket hit the Ministry of Defense building, killing three persons and wounding an undetermined number of others, and a round of recoilless rifle fire hit a children's playground about 70 yards from Lon Nol's home. Another rocket exploded harmlessly near the ministry.

Police Chief Chea Kim Eng said three children were killed and a child and a housemaid wounded by the shots at the playground.

MINIBUS CAPTURE

Shortly after the midafternoon attacks, he said, police chased and captured a minibus loaded with grenades and wiring. The three persons in the minibus and another riding a motorcycle escort escaped, one of them carrying with him a rocket grenade launcher, the chief said.

The attacks followed by one day the first popular presidential elections in Cambodia's history, and partial returns today showed that Lon Nol easily had won the three-man race.

Lon Nol, an army marshal, took over the government after the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk in 1970 at the time of Cambodia's entry into the Indochina War. He subsequently proclaimed himself president. The election confirmed him in office, but his two opponents said they planned to protest the outcome.

IN TWO YEARS

It was the first time in Cambodia's two years of war a rocket hit the capital in daylight. Three others have hit at night, two of them causing heavy civilian casualties.

Rumors had circulated through the capital that a rocket barrage would hit Phnom Penh if Lon Nol were elected. Most diplomats scoffed at the rumors as propaganda spread by Communists and Lon Nol's two challengers, but many inhabitants of the city gave them credence.

The incident followed heavy fighting between government troops and Communist forces in scattered incidents as the voting proceeded Sunday. Unofficial returns today gave Lon Nol a hefty lead with more than half the expected 2 million ballots counted and the national radio said he had gained enough votes to win.

Bond Asserts McGovern The Candidate For Blacks

By NELS JOHNSON

Julian Bond, the first black elected to the Georgia Legislature in the 20th Century, told a crowd in Kent Woodlands Saturday that Sen. George McGovern (D-S.D.) was the "only candidate black voters could consider" in California's presidential primary tomorrow.

The civil rights activist, once barred from taking his seat in the Georgia House because of his antiwar views, predicted that McGovern would "sweep the state" tomorrow and receive a first ballot nomination at the Democratic National Convention in July.

Bond, 32, made his comments in a 10-minute speech to a crowd of about 100 McGovern supporters who were gathered at a cocktail fund-raiser at the home of William M. Bennett, 35 Evergreen Drive.

Bond said that the senator from South Dakota had taken "all the right positions in terms of being a black man in the 1970s" in his drive to face President Richard M. Nixon in November's presidential sweepstakes.

"McGovern was the only senator to endorse all 61 points of the Black Caucus," Bond said. The Black Caucus, a group of black congressmen, presented President Nixon last January with a long list of demands, ranging from a call for educational reform to a proposed embargo on all Rhodesian goods. Nixon has ignored the demands, Bond said.

The Georgia legislator discounted the presidential candidacy of Rep. Shirley Chisholm (D-N.Y.) as being a "quest for delegates, not the presidency," and said that White House hopeful Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) was an opportunist whose record had become "scratchy and warped."

Bond, winding up a week-long California campaign effort for McGovern, said that black audiences throughout the state had been "extremely receptive," and predicted that Senator Humphrey would lose his grip on the black vote tomorrow at the polls.

"People like yourselves have the responsibility to let the rest of us who can't vote in California choose between Nixon and McGovern in November," Bond concluded.

Bond, who arrived at the fund-raiser 90 minutes late, scrubbed an appearance at a Marin City shopping center and, after brief comments in Kent Woodlands, headed for another rally in San Francisco.

Woman Moderator Elected By Church

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—The New York State Conference of the United Church of Christ Sunday elected a woman moderator for the first time in its history.

The Rev. Margaret R. Eddy, pastor of the Church of the Resurrection in East Harlem, was unanimously elected as Conference moderator Sunday at the end of a three-day annual meeting on the campus of Ithaca College.

Pets Banned On Back Trails

Pets have been banned from the back country trails of Point Reyes National Seashore, as well as Drake's and McClure's beaches, the National Parks Service has announced.

The new regulation, which takes effect July 1, does not apply to pets on leashes at Point Reyes Beach, north and South entrances.

The action, unanimously recommended by Marin County Park and Recreation Commission, was taken to protect visitor and wildlife safety.

Laird Asserts Need For Essential Arms

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird testified today the Soviet Union had "far outstripped" the United States in numbers of nuclear weapons and served notice the administration would proceed with crash programs to develop new submarines and bombers for the 1980s.

Laird told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that the Strategic Arms Limitations Talks (SALT) would lead to an overall reduction in defense spending during the next few years by eliminating 10 planned installations for the Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) system.

But he said the administration was still in need of full funding for other strategic programs in the offensive area.

Despite the SALT agreement, Laird testified, the Soviet Union has acquired such momentum in weapons production since its buildup began in 1965 "that the Soviet Union has far outstripped the United States in terms of numbers of weapons both offensive and defensive".

The Moscow control agreement "puts some brakes on the momentum" by freezing numbers of certain offensive weapons for the next five years, he said.

"It is absolutely essential during this period that the United States be in a position that it can go forward with new weapons programs," Laird said, "and that the United States not take unilateral action" to halt improvements and replacements of its offensive weapons.

Man Accused In Oroville Court Slayings Hangs Self

OROVILLE (UPI) —A postal worker facing murder charges in a court-room shooting that left an attorney dead and two persons wounded hanged himself early today in his jail cell, the Butte County sheriff's office reported.

Minyard Owen Rutherford, 57, was discovered by jailer Jack Kent at 3:45 a.m., hanging from his cell door.

Investigators said Rutherford, who was indicted last week by a county grand jury on murder and assault charges, hanged himself with a mattress cover he tied to one of the cross bars on his cell.

He was rushed to nearby Butte County Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Rutherford was charged last Tuesday in the death of Perry Farmer, 46, a prominent Oroville attorney. He was also charged with felonius assault on Superior Court Judge Jean Moroney and Mrs. Karolyn Garrick, who were wounded in the May 25 Butte County Superior courtroom shooting.

Deputies said they had instituted an around-the-clock hourly check system on Rutherford. He last was checked about 3 a.m. before his body was found.

Rutherford allegedly shot Farmer in the back of the head as he was presenting his case in a complicated civil case in a long-standing feud between Rutherford and Mrs. Garrick.

Mrs. Garrick, who was on the witness stand, was shot in the arm as the gunman ran from the courtroom. Moroney, who was in a nearby jury room, was nicked in the arm when he tried to bar the courtroom door.

Auto Inspections

COPENHAGEN (UPI — Owners of pre-1962 automobile in Denmark are required to report once a year for inspection of their automobiles. Government safety officials estimate accidents could be reduced up to 10 per cent by such inspections. In neighboring Sweden, cars with more than five years' seniority are called up every year for a check.

Equally bitter was Marin's Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who had withdrawn from the case because of his friendship with the late Judge Harold J. Haley, who died in the shoot-out, and with his assistant, Gary W. Thomas, who was permanently wounded.

"My God," Bales said were his initial words on hearing the news. He attributed Miss Davis's acquittal to the jury being taken in by the "very emotional pitch offered by the defense."

He said that, despite the verdict, he remained convinced that Miss Davis was just as guilty if not more so than young Jonathan Jackson who died in the shoot-out.

Bales said that she might be even more responsible because of "her age, experience and intelligence."

In contrast to the wild jubilation of Miss Davis, her family and supporters who gathered last night in a victory celebration in San Jose, was the silence in San Quentin's adjustment center, where codefendant Ruchell Magee is held.

Officers at the prison said they were surprised at the lack of comment from prisoners in the center which also was where Miss Davis's alleged lover George Jackson was confined until his death in an escape attempt.

"No one had anything to say," according to prison spokesman Joseph R. O'Brien. "We were very surprised at this," he added.

Officers in the Marin Sheriff's Department, who acted as Miss Davis's jailors for 16 months, refused to comment on the verdict as did Assistant District Attorney Thomas.

Gertrude Haley, widow of the judge, did not want to comment, either, according to her attorney, John Buresh.

Building Ban Due Decision

The Mill Valley City Council will consider at 8 p.m. today an emergency ordinance that would impose a four-month moratorium on all building in the area of East Mill Valley surrounding upper Richardson Bay.

The emergency ordinance which can legally be adopted tonight on its first reading calls for a four month moratorium. The construction ban could be continued for an eight-month period and then an additional one year period.

The interim zoning ordinance prohibits all use of the land and property — even if the use is compatible with the current zoning unless a specific use permit is granted by the city.

Another Budget Round Is Set

Larkspur-Corte Madera School District trustees will further review the district's $2,091,000 budget proposed for 1972-73, at the board's regular meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the district offices.

Also on the agenda will be approval of teacher assignments for next year, and approval of the district goals statement, which has been in preaparation for two years.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen said the board also will discuss classified salary requests and review the schedule for teachers' in-service meetings before school begins next fall.

Boy Is Treated For Dog Bites

An 11-year-old Larkspur youth required 10 stitches to close wounds he received in his right leg last Saturday while trying to break up a dog fight.

According to Larkspur police reports, Michael Ladd Kesecker, of 114 Acacia Avenue, was walking his St. Brnard, Bo, near his house, when the dog broke his leash and began fighting with another dog.

The low-key demonstration drew less than 100 people for a march down Petaluma Boulevard and for the afternoon festivities.

The predominantly young crowd danced to a succession of rock bands, basked in the sun and cheered heartily at short speeches made by members of the Sonoma Peace Coalition.

opinion the demolition was not being carried out in the manner ordinary civilian buildings are taken down. — "there was no effort to save fixtures for instance."

Ostlind claimed T-93 was "practically ideal" for a terminal. "There was 60,000 square feet and we could have used two thirds of it without any expensive alteration."

In a proposal submitted to the board of supervisors on May 25 concerning joint-use proposals, Ray W. Foreaker Jr., director of public works, suggested "an as yet undesignated building to function as a terminal."

Today Foreaker said T-93 had never been specifically suggested for use in board proposals. He had personally seen the building but had no comment to make on its demolition.

Schwarzer was aware that T-93 might be destroyed. In a letter to Supervisor Michael Wornum on March 10 he wrote: "the possibility of the county leasing this building should be kept quiet until the base authorities have committed themselves to the destruction of the building. "At this point it is believed that no reasonable objection could be made to the county's proposal to lease the building for a nominal amount."

Joint civilian military use of Hamilton Air Force Base is an issue that has been tossed around county agencies like a hot potato for more than two years.

In March, the aviation commission referred back to the supervisors a request from Novato that a citizens' committee be included in planning joint military-civilian use.

Last week supervisors voted to refer the status report on joint use to the City of Novato, the aviation commission and the city-county planning council.

Joint runway use has been approved in principle by the Air Force and the Defense Department. Suggestions for use have included an access road from Highway 101 on the north side of the runway away from the military installation, plus a relatively small civilian terminal.

Twenty plane arrivals and departures daily had been mooted, and in Foreaker's proposal of May 25, he said Air California and Hughes Air West were interested in providing service to and from Southern California.

Opposition to joint use has come from groups who favor alternative expansion of Gnoss Field, the county airport north of Novato.

Dope Figure Pleads Innocent In Checks Case

Toi Ann Weindel, 20, of San Rafael has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to three counts of writing fraudulent checks and a preliminary hearing is set for Thursday.

Miss Weindel was arrested May 2 on the charges and two days later was sent to the California Institution for Women at Frontera as a result of a conviction for selling heroin.

The check charges were dismissed until she could be returned to Marin.

San Rafael police said they arrested her after she was identified as the passer of several bad checks over a period of months.

Belli Marries; Festive Party

Belli, of San Francisco, and Lia Triss of Bethesda, Md., were married Saturday in the 100-year-old Tuolumne County courthouse in Belli's boyhood hometown of Sonora.

The pair marched down the main street of the old mining town to a wedding feast composed mainly of 21 virgin goats, sacrificed earlier in the day, and magnums of Moet et Chandon champagne.

Guilty Plea In Check Case

Robert Monroe Newman, 56, of San Francisco has pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to a charge of passing a fraudulent check to buy a sports car.

As part of a plea bargain Judge Samuel W. Gardiner dismissed a car theft charge stemming from the purchase of a Porsche from Mill Valley Imports March 5 with the $4,029 bad check.

Sentencing was set for June 27, but the bargain calls for a maximum of six months in jail, restitution and a fine of $500. The district attorney recommended a year in jail.

Marin City Man Jailed On Warrants

White's struggle to resist arrest, according to deputies, ended when a second patrolman joined the fight, which sent deputy Gary Grimm to the hospital with a head injury and a torn uniform.

White was arrested on outstanding warrants for suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon, obstructing a police officer, possessing a concealed weapon, possessing stolen property and threatening with a weapon.

As a result of yesterday's brief scuffle, he was also booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of battery against a police officer.

White, who lives at 41 Cole Drive in Marin City, recently was released from Marin General Hospital after being treated for gunshot wounds in both legs after a quarrel last week with a friend, Maxine Hall.

He was held to appear in Superior and Municipal courts today.

The state has charged Angela was a party to the plot, motivated by her love for George Jackson and determination to free him and the other "Soledad Brothers."

Superior Court Judge Harold Haley was killed by a shotgun blast in the head in a getaway van. Jonathan Jackson, 17, and two convicts were also killed. Two women jurors were wounded and Asst. Dist. Atty. Garry W. Thomas paralyzed for life.

The jury received the case at 11 a.m. Friday after 13 weeks of trial. They deliberated 13 hours before bringing in their verdicts.

The jury, headed by forewoman Mary Timothy, a medical technician at Stanford University whose husband is a Palo Alto attorney, notified Judge Richard E. Arnason at 10:30 a.m. PDT that they had reached their verdicts.

Arnason looked at the three written forms on the counts of the indictment—kidnap, murder and conspiracy. Then he handed them to court clerk Art Vanek.

When Vanek read the first not guilty verdict, there was a gasp in the courtroom, then the sound of sobbing and laughter mixed. When he concluded all three verdicts of innocence, Miss Davis rose and ran to her parents in the spectator section and embraced them and her two brothers and sister.

Mrs. Timothy was asked later what she thought of the American jury system.

"Well, I think it is the best anyone has yet devised," she said.

Angela was asked whether she would seek to return to her post as assistant philosophy professor at UCLA where she was fired by the board of regents.

"I haven't made any plans," she said. "I've been waiting for this day and now I can start making plans. This is the happiest day because it means this is now out of the way so I can resume the struggle against oppression."

Angela was asked what she thought of her personal safety now that she had been acquitted.

"Well, there is a danger," she said. "Over the past week we have received threats. But they are not going to deter me in the struggle to free the oppressed.

According to police, Rowley was northbound on Granada Drive and struck the O'Connor car while attempting to make a right turn on to Estrada Lane.

The board, which will first meet at 9 a.m. as the board of directors of the Marin County Transit District, is expected to consider the item at about 3 p.m.

The rezoning is part of a series aimed at reclassifying the 210,000-acre agricultural preserve to prevent rapid urban growth and protect the agricultural industry.

So far, only one area has acutally been rezoned by the board. Supervisors, in March, approved the one-home-per-60-acres zoning for about 60,000 acres in the northwestern portion of the county.

The planning commission, meanwhile, has recommended several massive areas be rezoned and was to consider two more today.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors agenda also includes:

TRANSIT — Meeting as the transit district to receive a proposed Transit budget for fiscal 1972-73 totaling $848,000. If adopted, as is, the budget would require a tax rate of about five cents per $100 assessed valuation.

ANGRESS — An appeal hearing of planning commission denial of the comdominium development proposed by Herbert Angress for his bay front property on Tomales Bay near Marshall. This is the second appeal hearing on the development. During the first hearing, supervisors sent it back to the commission for reconsideration. The commission, however, rejected it again.

COUNSEL — A report from County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney on the Marks vs. Whitney case ruling that some tidelands sold by the state in the 1880s may not be developed. The board is expected to set Sept. 12 for a full hearing on the matter.

Opening Available In Rec Program

The San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department still has openings in several summer recreation classes, according to Gary Howell, city parks and recreation director.

Classes open include arts and crafts, bowling; drama, folk guitar, Indian crafts, judo and tumbling for girls, sewing and dog obedience. Information is available at the recreation office, Howell said.

ASSEMBLYMAN BAGLEY'S LEGISLATION WINS REIMBURSEMENTS FOR MARIN-SONOMA TAXPAYERS

Your Assemblyman has authored and successfully fought for measures which benefit the taxpayer. Here are three timely examples . . .

ANGELA DAVIS TRIAL COSTS

PROPERTY TAX REFUND FOR OPEN SPACE PROGRAMS

The open space exemption for farmers, dairymen and other owners of agricultural land was funded for the first time by Assemblyman Bagley's bill. This will return an estimated $273,000 to Marin and $463,000 to Sonoma in property tax relief, while at the same time encouraging preservation of open space.

AN ASSIST TO THE SMALL BUSINESSMAN

A bill authored by Assemblyman Bagley provides $100 million to replace property tax monies exempted by the 30% business inventory tax. In the coming fiscal year this will return an estimated $554,000 to Marin and $1,100,000 to Sonoma, providing needed relief for the small businessman.

Connally Will Tour For Nixon

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) —Treasury Secretary John B. Connally will leave Tuesday on a round-the-world tour of about 15 nations to represent President Nixon in international trade and monetary discussions, the White House said today.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Connally would not visit Hanoi during the three and one-half week trip. But he did not rule out the possibility that some of Connally's negotiations would be aimed at securing the release of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

A suggestion made Sunday by Sen. Hubert Humphrey, that Connally be sent to Hanoi to bargain for the prisoner release sparked speculation that the Democratic presidential hopeful had learned of such a plan by the Nixon Administration.

But Ziegler said there were no plans for Connally to directly negotiate with North Vietnamese officials, adding that Nixon had set forth last month the conditions for getting meaningful negotiations underway on both the prisoner of war issue and ending the Vietnam conflict.

Connally was scheduled to meet later today with Nixon and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser, at the President's vacation compound.

He, accompanied by Mrs. Connally, will leave from Key Biscayne Tuesday traveling first to Latin America where he will visit Venezuela, Colombia, Brazil, Argentina, Bolivia and Peru.

The remainder of his itinerary, Ziegler said, had not yet been worked out. Ziegler said the trip would take Connally to approximately 15 nations in South Asia, the Middle East and Europe, in addition to Latin America.

Ziegler said Connally would be prepared to discuss with foreign chiefs of state and heads of government the details of President Nixon's recent summit conference in Moscow and his earlier visit to Peking. The afternoon session here was to brief Connally on the complexities of the Nixon negotiations at the two summits.

Connally is expected to return to the United States around July 1.

The trip is the first of several such missions Connally will undertake as a presidential emissary. Nixon said last month, in announcing Connally's decision to resign from the cabinet, that he regarded him as a highly respected international negotiator.

ATLANTA (UPI — Women's lib hasn't come very far in the engineering field as yet. Georgia Tech University awarded more engineering degrees to women than any other school in the nation during 1971, and the total was 19.

A Decision On Postal Rates Is Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Postal Rate Commission said Monday it had reached a decision on the Postal Service's request for $1.45 billion in higher mail rates that were put into effect on a temporary basis more than a year ago.

The commissioners went to Capitol Hill to tell key congressmen of the decision in advance of the 3 p.m. EDT announcement.

Chief hearing examiner Seymour Wenner recommended Feb. 3 that the five-member commission approve the requested 8-cent rate for first class letters.

Wenner also proposed a 4.6 per cent increase in parcel post rates and a 17.5 per cent decrease in the proposed fourth class special rate for books, records and films. The Postal Service had not sought any change in parcel post but wanted an 83 per cent increase over five years for the fourth class special rate.

Student Backgrounds

ATLANTA, Ga. (UPI) — Freshmen at Emory University here differ from typical college freshmen, the annual study of the American Council on Education reveals. On the average five times as many are the children of doctors and dentists, 15 per cent versus 3 per cent and three times as many are the children of lawyers.

ACLU Says Sinatra Is Treated Unfairly

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) protested Monday that Frank Sinatra has been subjected to unfair "trial by publicity" because of hearsay testimony taken by a House committee investigating crime in sports.

The ACLU took issue with the testimony given May 24 by Joseph Barboza, a self-described mob "enforcer" who said he had been told Sinatra had links with alleged New England crime boss Raymond Patricarca.

Sinatra has been subpoenaed to testify before the House Select Committee on Crime on Thursday.

Of the Barboza testimony, an ACLU statexent said: "This is a classic example of trial by publicity. Mr. Sinatra's case is but one example of a congressional committee publicly hearing adverse testimony, unproved, unchecked, and unrebutted, which could cause irreparable damage to the reputation of the person discussed."

Even if Sinatra clears his name, the ACLU said, "too much damage already has been done by then."

Barboza testified he had been told that Sinatra held an interest in a Las Vegas casino and a Miami Beach hotel on Patriarca's behalf. Committee investigators also noted that the entertainer once was vice president of Berkshire Downs Race Track at Hancock, Mass., in which Patriarca was said to have held an interest.

The ACLU said the testimony against Sinatra should not have been made public until he had opportunity be heard.

"We know of no necessary legislative purpose that was served by these allegations against Mr. Sinatra," the statement said.

The Budget Deficit To Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The administration told the Congress today that the government would run a $13 billion smaller deficit this fiscal year than originally estimated but that the deficit for fiscal 1973 would be $1.5 billion greater.

The revisions in the administration's red ink budget estimates, made public by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), placed the deficit for fiscal year 1972, which ends June 30, at $26 billion instead of $38.8 billion estimated last January.

For fiscal 1973, the deficit was estimated at $27 billion rather than $25.5 billion estimated earlier.

At the same time, administration economic spokesmen, testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee, asked for an increase in the national debt ceiling of $15 billion to $465 billion.

Last March, the administration had tried to persuade Congress to lift the ceiling to $480 billion but an unexpected flow of cash in recent months has allowed the Treasury to scale down its request.

At the same time, administration spokesmen cautioned against attaching tax reform to the pending bill to raise the national debt limit.

Democrats in both houses introduced comprehensive legislation last week to close gradually loopholes in tax laws. There has been talk of adding it as an amendment to the debt bill on the theory that President Nixon would have difficulty vetoing the measure.

Over 30 Years Experience In Nutrition

HERE'S HEALTH!

by JUNE EMBURY

We were fascinated with a recent story about some U.S. ground crew members stationed in England, who have become so fat "they couldn't run from one end of a bomber to the other without collapsing." The reason for the extra poundage seems to be the greasy, starchy, sweet food they eat, one of the chief offenders being fish and chips.

Meanwhile, the article said, the English themselves are showing the effects of another favorite dish - candy. Britishers eat more candy per capita than any people in the world. "Consequently, it's estimated that 1 in 3 of her Majesty's subjects are entirely toothless."

Dentists point out that toothpaste is taxed at 36.6%, while candy is taxed at only 22% there. They say were candy taxed at the higher rate, you'd not only have healthier teeth, but take in enough revenue to pay every dentist bill in the nation.

We'd add that programs emphasizing wholesome nutrition would provide even more important and effective benefits.

"I got more than I asked for at Fidelity... I always thought all savings and loan associations were pretty much alike until I visited Fidelity. They offered me a choice of 17 different types of accounts and 31 services. I opened an Investor's Interim Account and included automatic investment of stock dividends. That way, between investments, my funds automatically earn top savings interest and stock dividends go directly in my account to earn interest sooner. I certainly got more than I asked for!"

Polls To Open At 7 A.M. Tomorrow; A Long Ballot

appear on the Democratic ticket, but the contest has boiled down to a two-man race between Sens. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Of the others, Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Henry M. Jackson of Washington have dropped out of primary races, but still are hopeful of their party's nomination. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota appealed to his California supporters to vote for McGovern. New York Mayor John V. Lindsay has dropped out of the race.

The other two candidates are New York Congressman Shirley Chisholm and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty.

The Peace and Freedom Party's only candidate on the ballot is pediatrician and peace activist Dr. Benjamin Spock. The American Independent Party's ballot candidate is Merwyn H. Hemp.

The best known of the 27 write-in candidates for president is Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who is seeking write-in votes only on the Democratic ticket.

Total registration for the election is 106,244 in Marin and 109,087 in Sonoma. Democrats are the majoirty in each county.

In the Sixth Congressional District, which includes all of Marin and part of San Francisco, the incumbent, Republican William S. Mailliard of San Francisco, is unopposed for renomination. Facing one another on the Democratic ticket are San Francisco Supervisor Roger Boas, a car dealer, and Alan D. French of San Francisco, a 25-year-old Army veteran.

Former Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, a Novato attorney, will not be on the ballot, but has filed a court test in a bid to qualify for the November ballot in the district as a nonpartisan candidate.

In the Fourth Assembly District, which includes all of Marin and Southern Sonoma below Santa Rosa, the incumbent, Republican William T. Bagley of San Rafael, is challenged for renomination by Robert D. Weinmann of San Rafael and Edward J. Gilmore of Ross. Democratic candidates are Harry J. Moore of Novato, a junior high school principal, and Joseph J. Franaszek of Tiburon, a student at the University of California, Berkeley. Bill Mack Webber of Petaluma, a student, is unopposed for the Peace and Freedom Party's nomination.

The hottest local contests have been in the county supervisorial races, with two incuments facing challengers.

In the Second Supervisorial District in the Ross Valley, incumbent Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. of Fairfax, a stockbroker, is challenged by Barbara Boxer of Greenbrae, a former stockbroker active in community services, and Dr. William J. Filante of Greenbrae, an eye specialist and teacher.

In the Third Supervisorial District in Southern Marin, incumbent Michael Wornum of Mill Valley, an architect, and city planner, is challenged by Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr. of Marin City, pastor of Village Baptist Church in Marin City.

In the Fourth Supervisorial District, incumbent Louis H. Baar did not seek reelection. Competing for his seat are James Dougan of San Rafael, an insurance agent, Gary T. Giacomini of Woodacre, an attorney, Patricia T. Maginnis of San Rafael, a medical technologist, and Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael, an economist. The district starts in parts of San Rafael and hooks around the Ross Valley into West Marin.

Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Greenbrae, facing the first challenge to an incumbent Marin judge in some 20 years, is opposed by attorney Charles R. Best of Sleepy Hollow.

In the Marin Municipal Water District, five candidates are competing for two seats. In Division 5, which includes most of Southern Marin, there are three candidates: Robert G. Anderson Jr., a high school industrial arts teacher; Willard A. Hall, a retired sales and consulting engineer, and Dr. Ronald T. Stafford, a physician. All three live in Sausalito.

In Division 2, which covers San Rafael, appointed incumbent John M. MacPhail Jr. is challenged by his aunt, Vera McPhail.

In the Novato Sanitary District, two incumbents and a challenger are competing for two seats. The incumbents are Edwin V. Grundstrom Jr. and Carlos B. Rivamonte. The challenger is Leroy J. Syrop.

In the Ross Valley Sanitary District, two incumbents face two challengers for two seats. The incumbents are Ray I. Johnson and Peter A. Ribar. The challengers are Joan Seminario and Roger Bockrath.

The three local measures in Marin are a $1.2 million bond measure in the Shoreline School District to remodel or expand each of the district's four schools, unification of the San Rafael and Dixie school districts, and formation of a county service area in Greenbrae to finance, landscaping and maintenance to the community.

The regional measure in the Bay Area is Measure A, which asks voters to ballot on the proposed Southern Crossing, an eight-lane, $556 million bridge across the bay from San Francisco to Alameda and San Leandro. A "yes" vote would permit the California Toll Bridge Authority to construct the bridge, while a "no" vote would bar construction without further specific approval by the state Legislature.

This regional measure will be voted in six counties, but not in Sonoma.

The Sonoma County Water measure was forced on the ballot as an initiative petition signed by 10,510 voters. It would require the county supervisors to repeal authorization to sell $115 million revenue bonds to finance water projects.

Measure D on the ballot for Southern Sonoma and some 130 North Marin voters proposes the unification of 13 school districts: Petaluma City High School, Old Adboe, Waugh, Petaluma Elementary, Cinnabar, Lincoln, Two Rock, Wilmar, Laguna, Cotati, Dunham, Liberty and the former Penngrove district.

In the First Congressional District, which includes Sonoma and North Coast counties, the incumbent, Republican Don H. Clausen of Crescent City is unopposed for renomination. Also unopposed in the primary is Jonathan T. Ames of Napa, who is seeking the nomination of the Peace and Freedom Party. He is a self-employed entertainer and producer.

Three Democrats are vying for the nomination to run against Clausen: William A. Nighswonger of Santa Rosa, chairman of the political science department at Sonoma State College; Patricia A. Losh of Eureka, a housewife, and James McClure Brown, also of Eureka, a minister.

In the state Senate's First District, each candidate is unopposed. Incumbent Democratic Sen. Randolph Collier of Yreka is seeking to retain the seat he has held since 1938. Henry Rogers, also of Eureka is seeking the Republican nomination. He owns a janitorial service.

Voters in the Fifth Supervisorial District, which includes a small portion of Cotati and Rohnert Park as well as West Sonoma, will choose among a slate of six candidates. They are: incumbent Robert Theiller, who operated a real estate firm before taking the full-time supervisor job; David E. Bills of Sebastopol, a building contractor; Jack R. Galvin of Bodega Bay, a state Assembly consultant; Virginia H. Hechtman, of Jenner, a former teacher and educational consultant; Grant F. King of Guerneville, operator of a tackle shop, and Bernard J. Lamb of Sebastopol, a feed store owner.

Forty-six candidates filed for election to the Marin County central committees of the Republican and Democratic parties, but because the number of candidates either matched or was less than the number of seats in some districts, only 28 will appear on partisan ballots.

No candidates filed for either the Peace and Freedom or American Independent parties. In the Third Supervisorial District, however, Richard M. Sutley of Mill Valley filed as a write-in candidate on the Peace and Freedom Party ticket.

Contested elections will be as follows:

REPUBLICAN

FIFTH DISTRICT — (Five candidates for four seats) Patricia J. Story, Edward V. Lathrop and Ruth A. Smith, all incumbents, and Maynard A. Briggs and George C. Quesada.

DEMOCRATIC

SECOND DISTRICT — (Six candidates for five seats) Stewart N. Boxer, E. Barrett Guthrie, James M. Anthony and Herbert G. Hawkins, all incumbents, and Rev. Norman E. Leach and Ruth Logue Lederman.

FIFTH DISTRICT — (Four candidates for three seats) George J. Silvestri Jr., incumbent, and Joseph A. Forest, William B. Lynch and M. Elizabeth Smith.

In Sonoma County, there are only two contests for party central committees. Seven Peace and Freedom Party members are seeking six seats on the Second District committee representing Petaluma and most of Cotati and Rohnert Park: George J. Couch, Janet F. Couch, Edward J. Latham, Susan D. Latham, Patricia B. Patrick, Eliot Raleigh and Irvin Sutley Jr.

In the Fifth Supervisorial District, five Republicans filed for four seats on the central committee; Miriam H. Burdo, Edna I. Fletcher, Marjorie S. Miller, James K. Poor and Byron B. Snyder.

Classes In Disaster Help Slated

Signups for classes in disaster and emergency first aid preparedness are now open for nurses and workers in allied health fields, according to Mary Hooper, county director of public health nursing.

The county and the Marin Area Emergency Organization's health and medical division will sponsor two American Red Cross multimedia first aid courses.

The first course will be held on two Saturday mornings, June 23 and 30, in the Red Cross chapter headquarters in San Rafael. The second course will be held July 7 and 15, Mrs. Hooper said. Reservations may be made by calling her at the Marin County Civic Center.

Additional first aid classes, and special training in disaster-related nursing services will be given in September; signups are open now, Mrs. Hooper said.

New Principal Will Be Selected

Dixie School District trustees will meet in closed session at 7 p.m. Wednesday to pick a new principal for Miller Creek School, then go into open session at 8 p.m. in the district offices for a long but mostly routine agenda.

Clifford W. Campbell, superintendent, predicted the board may adopt pay schedules for teachers, administrators and nonteaching staff at the meeting and act on dismissal of one nonteaching employee.

A Victory For South In District Capital

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese ground forces and allied warplanes drove Communist attackers out of the district capital of Phu My along South Vietnam's central coast Monday. An American adviser said it was a big victory for the government troops.

"It was quite a victory. We've waxed them. They've withdrawn and pulled back, but they're still out there. I'll tell you we're going to win this one," said Col. Phillip Kaplan, senior U.S. adviser to the South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division.

Field reports said about 300 Communists were killed in three days of fighting, mostly by air strikes. Government casualties were listed as 16 killed.

Kaplan said a major part of the credit for the South Vietnamese victory should go to a defector who tipped government troops the attack was coming and gave details of the Communist plans.

Phu My is located in Binh Dinh province, South Vietnam's most populated area, about 280 miles north of Saigon. Most of the province is controlled by the Communists.

In other developments:

Two Communist 130 mm artillery shells exploded under the guided missile destroyer USS Joseph Strauss off Cape Mui Ron in North Vietnam, causing "shock" damage aboard the ship but no casualties.

Two American Marine pilots were killed when their F4 Phantom was shot down near Phu My. Four other planes and helicopters were shot down in the same area and two other aircraft were downed in other areas of South Vietnam. Two American airmen were also wounded in separate incidents, one near An Loc 60 miles north of Saigon, and the other about 25 miles north of Saigon.

The Communists sank two 35-foot South Vietnamese landing craft in a river 48 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Minh province. Two government sailors were listed as missing.

North Vietnamese gunners dropped 540 artillery, rocket and mortar shells into An Loc and three relief columns trying to fight their way into the town. A government spokesman said eight Communist and four government soldiers were killed.

Scattered fighting was reported in the Central Highlands city of Kontum which was attacked by the Communists 12 days ago. Government spokesmen said 204 Communists were killed in the city Sunday with South Vietnamese losses of 11 dead.

Saigon authorities said they captured eight Communist field leaders in an area of the capital almost leveled in the May offensive in 1968.

Radio Hanoi said anitaircraft crews shot down an American fighter-bomber 20 miles northwest of Hanoi Sunday but the U.S. command refused comment.

Some Voters Can Still Ballot

Registered voters who did not receive sample ballots still may ballot tomorrow, the Marin County elections office said today.

Acknowledging a handful of complaints from citizens who reported they did not receive their sample ballots, the elections office said that voters need only present their registration receipt to ballot at their regular polling place. Voters uncertain where to ballot may get this information by telephoning the elections office at the Civic Center.

The elections office said it received about a dozen such complaints this morning, several of them from persons who had failed to reregister after moving to a new address since the last election.

Alabama's Constitution Puts Beasley In Charge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) --Lt. Gov. Jere Beasley today assumed the duties of the Alabama governorship, a responsibility assigned to him under the state constitution until Gov. George C. Wallace returns to Alabama.

Beasley, 36, received authority to take over the governor's duties in a telegram from Secretary of State Mabel Amos because Wallace had remained out of the state more than 20 days. Beasley took no oath of office to assume the duties of governor.

Wallace has been confined to Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Spring, Md., since May 15 when he was shot during a political rally at a Laurel, Md., shopping center. Wallace left Alabama the morning of May 15 to campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The last time an Alabama lieutentant governor assumed the duties of governor was in 1967 when Albert P. Brewer took over for a few hours while the late Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace was confined to a Texas hospital. She returned to the state shortly after Brewer took over.

Elvin Stanton, Wallace's assistant press secretary, said in Silver Spring that he had no indication when Wallace would be able to return to the state. The constitution provides that the governor resume his duties when he crosses the state line to return home.

When he received official notice that he was to assume the governorship, Beasley was at the three bedroom old brick home in East Montgomery where he lives with his wife, Sara, and three children, Jere Jr., 11; Julia Ann, 9, and Linda Lee, 6.

Appearing to take the new responsibilities calmly, Beasley said "It's not exactly a sad day, but it is not happy by any means. I don't like the circumstances. I would much prefer the governor be here."

Beasley, from Wallace's hometown of Clayton, had been at odds with Wallace much of the time since they took office in 1971, but Beasley said Sunday he did not plan to make any changes while subbing for Wallace.

"Gov. Wallace and I never had any personal disagreements," he said. "Now is not the time to let any disagreements with his people stand in the way. The condition of the governor and his health are paramount."

Jesuit To Give Up Big Estate

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)— James Michalski would not give up his chance to become a Jesuit priest for half a million dollars.

When Michalski takes his vows Thursday, he will be giving up a family estate totaling almost that amount. His father, Leon G. Michalski, who died in 1968, offered James the money in his will if he would leave the religious life.

"What's so surprising?" he said. "I don't see life in terms of money. I'm really very happy. I feel I can bring more love into the world in what I'm doing."

Berrigan Leads Services Outside Cathedral's Walls

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rev. Daniel Berrigan paused for a moment in the rays of sunlight streaming into the Gothic cathedral and told his followers, "This is where we belong anyway—outside the walls."

With that, he led almost half the 500 persons who had gathered for a mass for peace at St. Patrick's Cathedral to a nearby concrete terrace.

There, with a cross fashioned out of two screws by a Danbury prison convict hanging from his neck, the antiwar priest delivered the sermon he was not allowed to deliver inside the church Sunday.

"Evidently," the Jesuit activist said, "I was prohibited because certain unpleasant questions would undoubtedly be raised if I did speak which would be emberrassing to the cardinal (Terence Cooke)."

Among the questions he intended to raise, Father Berrigan said, was why Cardinal Cooke had not denounced the recent escalation of the Vietnam War; why he did not raise the moral questions of the war during his visit to the White House, and why the cardinal did not visit war resisters in jail in addition to visiting troops in Vietnam.

Cardinal Cooke, who was out of town Sunday, two weeks ago issued a pastoral letter calling for a speedy end to the war.

However, Father Berrigan said the cardinal was "ignoring the questions we're trying to raise." He said the Catholic church "prefers good order over human life."

Ronald Stafford For Water District

Ronald Stafford is a physician and conservationist who feels the electorate must do something to prevent the destruction of Marin County by over-development. Stafford thinks Marin residents do not look forward to an 8 lane Tiburon Blvd., or 10 lane Sir Francis Drake (The Transportation Committee of the City-County Planning Council projects this by 1990 if the present growth rate continues).

In an attempt to confuse and mislead the voters, Stafford's opposition has used scare tactics in talking about a "perversion of Water District function", a "control board directing the public's thinking", and "zoning with water". The developers and "growth is progress" people are frightened by Dr. Stafford's suggestions for effective action to limit unreasonable growth.

Dr. Stafford wants the Water District to remain a service agency - but one which is responsive to the voters.

Ronald Stafford has stated that:

(1) The Countywide Plan can establish reasonable growth limits to prevent over-development of Marin County. The Water District can help implement this by only allowing water connections consistent with the plan.

(2) If the Countywide Plan is not implemented, then voters have the option of not expanding the water supply in order to prevent unreasonable growth.

(3) The water supply of present users must be protected. (This carries out the intent of the State Water Code-Section 356). Voters should not be coerced into voting on bond issues by the threat of water rationing.

Voters subsidize growth through increased water rates and spiraling taxes for schools and other services.
Ronald Stafford thinks that a democracy should allow voters to make the ultimate decision about growth which we are obligated to pay for.

Endorsed by the Pacific Sun, Marin Alternative, and the Tiburon-Belvedere Committee for the Environment.

Chairman Al Arambura - 10 Tara View Rd., Tiburon, Ca.

The Finale To State's Primary

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hubert H. Humphrey today accused George S. McGovern of voting to "emasculate" a key section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. He scheduled an hour-long telethon on election eve in a last-ditch effort to stop McGovern.

McGovern, confident of winning the important California primary and its 271 delegate votes, broke off his campaigning in the state to schedule a four-hour swing into New Mexico, which also holds a primary Tuesday.

Aides to both senators looked for a common break in the hectic schedules to arrange a fourth "debate," which Humphrey suggested and to which McGovern agreed.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a rally in Oakland, Humphrey accused McGovern of "a brazen and full scale attempt to emasculate the voting rights provision of the Civil Rights Act."

He said McGovern joined 22 senators, including 18 southerners, in voting against a provision that allows the attorney general to require that all courts expedite legal complaints on voting rights.

"I challenge Senator McGovern to deny to any black or any Mexican-American or to anyone else in the state of California that he did not cast this vote," Humphrey said.

The Mnnesota senator, trailing McGovern by 46-26 per cent in the highly-respected California-Field poll, scheduled a prime-time (8 p.m.-9 p.m.) television program during which listeners can call and ask him questions. The program will be shown on nine commercial TV stations and 32 cable television systems with an estimated 1.7 million viewers.

Humphrey surfaced his own poll, taken in Los Angeles County by Public Affairs Communications Associates in Washington, D.C. which showed the Minnesota senator trailing by less than 1 per cent. His campaign manager claimed the survey, taken Saturday, showed a Humphrey surge but also documented that Humphrey surprisingly trails McGovern among blacks and Chicanos and runs even with Jewish voters.

Humphrey's suggestion for still one more debate was made spontaneously during the third showdown (ABC's Issues and Answers) Sunday, which included other candidates for the nomination, Rep. Shirley Chisholm, Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty and a representative of hospitalized George C. Wallace.

The candidates sparred over the release of American prisoners-of-war; commitments to Israel; support of the Democratic presidential nominee, and other issues.

Humphrey urged President Nixon to send former Treasury Secretary John Connally to Hanoi with a fixed date for the withdrawal of American troops if North Vietnam would at the same time release the American POWs.

But Mrs. Chisholm and McGovern said the withdrawal of American forces should not be dependent on the release of the prisoners.

"We have to say 'let's get out of there' and at the same time continue negotiations for the release of the prisoners," Mrs. Chisholm said.

"I agree 100 per cent with what Rep. Chisholm has just said," McGovern said. "She is talking common sense on this issue. It is clear now that we are not going to get our prisoners released if we stay on this present military course."

McGovern and Humphrey promised to support the winner of the presidential nomination, but Mrs. Chisholm and Yorty refused to give a "blank check" pledge prior to the convention.

Asked to choose between Humphrey and McGovern, Mrs. Chisholm said "I would be interested in seeing who would be with Mr. Humphrey or Mr. McGovern in terms of a team. The vice presidency of the country is becoming very, very important."

On CBS-TV, where a court order gave her free time because she was excluded from last week's debate, Mrs. Chisholm called McGovern and Humphrey "part of the national leadership of recent years that has brought this country to its current malaise." She also predicted no candidate would win on the first ballot.

Maddox Slap At Some Governors

MONROE, Ga. (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox today criticized "fence-straddling" Democratic governors in the South for failing to endorse the presidential candidacy of George Wallace.

Maddox said in a prepared speech to a Monroe civic club that for the first time in history the South has its strongest presidential candidate.

"But fence-straddling Southern Democratic governors, by failing to endorse the candidacy of George Wallace and give him the enthusiastic support he deserves, are slapping Governor Wallace and the majority of their constituents in the face," Maddox declared.

He said the governors "are in touch with one another but are out of touch with the people and with reality."

Texas Demos Choose Wealthy Rancher As Governor Nominee

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Democrats have chosen wealthy rancher Dolph Briscoe, 49, as their nominee for governor, rejecting the liberal populist campaign of Frances Farenthold, the first serious woman candidate for governor in Texas in more than 30 years.

The results from Saturday's primary runoff reconfirmed the strength of the state's conservative Democrats, although the old ruling clique headed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson and former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally was shattered.

Corruption in state government was a major factor in both the May 6 primary and the runoff Saturday, and Briscoe, a cattleman and banker who already owns more land in Texas than any other individual, said in his campaign he was above corruption.

Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby Jr. won the party's nomination for lieutenant governor over State Sen. Wayne Connally, brother of the former treasury secretary. Hobby is unopposed in the November general elections.

The only big upset was the defeat of former Sen. Ralph Yarborough by Barefoot Sanders, former White House aide to Johnson, for the senatorial nomination. Yarborough came within about 500 votes of winning outright May 6, out of more than 2 million votes cast.

But voters returning Saturday chose the more conservative Sanders to challenge the Senate seat held by Republican John Tower in November.

Briscoe, who served in the state legislature from 1948 to 1954, ran a poor fourth in the 1968 Democratic primary for governor. But since that election, state government has been scandalized by stock bribes, use of stamps to buy personal goods and other misuse of tax money.

Three lawmakers have been convicted of felonies and four are awaiting trial. Among those already convicted was former House Speaker Gus Mutscher, who was also defeated Saturday. One of his proteges, Speaker Rayford Price, also lost in a runoff.

Brasilia, Brazil's capital, was founded with the aim of developing the country's interior.

Veteran In Senate Loses Bid; Admits Poor Drive

RALEIGH, N.C, (UPI)—Sen. B. Everett Jordan, the 14-year Senate veteran who lost his Democratic primary reelection bid to Rep. Nick Galifianakis, blamed his defeat on not taking his opponent seriously enough until it was too late.

Galifianakis' Republican opponent in the general election is making no such mistake. Jesse Helms, known for his conservative editorials over the Tobacco Broadcasting Network, claimed Sunday that many of Jordan's workers have pledged to support him.

Helms indicated these campaigners were angry over the "inaccurate statements" made against Jordan by the congressman.

When the unofficial tabulation was completed Saturday night, Galifianakis held a margin of almost 66,000 votes—334,326 to 268,555—over Jordan.

Jordan, 75, conceded after Saturday's defeat in the primary runoff that he should have put on a more active campaign for re-election. He didn't begin a real campaign until after he trailed Galifianakis, 43, in the first primary May 6.

Jordan, his deeply lined face squinting into the television lights, said Galifianakis had said some inaccurate things about him, but put most of the blame for the loss on a weak campaign effort.

Von Braun On Apollo Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Werner Von Braun believes the December Apollo flight to the moon will be the last in a "long time."

"I'm convinced we will one day revisit the moon but if we do, we will do it with more advanced equipment that will enable us to carry more payload to the moon and extend our lunar stay...to many weeks," Von Braun said Sunday.

The German-born rocket expert, who will retire from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) at the end of this month, made his comments in a radio-television discussion with Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr., R-N.Y.

THEIR GARDEN at the home in Fairfax where they have lived for 40 years is a source of pride to Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Kramer, who celebrated 50 years of marriage over the weekend.

Forty-year residents of Fairfax, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Kramer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary over the weekend.

They were honored at a reception yesterday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Ferrari of Novato. But actually, the former Ethel Oliver and Harry Kramer were married 50 years ago Saturday, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. W. S. Oliver, in Piedmont.

Although both the Kramers were living in San Francisco at the time of their marriage, Mrs. Kramer was born in Portland, Ore., and came to Oakland and then San Francisco as a girl. Mr. Kramer was born in San Francisco, and both attended San Francisco schools.

AFTER THEIR marriage, they continued to live in San Francisco. He was employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and she with the telephone company.

Mrs. Kramer ended her telephone work after seven years to raise a family, and the Kramers moved to Marin in the winter of 1932, temporarily, they thought, through the summer.

"We went back to the city and didn't like it, so we came back to Fairfax," Mrs. Kramer explained. The couple still lives in the house they bought then at 16 Marin Road. They say their neighborhood hasn't changed very much in 40 years.

Mr. Kramer retired from the PG and E in 1955. The couple likes to garden and he has been active in the Fairfax Lions Club and the San Rafael Elks Lodge. Mrs. Kramer has been a member of the Parent-Teacher Association and the Mothersingers group of the P-TA and the Dorcas Society of the Fairfax Congreational Church.

GIVING THE reception were the Ferraris, the Kramers' son Frank Kramer of Fairfax, and their daughter, Mrs. La Verne Ruhl of San Anselmo and their grandchildren, Mrs. Judy Cher of Sonoma, Lloyd and Curtis Ruhl of San Anselmo, Mrs. Charles Robinson of Mill Valley and Michael and Lynette Ferrari of Novato.

Attending the reception were two of the Kramers' wedding party, her sister, Mrs. Gladys Baird of Glendale, who was the flower girl, and Mr. Kramer's cousin, Mrs. Herman Persson of San Francisco. The Kramers also have a great granddaughter, Kimberly Robinson.

Some 50 relatives and friends attended the afternoon party.

By HELEN BOTTEL

Jealous Wife Considers Having Affair To Get Back At Husband

DEAR HELEN:

All I do is sit around and think about my husband's old girl friends. I guess he never went with a girl he didn't take to bed — until he met pure little me. Then he changed completely. We've been married a year and you couldn't ask for a more understanding, kind and true husband, but I still worry.

The minute he's out of my sight, I see him in my mind's eye, taking up with the first floozy he meets. I've thought of having an affair just to get even with him for his past. And then I get depressed, thinking that if I'd had flings before marriage, maybe I wouldn't be so jealous now. He never went home from a singles bar alone — back then. I never even went to one.

It's unfair, that he had all the fun before marriage, and I didn't. So I take it out on him by being mean and then I hate myself for it. What's wrong with me? — CRAZY JEALOUS FOR NO GOOD REASON

DEAR JEALOUS:

Are you jealous of the present or resentful of the past — when your husband had "all the fun and you didn't"? A little honest self-analysis (or perhaps a journey into your subconscious) might show you that his tales of conquests make you feel too, too "pure" and uninteresting by comparison. Are you actually pushing him toward cheap pickups so that you will have an excuse for a fling? Are you "competing" with him? Trying to find out what you missed, under the guise of getting even?

If so, you may lose him — for one of those "floozies" could just replace you permanently.

Be grateful you've got a great, faithful guy and knock off the curiosity, insecurity, anger, brooding — whatever — over a past that won't be repeated unless you ask for a rerun. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A few months ago I received an unsigned letter from a reader of your column. (I know because she enclosed a clipping from Helen Help Us — about friendship.)

You see, I'm serving time in prison, and this person remembered me after nearly 16 years. We were in grade school together. She wished me well and reminded me of a letter I once gave her in school, and how much it meant to her at a really "down" time in her life. She didn't think I'd remember anything about "that sad little girl" and so she said her name was unimportant.

Would you please print this letter, Helen, so that she will read it and know that I do remember. But most of all, please tell her that her letter to me here in prison helped in a big way — I still read it over almost every day. Please tell her I think she's a beautiful person and I hope her life has luck and happiness around every corner. The bad doesn't seem nearly so bad when there are people like her who really care. All the world needs a friend. — I REMEMBER HER

DEAR "REMEMBER":

How true: "Everyone in the world needs a friend." I hope your friend reads your "thanks" and writes again. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I don't know how to start this letter, but I need help and don't know where to get it. What I really need is somebody who won't turn his back.

I was in jail a year and a half and, while there, I learned a trade and started going to church. I've tried to do good since I got home but my kinfolks won't have anything to do with me and my wife turns me away. She likes someone else better now, and when I tell her I'm making it on my new job, she calls me a liar.

At church here in town I thought I'd be accepted but the people acted like I was a disgrace and wouldn't even shake my hand. I served my term. Do I pay for the rest of my life?

I don't know how much longer I can stand this — even at work they stay clear of me. The pen in not all that bad. I had friends there. The outside world doesn't want to give an ex-thief a second chance. — EX-CONVICT OF DENTON COUNTY

DEAR EX:

Has rejection by your wife and relatives made you so sensitive that you expect rejection everywhere? Perhaps your suspicions keep church members and fellow workers at a distance.

Stop thinking of yourself as "the ex-con nobody trusts," and remember there are many people waiting to give you a second chance, once you erase that "loner" image. — H.

San Anselmo Rite For Miss Hocker

Claudia Hocker of San Rafael became the bride of Chip Spencer of Ukiah Sunday in a ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo. She was given in marriage by her brother, Van Hocker of Novato.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dee Dee Hocker of Novato, and the bridegroom's sister, Mary Ann Spencer of Redwood Valley, and Georgia Crawford of San Anselmo were bridesmaids.

Best man was Carlos Sanchez of Ukiah, and guests were ushered to their seats by John Drescsel of San Rafael and Paul Sandlin of Novato.

Following a reception at Deer Park Villa restaurant in Fairfax the couple left on a wedding trip to Carmel. They will live in Ukiah.

The bride is the daughter of Bette C. Porter of San Rafael. She is a graudate of San Rafael High School and prior to her marriage was employed at Marin Manor Retirement Home in San Rafael.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spencer of Redwood Valley are the bridegroom's parents. He attended Ukiah High School and College of San Mateo and is the owner of Jeans North in Ukiah.

Kostics Are Back From Europe Trip

By MOLLY MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kostic have just returned to Mill Valley after a month touring London, France, Northern Italy, Rome and Sweden. The highlight of their trip was the May 27 wedding of Mrs. Kostic's friend, Eva Munktell, in Uppsala, Sweden.

Eva, first American Field Service Exchange student at Katharine Branson School, lived duricg 1956 at the Mill Valley home of Dr. and Mrs. Rodney B. Hartman, Mrs. Kostic's parents. Transoceanic visits have been exchanged since.

Eva has now completed her medical education in Sweden and plans to practice in Southern Sweden with her doctor husband, Axel Davidson.

Their traditional reception for 100 guests was a formal, white-tie affair of eleborate Swedish ritual lasting late into the night.

The couple plans to revisit Mill Valley next year.

DR. AND Mrs. Hyman Krongard of Strawberry are showing cultural highlights of San Francisco to Mrs. Krongard's 16-year-old cousin. Their houseguest, James Noel Franks III of San Antonio, planned to escort their daughter, Anita, Saturday, when she was installed as guide of Job's Daughters Bethel 119 of Mill Valley.

Won't Make Marks

Bobby pins, metal clips and brush rollers tend to split ends and damage hair. Foam rollers and cellophane tape can be used to create guiches, bangs and tendrils and will not create marks or ridges on the hair.

McGovern For Consumer Checks

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Which of the major candidates for President would do the most to solve problems faced by American consumers!

Many persons would like to know before casting their ballots. So would the Consumer Federation of America, a collection of nearly 200 private organizations, which seeks to represent consumers in Washington.

The federation recently sent out a series of 10 questions to presidential candidates of both parties asking their views on major consumer issues.

On the Republican side, queries were sent to President Richard M. Nixon and Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio. Neither responded.

On the Democratic side, questionnaires were sent to Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, Gov. George C. Wallace, Mayor John V. Lindsay and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark.

Detailed responses to the questions were received only from McGovern and Humphrey. Muskie sent a letter, an aide for Wallace sent a general statement, and Representative Chisholm sent position papers from which her position was extracted where applicable. Others did not reply.

McGovern and Humphrey, the two leading candidates, show general agreement on most matters but differ significantly on three: consumer product safety legislation, no-fault automobile insurance and tax reform.

CFA REPORTS that McGovern is the only major candidate to flatly endorse an independent product safety agency with complete jurisdiction over government programs for safety of foods, drugs and other products. Such a proposal is the subject of hot dispute in Congress.

According to the CFA, both Humphrey and Muskie avoided taking a stand on the matter though both said they favor stronger government safety efforts.

On the matter of auto insurance, McGovern and Muskie both support a national no-fault insurance law. Humphrey says he has not decided what the remedy should be but concedes that reform is needed. The Wallace statement did not answer either question.

On tax reform, Humphrey and McGovern are not far apart. Both agree on the need for "meaningful tax reform. . .including elimination of income tax loopholes for the rich; pass through to consumers of tax savings given to regulated utilities; repeal of special tax dispensations recently granted to business. . ."

BUT McGOVERN has made tax reform the "central issue" of his campaign and has drawn up a detailed program aiming for savings of $28 billion. Humphrey co-sponsored a tax reform bill which seeks to save $14 billion. Muskie and Wallace also agree on the need for reform but are not specific.

The leading four Democratic contenders generally share views on the other issues in the survey, including the need for a law encouraging class action suits, stronger enforcement of antitrust laws, a more vigorous Federal Trade Commission, a comprehensive national energy program, a government trust fund for development of mass transportation systems and comprehensive health care.

The CFA did not sum up the answers and draw any conclusions for fear it might jeopardize its tax status. Copies of the 12-page pamphlet may be obtained from CFA, 1012 14th Street, N. W., Washington, D.C., 20005.

RAPPING ABOUT THE REDUCING WRAP

Many questions have been raised concerning the new methods of size and weight reduction now offered in health studios around the country. The following information is designed to help answer some of your questions about our organic mummy wrap, not to make or imply any medical or therapeutic claims.

Q. What is the Ann Marie Body Wrap method?
A. Our body wrap is a reducing process allowing a person to lose inches and in many instances, pounds, as it liquefies fat, lightens scars, stretch and age marks, increases the circulation, draws out the poisons and toxins without dehydration and most of all it conditions and shrinks the skin.
Q. Is the Organic Mummy Wrap safe for me to use?
A. A dermatologist brought this formula from Europe and developed this exclusively for Ann Marie Figure Salons. Any person can use our wrap. We suggest if you have any question about your health or reducing plans, consult your family doctor, before beginning your program of self improvement.

Nancy Ruud
Lost 8 inches from upper thighs in 2 wraps.

Jean Hicks
Lost 6 inches in first visit, next day another 7¾ inches all in the tummy area.

Q. Does wrapping involve exercise?
A. No, our body wrap works independently of exercise. You do nothing except lie back, relax, read a book, or even take a nap while your body wrap treatment works for you. We ask you not to go into any exercise program of any kind while on our program.

Delores Ownes
Went from size 12 to a size 9 in just 10 visits.

Q. Is the treatment hot?
A. No, heat sometimes triggers your body into gaining weight and makes your skin flabby. With our body wrap we cool the body making your skin young and tight. It feels good too.
Q. How fast will we see results?
A. You will feel and see results after your first treatment. In just 90 minutes we guarantee you will lose from 5 to 25 inches, depending on where you are wrapped or your money will be refunded.
Q. How do I know I am receiving results.
A. In many ways: Prior to the wrap we measure tightly and mark each and every person where they are measured. Second, after the wrap you are remeasured on the same mark so the before and after measurements are as accurate as possible. In addition many people will lose actual body weight as well as inches making the results evident.
Q. Is our wrap like most of the other wraps I have heard about?
A. No. Our wrap is considerably different from any of the other reducing wraps on the market. We use the compression method because it works best. We have used this for 13 years. This method molds the body the way you want it. It increases circulation, pulls fatty granules out of the tissue. The tighter you are wrapped the more you lose. Our lotion is different. It is organic and completely safe. Our added tightening ingredient LJ5 is also organic which conditions the skin and makes the inch loss more permanent.
Q. Do I lose all over?
A. Not necessarily, we use the controlled area method. What this means is we wrap you only where you want to lose. You can lose as much as 3 inches or more off midriff and back, without changing the size of the bust.

Q. Does this mean the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is a water loss that will return after drinking water?
A. We feel that the inch loss a person receives from our wrap is more permanent than dieting or exercise. As with dieting or exercising, the permanency of inch loss depends on a person's day to day habits after the event. Contrary to common belief, a liquid loss of this nature will not return permanently upon the consumption of non-caloric fluids. Drinking water is non-caloric and its ingestion travels the digestive process with the greatest percentage leaving the body through the urinary system. We encourage you to drink as much as eight glasses of water a day.
Q. Do you use any drugs or medications.
A. Absolutely not!
Q. How long does it last?
A. Nothing lasts forever but most of our ladies are happy for one year.
Q. Can the face be wrapped?
A. Yes. Most of our ladies do take facials. It is not only very restful but it stops the aging process, tightens the neck, eye and chin tissue as it lightens scar and age marks.

Ethel Fuller

Q. Do you keep wrap records in your salons?
A. At all Ann Marie Figure Salons, measurements before and after the process are recorded and the results totaled on a measurement chart. Statistical material gathered from these charts in our Santa Rosa salon, which we routinely keep, for the month of February, 1972, showed an average inch loss of 8.67 inches per application for patrons wrapped that month. This was based on approximately 211 wraps applied. If you would like to confirm the results for yourself, you're welcome to stop by and review our result charts at any time.
Q. Is the wrap painful?
A. No. Unlike salons who use rough paper which has to be hosed off, we use sterilized rolls of soft cotton bandages.
A. Our wrap has worked on thousands of other people and that's why we offer a money back guarantee if you don't lose from 5 to 25 inches, depending on where you are wrapped. May we suggest that anybody with a figure problem call us for a body wrap analysis without cost or obligation. These consultations are private and confidential.

TIME MAGAZINE: "The most passive reduction plan yet developed.
PAGEANT: "Jane Fonda is reported to have successfully remodeled her legs using it . . . Candy Bergen is supposed to have firmed up her entire body."

LEAVES COURTHOUSE — Angela Davis is accompanied by a friend, Victoria Marcado, and a retinue of bodyguards as she leaves the courthouse in San Jose after her acquittal by an all-white jury.

A JUBILANT CROWD — Angela Davis supporters clap their hands and break out in smiles upon hearing of Miss Davis's exoneration in the 13-week murder, kidnap and conspiracy trial in San Jose. The jury debated 13 hours over a three-day period which ended yesterday with the verdicts of innocent.

Two Parties, One Loud, One Quiet

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)— Angela Davis sipped champagne in a victory toast with the jurors who acquitted her Sunday of murder-kidnap charges and celebrated later at an earsplitting public party.

The black militant made her public appearance at a suburban night club where more than 500 boisterous supporters packed the darkened dance floor, dancing to the beat of a three-piece band.

Television and newspaper cameramen were ordered out of the nightclub and three Yugoslavian journalists flown here by the U.S. Information Agency especially for the verdict were roughly pushed away from Miss Davis' table.

The crowd, which included numerous whites and small children held on parents' shoulders, cheered loudly when Miss Davis, 28, arrived at the Safari Room, almost seven hours after she had told friends she would make the appearance.

Friends said she rested and talked with colleagues for several hours after a 3-1-2 hour private victory party she hosted for nine jurors and one alternate.

The quieter party was held at a friend's house where Miss Davis had been staying during the almost 14 weeks of trial. Jurors toasted Miss Davis with champagne and the former defendant signed autographs. Some of the jurors later arrived at the Safari Room fest.

A spokeswoman for the Angela Davis Defense Committee said that the defense had cost approximately $250,000. She said contributions would not meet all the costs, but that the deficit would not be known until the final bookkeeping.

ALL SMILES — Rodger and Darlene McAfee are all smiles upon learning of the acquittal of Angela Davis. The Fresno couple put up the collateral needed for Miss Davis's bond. McAfee said that "once again our faith in the American system has been justified in the acquittal. . . "

'Surprisingly Little Dispute,' On Panel, Eldest Juror Says

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—One of the jurors who acquitted Angela Davis said there was "surprisingly little dispute" during the 13 hours of deliberations in the murder-kidnap-conspiracy trial.

"From the very start we more or less considered it a very doubtful case," said Robert Seidel, 69, oldest juror.

"It was all circumstantial and we just couldn't forge a link" between Miss Davis and Jonathan Jackson, the 17-year-old youth who carried the guns into the Marin County courtroom and kidnaped five hostages.

Seidel said communism and race were never mentioned during the deliberations because Miss Davis "was not charged with being a Communist."

In Moscow, the Tass news agency said today the acquittal "signifies a victory for progressive American and world opinion."

The first official Soviet commentary of the Angela Davis acquittal refused to give any credit in principle to American justice, but said it was the collapse of a frame-up too offensive to be accepted even by the jury.

In Los Angeles, Sen. George S. McGovern told a crowd of cheering blacks at a rally in Watts that the acquittal should be "cause for rejoicing,"

McGovern, speaking two hours after a jury in San Jose cleared Miss Davis of involvement in the Marin County courthouse shooting, was greeted by a crowd chanting:

"Power of the people has freed Angela."

"This is a happy day which I can understand," he said. "This is another demonstration that we can be pleased about.

"That's not a cause for mourning. That's not a cause for protest. That ought to be a cause for rejoicing."

MUSIC REVIEW

By IRA KAMIN

Ravi Shankar gave two concerts Saturday evening at the Veterans Memorial Building. The 7 p.m. performance was pure joy. And I don't doubt the second performance at 10 p.m. was, too.

Shankar played two ragas with Alla Rakha on Tabla (Indian drum) and Shankar's son on Tamboura (a three stringed drone instrument) to an audience that only half filled the auditorium, but which sounded more than full with a thundering standing ovation for the master Indian musicians at the end of an exhilarating hour of pure sound. Shankar's son, a young man in his early 20s, replaced at the last moment the scheduled performer, Kamala.

Shankar is around 50 years old. Rakha is near 60. But the energy they communicated Saturday night was ageless and breathtaking.

The three musicians sat cross-legged and barefoot on a small, carpeted elevated stage surrounded by four full floral arrangements, while incense drifted through the auditorium.

Shankar's fingers moved with dazzling facility as he poured endless waves of fresh sounds from his gorgeous four foot long wooden sitar — a many stringed instrument that Shankar has described as having a "strange, zany, shimmering sound." Rakha played the tabla with ten fingers and his palms with easy humor that underscored his virtuosity. The tabla is a set of two drums, one like a small kettle drum, the other having a high pitched, wooden sound that Rakha tuned with a small hammer through the concert. Perfectly together, Rakha and Shankar rode smoothly over the placid drone of the tamboura.

And, in spite of their tremendous technique, one forgot about the instruments for they transcended the medium, and what came across was the essence of music, its spiritual sense.

At times, it was hard to tell who was playing what. Rakha and Shankar play so closely as to become one sound.

And the two show obvious delight in this closeness, as they grin at each other at the end of long phrases that end in miraculous unity.

Shankar began his career as a dancer. And it was after his success with a dancing troupe that he sought out his music Guru, Ustad Allaudin Khan, the father of Ali Akbar Khan, the master sarodist who directs a school of Indian music in San Rafael. Shankar always emphasizes the spiritual and classical nature of the music he plays. He says "You cannot do 'yea yea and go man go'. That's not my music really. It should be heard with a certain feeling of humility and sort of concentration."

When he plays, he closes his eyes or looks over at Rakha or his son. One gets the feeling this man is truly in touch with himself and the musicians around him.

The first raga they played was an evening raga, "with a mood of piece and devotion." The second, "An erotic raga, with more romance and freedom." In both, there was music that was probably never played before and will never be played again. Endless variations of the theme are played, and to be there, live, hearing and seeing these men perform such soulful, fresh music is an unearthly experience. It's also striking to note how temple-like they become in their gesture of a bow. Sitting cross-legged, their elbows outstretched and their palms clasped together above their heads, they form the architecture of Eastern holy buildings.

The 20-member Sufi choir opened the concert. They combine religious choral music of the East and West with tabla, guitar, trombone, reeds and bass into a relaxed, interesting sound.

Russian 1st In Piano Competition

BRUSSELS (UPI) — David Lively, experiencing his first taste of adulation, grinned at the audience and waved for silence. The audience stomped and cheered even more.

Marcel Poot, chairman of the jury of the Queen Elisabeth International Competition, shrugged and waited patiently to continue reading the list of winners.

Gilels' annoyance was understandable.

Valery Afanasiev, his favorite pupil, had placed first but had been booed by the 3,000 spectators gathered at the Brussels Palace of Fine Arts early Sunday to hear the results.

Afanasiev, 24, had taken the boos in his stride and hugged and kissed all the other 11 finalists. The Russian had given the impression throughout the competition that he lived in a musical world of his own.

His authority and flair impressed all, but he alienated many with an exaggerated, affected playing style.

He admitted to being embarrassed by the reaction of the audience and said later he thought Afanasiev was a "worthy winner."

The 18-member jury may have preferred other competitors to Lively because in effect he tried to win with one hand tied behind his back.

For this final test, Lively chose to play the piano concerto for the left hand by Ravel. He played it well, but it may not have shown his ability to its best advantage.

In the opening vote, Swann had tied with Afanasiev for first place. A revote gave first prize to the Russian.

Joseph Alfidid, a child prodigy born in Yonkers, N.Y., and who has lived in Belgium for nine years, placed third.

The gruelling competition—described by some as more demanding than the more widely recognized Soviet Tchaikovsky prize—had brought together 87 competitors from 26 countries.

The 12 finalists shared more than $20,000 in prize money.

For Afanasiev there was an even bigger prize: A series of recitals and concerts that will launch him on an international career.

Only Gounod's 'Faust' Gives Community Band Some Trouble

By ROBERT M. NESS

Admirably upholding its traditional quality of performance, the College of Marin Community Band presented the final concert of its season Saturday night before a capacity audience at the college's Fine Arts Theater.

Under the direction of conductor John Myers and guest conductor Gordon Lowe, the group scored with some impressive band works by Fisher Tull, Percy Grainger and Don Gillis, but missed the mark with an arrangement of ballet music from Gounod's "Faust".

Following a rousing march of fame, "Men of Ohio" by Henry Fillmore, Myers led the band through a most difficult and impressive work by Tull, "Toccata". The piece requires rhythmical virtuosity from conductor and players. Potential difficulties rising from constantly changing meters are compounded by the numerous and erratic entrances demanded of the various instruments. Although the performance demonstrated considerable skill, a few wrong entrances contributed to an insecure feeling that permeated the work.

Grainger's "Lincolnshire Posey" is an exceptional work for band. Based on six folk songs gathered by Grainger at the turn of the century in England, it exploits band resources with skill and art. In the third song, "Rufford Park Poachers", Grainger creates an especially unusual instrumental texture by overlapping the tune in solo E flat clarinet, piccolo, and oboe — creating haunting, poignant dissonances.

Guest conductor, Lowe, the head of the music department at Terra Linda High School, conducted "Tulsa (A symphonic Portrait in Oil)" by the American composer and wit Gillis, who is a one of a kind composer. He makes no intellectual demands on his audiences and, with a natural honesty, carries them through a series of fun sounds. A deceptively somber section will suddenly turn into a Souza-like march, followed by a police whistle and a mockery of Ferde Grofe. Lowe and the band had a good time with this work as he demonstrated again his rare ability to get the utmost from both the players and the played.

The juxtaposition of Maurice Ford's transcription of "Tulsa" against Dan Godfrey's of Ballet Music from Gounod's "Faust" illustrates the plague hovering over band repertoire. Often there is not a substitute for string textures no matter how skilled the arranger.

"Tulsa" worked well for band because its instrumentation and textures fell naturally in place with wind instruments. Godfrey's arrangement was not so musically fortunate. While it brilliantly displays a band's technical abilities, for the most part it is musical nonsense. Clarinets simply are not violins.

Salad Oil King Is Released

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UPI)— Anthony "Tino" De Angelis, former "salad oil king" of Bayonne, N. J., was released from federal prison on parole today after serving seven years of a 20-year sentence.

De Angelis, 56, was sentenced in 1965 on three counts of fraud and one count of conspiracy in connection with an elaborate scheme that reportedly caused his creditors to lose $150 million.

DeAngelis was charged with forging about $100 million in American Express Co. warehouse receipts and using that as collateral to borrow money.

The receipts were supposed to be for salad oil stored in De Angelis' firm in Bayonne, N. J.

As the price of vegetable oil declined, creditors learned they held receipts for 1.8 billion pounds of vegetable oil, though there was only 100 million pounds in the plant.

When creditors asked De Angelis to cover the transactions because the market was falling off, he filed for bankruptcy.

Dr. Wolff Leads Choruses In Brilliant Bach Mass

Obviously touched by a lengthy standing ovation, Dr. S. Drummond Wolff made his final bow and retired as the director of the College of Marin choruses. His years in Marin could not have culminated in a more fitting evening than they did last night.

A spellbound capacity audience of 1,500 persons listened in awed silence as Dr. Wolff carried the choruses to new heights in Bach's glorious Mass in B Minor. Despite the overcrowded and hot conditions in the college's gymnasium where the concert was held, the proverbial pin would have rumbled had it been dropped.

Soprano Meg Broughton, contralto Donna Petersen, tenor Paul Raabe, and organist Arthur Hills joined Wolff, a small professional orchestra, and the combined College of Marin Community Chorus and Collegiate Chorale for this memorable performance.

The mass is a succession of great dramatic contrasting choruses interspersed with plaintive arias and duets. While the soloists were superb throughout, it was the chorus that stole the show. From the opening darkly fugal "Kyrie" to the final glorious "Dona nobis pacem," this group of about 300 voices was beautifully balanced, ever secure, and always sensitive to the dynamic leadership of Wolff.

He will be missed. Last night's brilliant musical offering emphasized how much we will miss him. R.N.

Acquitted In Two Slayings

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)— A superior court jury acquitted Sunday Raymond L. S. Patriarca, New England's reputed underworld chieftain, of two counts of being an accessory to murder in the April 1968 shooting of two men.

Patriarca was charged on two counts of being an accessory in the shootings of Rudolph Marfeo and Anthony Melei, at a Providence grocery store on April 20, 1968. The jury deliberated three days on the charges.

Patriarca, 64, identified as New England underworld chief by witnesses who appeared before the House Crime subcommittee, is in federal penitentiary in Atlanta. He was convicted previously of conspiracy in the Marfeo-Malei shootings.

Stafford Lists Contributions

Dr. Ronald T. Stafford, candidate for Marin Municipal Water District director, today reported 24 campaign contributions totaling $725.

Among the six contributing $50 or more were Corte Madera Town Councilman Robert Flahive and Joan Seminario, candidate for the Ross Valley Sanitary District board.

Contributors under $50 included Barbara Boxer, candidate for Marin County supervisor in the Second District.

New Managaer Is Announced

William F. Lennon has been named manager of the Petaluma district of the California Automobile Association.

Lennon has been manager of the San Rafael district since 1958 and will succeed Joseph J. Kirene who has been transferred to the Hayward district.

Lennon, a native of Santa Barbara, has been with the association since 1955.

A $23,000 Special Education Grant

A federal grant of $23,000 has been awarded to the special education department at California State College, Sonoma for improvements in the training program.

Funds from the Office of Education will provide students with stipends and assistantships as well as finance seminars and workshops. Dr. Brian Shears will direct the program.

VW Sedan Taken

Her 1957 green Volkswagen sedan, license LBR883, was stolen from the municipal parking lot at C Street and Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, between 4 p.m. and midnight Saturday, Paula Jean Tyler, 51A Elm Avenue, San Anselmo, told police.

Environmental Film Contest Winners Named

First place awards of $175 each went to a Dominican College art class taught by Sister Adele; William Cooper of 606 Las Colindas Road, San Rafael, and John and Peter Merrill of 2060 Vineyard Road, Novato. A $75 second place award went to Anita Coggs, Ellen Kaye and Kim Colby of Terra Linda, and the motion picture class taught by Kenneth Rosenberg at Davidson Middle School won a $75 special award for its animated feature.

The Lions club earned the prize money by operating the parking lot concession at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building in the Civic Center.

The winning filmmakers will be guests of the Marin Association of Life Underwriters at a luncheon in the Alvarado Inn, Ignacio, June 16.

The Lions club will arrange for showing the films to interested groups throughout Marin County, according to member Peter M. Rohrer.

WORD-A-DAY

Educational Leader On Agenda

Tamalpais High School District trustees may name an educational leader for Tamalpais High School today and extend the dual-administration policy to Redwood High School.

Their meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Redwwood High School faculty lounge, instead of the new student center at Tamalpais High School as previously announced.

District Supt. Wilber D. Hawkins explained that construction work on the center will not be completed in time for the meeting.

District residents and a screening committee have for weeks been winnowing a list of 150 applicants for the Tamalpais educational directorship.

Oral interviews of the four finalists were held Wednesday and Thursday, and the committee and Hawkins were to recommend the top candidate to the board today.

Hawkins also will recommend that Redwood High School Principal Donald N. Kreps be reassigned as educational leader at the school for 1972-73.

No recommendation as to who will be the principal — with duties limited to administration — has been made.

In March, trustees voted 4-1 to move Tamalpais High Principal Raymond J. Bell into purely administrative duties and recruit a new educational leader. The twin leadership policy, part of Hawkins' long-range restructuring of the district, was first put into effect at Sir Francis Drake High School last year.

The trustees also will be asked to authorize filing a new set of charges against Tamalpais High English teacher Kenneth A. Anderson to obtain a required new Superior Court hearing on his firing.

The district and Anderson have been battling for months over his ouster on grounds of "encouraging, condoning and participating" in a student's confessed role in three Southern Marin bombings last year, as well as earlier charges of "unfitness for service" and "persistent violations of and/or refusal to obey school rules."

Proposed teacher evaluation guidelines will be presented to the board for a third hearing, after two prior rejections and revisions. The guidelines are required under the Stull Act.

Trustee Bette S. Wallace will report on the recent Project Breakthrough conference on Black Education.

Driving Course

A defensive driving course designed to instruct licensed drivers in safe driving techniques will be conducted on June 13, 20, 22 and 27 at the Whistlestop, 930 Tamalpais Avenue, San Rafael. A two-hour class session will be held at 10 a.m. each day.

STUDENTS' INSIDE VIEW

Workings Of Law Enforcement

By PAT AGNLE

The young policeman's voice was earnest as he discussed how an officer should conduct himself making an arrest.

The small group of high school students, gathered in the conference room of the Corte Madera Police Department, listened intently. Some took notes to insure the officer's words would not be forgotten.

"When I arrest a drunk, even a sloppy drunk, he's "sir" to me and I treat him like a gentleman because I'm seeing a fine citizen at his worst," Patrolman Gregory Rossoff told his audience.

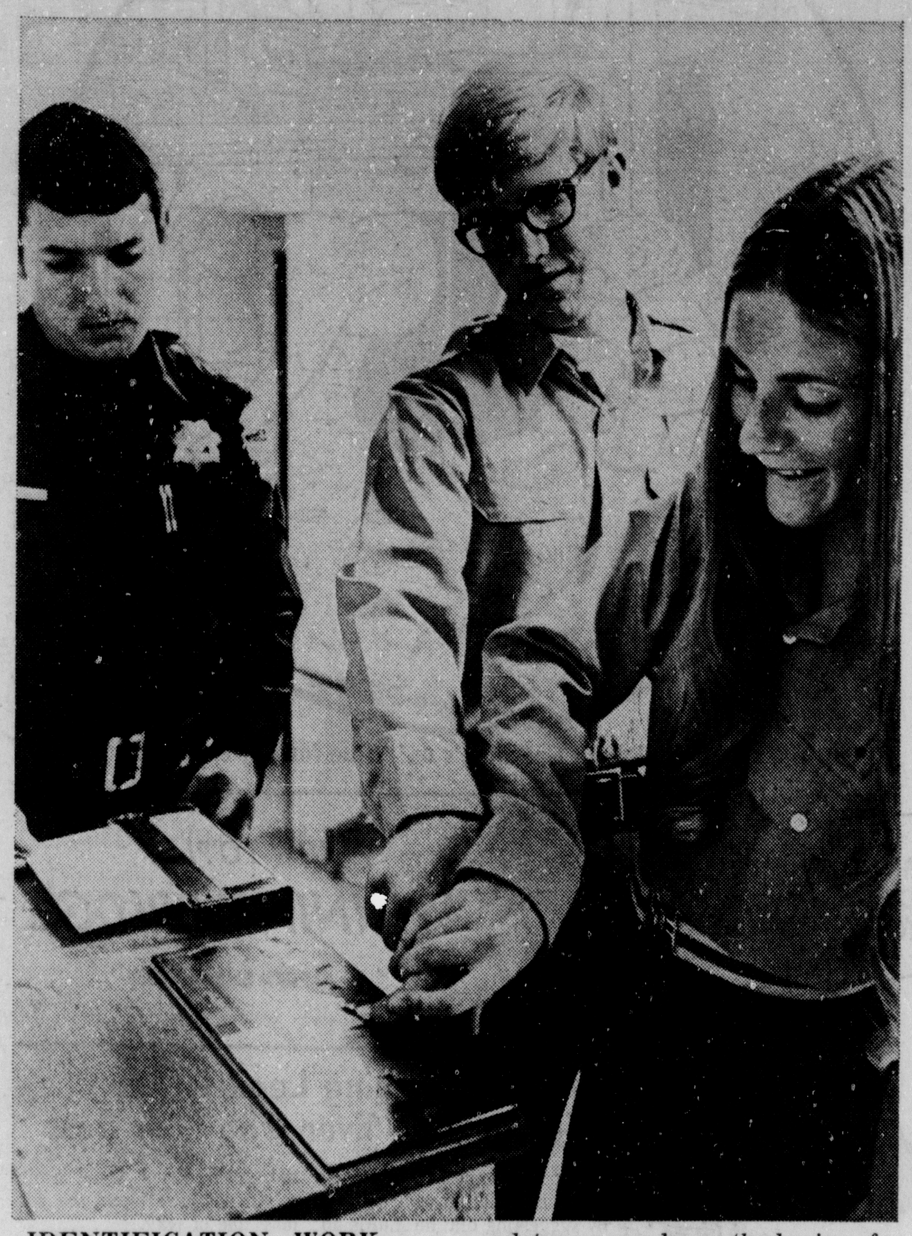
"If you can treat a man with respect when he's at his worst, you've got it made," he added with a smile. Several teenagers nodded in agreement.

The students receiving this inside view of the problems and challenges of law enforcement are part of a junior cadet program, sponsored by Corte Madera police and Redwood High School, designed to give them a firsthand look at daily activities of a police department.

For many, the experience gained as a junior cadet will be the first step toward careers in police work, according to Rossoff, the department's assistant juvenile officer, who has directed the program since it began last May.

In addition to providing the training necessary to enable interested students to become full-fledged paid police cadets when they reach age 18, the course seeks to "break through some of the traditional hostilities between police and young people," Rossoff said.

"We also want to instill a better understanding of law enforcement and the role of police officers in protecting life and property."



IDENTIFICATION WORK — John Musaus takes the fingerprints of Valerie Rost as the students in a Corte Madera police-Redwood High School junior cadet program learn the basics of police identification work. Patrolman Gregory Rossoff, director of the program, guides the students.

Under direct supervision of officers, cadets perform many police functions, including receiving complaints and taking reports, maintaining records and files, dispatching, and analysis of of marijuana and dangerous drugs. Perhaps the most valuable training comes with the opportunity to ride along in patrol units and assist patrolmen when the need arises.

In addition, through lectures by Rossoff and fellow officers, they receive instruction in criminal law, the laws of evidence and search and seizure, juvenile procedures, pistol-shooting and testifying in court.

Sometimes they have a chance to put their training to practical use. "One of our former junior cadets was called on to testify in court on a narcotics arrest I made," the dark-haired Rossoff said. "He was on the stand for 45 minutes and did a marvelous job."

Field trips, too, are part of the program and the cadets have journeyed to the Marin County Communications Center and San Francisco police headquarters. They have also participated in drug education programs, grammar school career days and have demonstrated bicycle safety for younger children.

Often the learning process is mutual, according to Rossoff. "The comments the cadets make give me an insight into my own job," he admitted. He told of three different cadets who had complained that many Corte Madera policeman rode in patrol cars with their hands on the unit's shotguns.

"This was something the officers were doing unconsciously, but it made the kids uptight and they saw it as threatening," he said. "As a result we now have a policy that officers keep their hands off the shotguns while riding around."

To qualify as a junior cadet, youngsters must be Redwood High students, 14 to 18 years old and have a desire to learn more about the inner workings of a police department, according to the 25-year-old director. The student must also be willing to spend the approximately 10 hours a week required. (The cadets receive 10 units of high school credit upon completion of the semester course.)

Even teen-agers with minor juvenile arrest records are eligible, Rossoff said, adding: "We judge these cases on an individual basis."

Since the program began, 36 teen-agers have participated and the waiting list is long since only the 10 top applicants, screened through an oral examination, are selected each semester. The fact that approximately 50 students apply for each new program is both surprising and gratifying to the director, since there is no recruitment program and the word simply "gets around."

Last week the current nine cadets — six boys and three girls — gathered at the police station to discuss what they had learned and experienced since they begin in January.

All wore regulation blue shirts and dark blue trousers or skirts. The boys had relatively short hair (above the collar), a requirement for admission, but said they had no complaints about that regulation.

Most of the teen-agers readily said their ideas about police officers have changed radically since they first became cadets.

Cadet Brad Brixon's comment was typical. "I always thought they were mean old men, cruising around in patrol cars and talking on the radio," he said. "Now I know they are fine people." As a result of his contact with officers, Brixon has decided he wants to be policeman.

Not surprisingly, most of the students said that, since joining the cadet program, they had received harassment from some of their classmates, from mild teasing to cutting comments like "So you're gonna be a pig?"

"I just take it in stride," said Cadet Peter Martin. "At first it bothered me a little, but you get used to it after a while. You can't let a silly thing likethat get you down."

Five of the male cadets and two of the girls said they are not seriously considering careers in law enforcement and all the students indicated they found the profession exciting, challenging and rewarding.

For Scott Huber, being a pliceman will be a childhood dream come ture. "Ever since I was a little kid I admired policemen and wanted to be one and help people." For James Arab, the appeal comes from "never knowing what to expect, wondering what's going to happen next."

Each cadet had his own idea of the most important qualities which every good policeman must possess, from "patience," and "the ability to think quickly and stay calm" to "understanding, the ability to put yourself in the other guy's shoes."

Rossoff had his own idea. "Above all things, a good policeman must have compassion; without that he can't make it," the officer said. "You have to have genuine feelings for people in trouble."

Several cadets said the most valuable knowledge they had gained from the program was the ability to talk to and relate to people in all kinds of situations. "I've learned that an officer must control his negative feelings and emotions and stay clam, no matter how trying the situation is," Huber said.

Cadet John Musaus said his experiences on patrol had taught him the necessity of "keeping control of a situation and yourself."

For example, he said that at an accident, people may be upset and running around and even yelling at officers. "You have to be able to say 'I'm the authority here' and make it stick and that's not easy," Musaus said.

The cadets were in strong agreement on one point: all police departments should initiate cadet programs similar to that in Corte Madera.

"Without programs like this, there is always going to be bad feelings and misunderstandings between young people and police," one cadet said. "And that's sad because my experience as a cadet has shown me there can be real communication and even friendship between most policemen and the kids in their communities."

$500 REWARD IN BOLINAS VANDALISM

A $500 reward has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals who damaged Bolinas fire fighting vehicles and two Stinson Beach businesses on Memorial Day Weekend.

The money is offered by the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club, according to president Philip L. Fritchey who said persons with information are urged to write to the club, Post Office Box 64, Bolinas.

On Sunday, May 29, vandals shot out the windows of the Bolinas Firehouse and fired from 15 to 20 shots at three fire trucks, rendering the vehicles temporarily unusable. Damage was estimated at $200-to-$300 by Bolinas volunteer fire chief Jose A. Silva.

In Stinson Beach the vandals also shot out three windows of the 7-11 store and two from the Seashore Realty and damaged a Stinson Beach telephone booth.

Hollis Refuses To Give Names

Despite an opinion by the county schools' legal adviser that he should do so, County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis today refused to release the names of four unsuccessful applicants for a recent board vacancy.

Hollis said he refused to divulge the names because the original notices seeking applicants for the position had promised not to.

The county board voted behind closed doors May 17 to appoint William L. Sisk of Novato to the position. He will serve until November when he must seek reelection.

Hollis today said that Godino's opinion came too late to alter the board's stand in the matter. He said he was aware of a 1963 public records law (which Godino said would require releasing the names but would stand on the previous board policy of concealing the names in this instance.

Five Novato residents applied for the seat of James A. Swenson, who retired June 1 from the board.

Board member Parrick W. Pollack requested a written opinion May 23 on whether the board policy was legal, which Godino gave last Friday.

Hit-And-Run Suspect To Court Today

A San Anselmo man, arrested Friday on suspicion of felony hit-and-run and felony drunken driving after an accident that sent a Corte Madera man to the hospital, was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Myron Francis Kaczmarek, 28, of 10 Yolanda Drive, San Anselmo, was arrested Friday night in San Rafael at the request of Larkspur police after a motocyclist said he was hit by Kaczamarek's car.

Robert Malcolm Johnson, 41, of 112 Walnut Avenue, Corte Madera, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises he received when his motorcycle spilled. He also complained of neck pain.

According to police, Johnson said he was westbound on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at its Greenbrae intersection with Highway 101 when Kaczmarek's car cut in front of him, striking his motorcycle.

Johnson fell off his motorcycle and Kaczmarek drove onto Highway 101 northbound, according to police. After a police radio call for help, Kaczmarek was spotted at Anjo's bar at 545 4th Street in San Rafael, where he was arrested.

Kaczmarek was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail, to appear in municipal court.

Building Of Mooring Is Halted

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Bay Conservation and Development Commission has ordered a Tiburon man to cease illegal construction of a seaplane mooring for which he has no permits.

William F. O'Keeffee Sr. of 4960 Ranch Road had about 20 pilings driven into the bay offshore from his home during the Memorial Day weekend, the commission's staff reported. A neighbor complained to the commission after a pile driver started hammering the 24-inch timber pilings.

O'Keeffee plans to build a platform on the pilings to moor a seaplane, the staff reported. O'Keeffee agreed to cease construction and to apply for permits from Marin County, the bay commission and the Army Corps of Engineers. Rejection by any of the three agencies will force removal of the pilings.

The commission's staff said that O'Keeffee apparently knew that he should have obtained permits, but thought no one would care if he proceeded without them.

22-Year-Old Due Time In State Prison

A 22-year-old Santa Venetia man facing four different cases in Marin courts has agreed to plead guilty in all and go to state prison.

In a plea bargain worked out with Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court, Jerry Ray Wade agreed to state prison provided the sentences run concurrently.

Another condition was that charges of possessing marijuana and heroin against his girl friend, Patricia Ann Fusilier, 20, of Marin City be dismissed.

Wade pleaded guilty to possessing heroin in that case stemming from a raid on his apartment April 13, during which a large quantity of heroin was seized. A marijuana possession charge was dropped.

The same deal was worked out on heroin and marijuana charges filed in December. Agents raided Wade's motel room at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael Dec. 13.

Wade also pleaded guilty to two counts of forging credit card slips dating from August and October.

Budget Draft To Be Studied

The Ross School District board will hold a special meeting at 7:45 p.m. today to review the second draft of the district's $565,920 budget for 1972-1973.

The second draft of the budget is approximately $10,000 higher than the first draft, which has been reviewed by the board in three previous meetings.

According to board president Sally Ann Rakow, the $10,000 increase is spread out across several budget categories.

The board will also discuss the continuing negotiations between the district's representative and the Certificated Employee Council. Mrs. Rakow said she might call the board into closed session to direct Supt. Thomas A. Anderson on the negotiations.

Two Arrested In Novato Theft, Assault

Marin County sheriff's deputies arrested two youths yesterday on suspicion of armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon at Lion's Park, west of Novato.

Booked were Erick Winfield Alford, 19, of 1304 Cambridge Street, Novato, and Arnold Dean Ash, 18, of Glen Ellen, Sonoma County. They were arrested in the 1600 block of Center Road, Novato, at 7 p.m.

The two men were held at Marin County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bail each and were to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Novato police, who aided in the arrest, reported the victim was James F. Cantwell, 20, of Peoria, Ill., but had no details of the event. No report was available at the Marin County Sheriff's Office.

Innocent Plea To Bad Checks

Linda Susan Smith, 20, address unknown, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to five counts of possessing more than $2,000 in bad checks. A preliminary hearing was set for June 15.

She is charged with having the checks totaling $2,099 and $59 in savings bonds which were cashed in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Larkspur and Novato.

Mills Believes Nixon Will Be Hard To Defeat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., believes President Nixon's peacemaking trips to China and the Soviet Union raised his stature to the point it will be tough for the Democrats to defeat him this year.

"It's going to be very difficult," Mills said Sunday of the prospects of beating Nixon. "He is more accepted now than before he made these trips."

Mills, the chairman of House Ways and Means Committee who is a Democratic presidential candidate, said that "President Nixon must defeat President Nixon if he is to be defeated." He said the state of the economy could be Nixon's biggest problem because "he has a real job to do to get the economy going."

Water District Candidate Rules Out Planning Role

Willard A. Hall, candidate for the Marin Municipal Water District board from Division 5, believes the district should limit itself to the function of providing water and not ecgage in planning by withholding water to curb development in the county.

Hall, a retired sales and consulting engineer is one of three contenders for the board seat now held by Robert G. Anderson of Sausalito who has indicated he will not run again when his term expires at the end of this year. Also competing for the post (representing Sausalito, Marin City, Tamalpais Valley, Belvedere and Tiburon) in tomorrow's election will be Robert G. Anderson Jr. and Dr. Ronald T. Stafford.

The candidate, a 23-year Sausalito resident who resides at 21 Vista Clara, is currently in Europe and was not available to present his ideas for an election roundup story on the water district election.

In a communique issued through his campaign manager, James E. Muldoon, Hall said he thinks planning for future water must be geared to the cisions of city and county planning agencies in Marin.

Officials engaged in planning must be kept aware of the need for additional water which their plans may create, Hall said.

He favors the proposed intertie with the North Marin County Water District which will bring an additional 4,000 acre feet of water annually to the MMWD for the next several years.

Trustees Will Inspect Path

Fairfax School District trustees will meet at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow at the boundary of the White Hill School playing field to inspect a problem with the dividing berm between the school property and neighboring houses in Meadowland.

The board will then hold the rest of its meeting inside the school on Glen Drive, according to Supt. H. Reginald Hammond.

Spokesmen for the Fairfax Little League and the Cricket Club will present requests for a clubhouse at the White Hill School, and the board will hear a report on parents' reactions to pupil report systems.

An amended contract with the Patchetts Transportation Co. for school bus leasing will be presented for approval.

West's Opening Lead Is Key To Hand — Even The Poor Best

You can sometimes produce the right effect on your partner by suggesting that he shuffle up his cards face down and pick his opening lead at random. "The leads won't be any worse than they are now," you can politely explain, "and at least we won't have to pretend that any thought went into the selection." Actually, however, even the worst player has some reason for choosing his lead, and if you can work out that reason you will know something about his hand.

SMALL CLUB

West opened the deuce of clubs, and declarer captured East's jack with the ace of clubs. The late Helen Sobel Smith, playing the South hand, took a few seconds to work out the logic of the inept opening lead and then came up with a magnificent play at the second trick.

Clearly, West had led from four clubs to the ten. Most experienced players lead fourth best from a broken suit, and when the deuce is the fourth-best card there cannot be a fifth best; and the suit is therefore only four cards in length.

WEST QUESTIONED

Why would West lead form a four-card suit headed by the ten? Obviously, he could not have a better suit to lead. The odds were overwhelming that West held no five-card suit; and in that case, his distribution was surely 4-1-4-4. The singleton had to be in hearts, for otherwise West would have led his partner's suit.

OTHER HAND

Declarer turned her attention next to the East hand. If West held four spades, East was bound to hold the other two. But East was sure to hold the ace-king of spades for his opening bid. Hence East held the blank ace-king of spades.

Acting on this reasoning, South led the three of spades at the second trick! This was high enough to drive out East's king. Another low spade drove out the ace, and declarer had tricks to burn.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player doubles.

You hold:
♠ - 10 9 4 2
♦ - Q 8 5 4
♣ - 10 8 7 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

This raise, over an opponent's takeout double, promises good trump support but virtually nothing else.

- Director of Golden Gate Bridge, Highway and Transportation District and Chairman of its Transportation Committee
- Member of Marin Transit District
- Member of Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) and Chairman of its Coastal Conservation Committee

MICHAEL WORNUM'S PLATFORM

TAXES —
The spiralling property tax continues to be the most pernicious tax of all. I have, and will continue to demand State legislative action to reduce such an unfair burden. I will continue to demand economy and efficiency in our county government.

ENVIRONMENT —
The Marin Conservation League lauded 1971 as a "vintage year for conservation in Marin County." I have fought and I will fight to preserve the environment of Marin as the most vital issue of this campaign.
Most important of all is the growing popular awareness of this unique environmental heritage and the people's determination to save it while there is yet time. I want to be a leader in this movement.

TRANSPORTATION —
Unrestrained freeway proposals have been curtailed and the supremacy of the automobile is being challenged. In its place a brand new bus and ferry system is operating. Long-range solutions to our transportation problems are near realization. I want to be part of their implementation.

U.S. Believes Ransom Will Be Returned

ALGIERS (UPI)—The United States believes Algerian officials will return the $500,000 given in ransom to a potsmoking Black Panther and his blonde girlfriend who hijacked a jet from San Francisco, an american diplomat said Sunday.

Algerian officials today refused to comment on the statement of William Eagleton, chief of the U.S. interests section of the Swiss embassy, who is negotiating for return of the money and the hijackers.

The hijackers were identified as William Holder, 22, San Diego, Calif., a Vietnam veteran and a member of the Black Panther Party, and Katherine May Kerkow, 21, of the same address as Holder. They were taken away for questioning by Algerian authorities as soon as they landed Saturday.

Algerian government officials said they were "thoroughly investigating" Holder's request for political asylum but offered no other indication as to the hijackers' fate.

Eagleton said the United States had asked for return of the money, and "we assume they will return the money."

The hijackers commandeered a Western Airlines Boeing 727 in the air over Washington state Friday night and demanded the ransom plus a longer-range Boeing 720 to take them to Algiers. Half the passengers were released when the hijackers changed planes in San Francisco and the rest got off at a refueling stop in New York.

The plane returned to Los Angeles Sunday night.

In other hijackiing developments, FBI agents in Reno said that the remaining $155,000 of $200,000 given to a hooded hijacker who bailed out of a United Airlines 727 jet Friday night was found in sagebrush near Reno Sunday. The hijacker lost the money as he reached for his ripcord, and had left the other $45,000 behind when he jumped.

Robb D. Heady, 22, a parking lot attendant and a former Vietnam paratrooper, has been charged with that hhijacking.

Accused Hijacker Due To Face U.S. Magistrate

MIAMI (UPI)—Frederick W. Hahneman, accused of hijacking an Eastern Air Lines jetliner May 5 and parachuting over Honduras with $303,000 ransom money, was to go before a U. S. magistrate today.

Hahneman is charged with air piracy and kidnaping in the month-old hijacking that led to an intensive manhunt in four Central American countries.

He surrendered meekly at the U. S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Saturday, and was flown to Miami the same day accompanied by four FBI agents and two Eastern Air Lines officials.

The ransom money has not been recovered, but William V. Howard, Eastern vice president for industrial and personnel relations, said the search continues and "we have reason to be optimistic and hopeful" that all the money will be found.

The Allentown, Pa., Call-Chronicle quoted U.S. Marine Sgt. Earle Cole, who is stationed at the Honduras embassy, as saying Hahneman told him Saturday he was dying of liver cancer and wanted "to do one last thing for Honduras."

Cole also said he was told, "You can forget about the money. You'll never see it again."

Datsun Stolen

His 1968 blue Datsun, license PL510800461, was stolen from the 100 block of Front Street, San Rafael, between 7:45 p.m. Saturday night and 12:30 a.m. Sunday morning. Andrew Michael Sass, 325 Fairhills Drive, San Rafael, told police.

Surging A's Capture 2

CLEVELAND (UPI) —The Oakland A's, 6-2 on their current road trip and riding a 3 1-2 game lead in the American League West, open a three-game series tonight with Cleveland.

The Athletics move over from Baltimore where Jim Hunter pitched a two-hit shutout Sunday and three other Oakland pitchers combined for still another shutout to give them both games of a doubleheader with identical 2-0 scores.

Cleveland spent the day defeating California, 6-4, to move into second place in the A.L. East, three games behind Detroit.

The win stopped California's winning streak at five games.

In both the A's-Baltimore contests, Oakland scored its runs in the first inning, then relied on top pitching to make the margin stand up.

Hunter picked up his 100th big league game win in the opener after Campy Campaneris opened with a single and two outs later Sal Bando found Oriole starter Mike Cuellar for his second home run of the year.

The nightcap saw Dave Hamilton start from the mound. The rookie lefthander threw six hits in six innings then was spelled by Rollie Fingers and Darold Knowles, who gave up a hit apiece.

FOX HOSPITALIZED

Giants Swept By Pittsburgh

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mamiger Charlie Fox is in the hospital today nursing himself after another kidney stone attack, and the way his San Francisco Giants are playing these days, maybe they should join him.

Sunday, before a fine turnout of 19,929, the Giants fumbled their way to a 4-3 and 9-1 doubleheader loss to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pitching once again was their nemesis. They didn't have any pitching to speak of and then ran into Bruce Kison, the World Series hero, who stopped them on three hits.

In the opener, Ron Bryant was nursing a 3-2 lead in the seventh when he started to bend a little and was removed by acting skipper Johnny McNamara. Jerry Johnson came on to get out of a budding jam in that inning and then got cuffed around himself in the eighth when the Pirates put together three singles and a sacrifice fly for two runs and the ball game.

In the nightcap, the Giants were out of it by the second when the Pirates jumped Charlie Williams and Don Carrithers for five hits and five runs and before the game was over they had 16 hits in all off four pitchers for an easy victory.

Chris Speier hit his sixth homer in the first inning of the opener and Dave Kingman followed with his 14th. It looked like the start of a fine afternoon but as things turned out that was about all the attack the Giants could muster for the next five hours. A sacrifice fly by Gary Maddox got them their third run in the fifth and a walk to Bobby Bonds and singles by Jim Howarth and Al Gallagher in the fifth netted their lone second game tally.

The double loss dropped the Giants 13 1-2 games behind in the National League West with a 17-34 won-loss record.

IN TIBURON

Net Upset: Zwieg Wins

Zwieg yesterday pulled the only major upset in the $2,000 Bay Counties Invitational tennis tournament, defeating seventh-seeded Bob Siska of San Francisco in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5.

The other seven seeded players in the tournament, held at Tiburon Peninsula Club, advanced without difficulty. The tourney will conclude next Saturday and Sunday.

Barry MacKay of Ross, seeded No. 1, drew a bye in the first round. He then trounced Mark Rodnick of Larkspur and Redwood High School on Saturday, 6-2, 6-3, and trampled Bill Maze of Orinda yesterday, 6-1, 6-4.

Henry Kamakana of Los Altos, seeded No. 2, defeated Dick Brunstetter of Tiburon easily yesterday morning, 6-1, 6-1. Other seeded players who advanced were, in order, Whitney Reed, Greg Shephard, Rich Anderson, Tom Brown and Charley Darley.

Other than Zwieg and MacKay, the only Marin County men's singles player to win a match was Terry Moor of Sausalito, who triumphed twice. He beat Paul Welles of Albany Saturday, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, and Chuck Bleckinger of El Cerrito Sunday, 6-3, 6-1. He then lost to Darley in a tough match, 6-1, 6-7, 6-4.

TREVINO 2ND

Sanders Wins Kemper Open

The fun loving 38-year-old veteran of 15 years as a touring golf pro answered the question himself Sunday with a 38-foot birdie putt from the edge of the 18th green to squeeze past Lee Trevino and win the $175,000 Kemper Open.

The win was a long time coming. Sanders, making a comeback from tendonitis in his wrist, had not won a professional tournament since 1970, when he took the Bahamas National.

He was up with the leaders throughout the Kemper, firing a one under par 71 in the first round and then turning in three 68s in a row for a 13-under par total of 275.

He played close to flawless golf in the final round of the Kemper.

He began the round tied for second place with Trevino and upstart Cesar Sanudo at nine-under par. Gibby Gilbert of Hollywood, Fla., held the lead at 10-under.

Sanders, playing in the two-some ahead of Trevino, fired pars on the first three holes and then birdied holes four and five.

Trevino followed suit.

Then the merry Mexican birdied number six on the Quail Hollow Country Club course to go one stroke ahead of Sanders at 12 under par.

Trevino stayed ahead until he ran into his nemesis—Quail Hollow's eighth hole, a par three, 244-yard hole.

As he had done in every round of the Kemper, Trevino shot a bogey four on the eighth, which he calls "the worst hole in the world."

Sanders birdied the ninth hole and was in the lead, 12 strokes under par, until the 14th hole, which he bogeyed and Trevino birdied, pulling them even.

Both birdied the 15th hole and were even going into the 18th. The sellout crowd of 23,000 began preparing for a playoff.

Then Sanders sank his putt.

Trevino placed his second shot on the 18th hole only five and a half feet from the pin and lined up for what seemed a sure birdie for the sudden-death playoff.

Trevino missed and Sanders pocketed $35,000 in first prize money and got a congratulatory call from Vice President Spiro Agnew.

UCLA Track Men Earn The Crown

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Jim Bush makes no bones about it, he was really upset at his UCLA track and field team after arch-rival Southern California won the Pacific 8 Conference championship two weeks ago..

"We were flat and seemed uninterested in what we were doing," Bush said today, "but I'm willing to forget all that now."

And why shouldn't Bush forget. His team won the "really big one" this weekend —the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships — and ran USC into the ground in the process.

REMEMBERED

USC INTO THE ground in the process.

"I think the boys remembered some of the things I had to say after the Pac 8," said Bush. "They came to Eugene in a wonderful frame of mind and even after the Trojans jumped in front Friday I felt we would win it."

Win it the Bruins did—and for the second year in a row—as they grabbed 16 points in the 400 meter dash on a repeat victory by world record holder John Smith in a swift 44.5 and a third by Benny Brown, and a 13-4 sweep in the triple jump led by Jim Butts' winning leap of 53 -2 1-4. Harry Freeman did 52-10 1-4 for third and Milan Tiff did 52-9¼ for fourth.

TRIPLE JUMP

UCLA picked up 20 points in the triple jump to go over the top and a surprise 3:05.3 victory in the mile relay—final event in the three-day championships at Oregon's Hayward Field — proved so much icing on the cake.

The Bruins finished with 82 points, far out-distancing Southern Cal with its 49 points and Texas El Paso with its 45.

Five meet records were set on Saturday's program for a total of 12 in three days.

Smith's 400 meter dash victory set one record and others were added Saturday by Joe Lucas of Georgetown in the steeplechase (8:30.1), Dave Wottle of Bowling Green in the 1,500 meters (3:39.7), freshman Tom Woods of Oregon State in the high jump (7-3 1-4) and Steve Prefontaine of Oregon in the 5,000 meters (13:31.4).

SEVEN MARKS

The other seven marks came in the decathlon by Ron Evans of Connecticut (7,571 points), Al Schoterman of Kent State in the hammer (231-3), Tom Hill of Arkansas State in a a heat of the 110 meter high hurdles (13.3), Cliff Branch of Colorado and Warren Edmonson of UCLA in heats of the 100 dash (10.0) and John Halberstadt of South Africa and Oklahoma State in the 10,000 (28:50.4).

Bill Bowerman of Oregon, who will lead the U.S. Olympic team to Munich, said he was heartened by many performances in the NCAA. Later this month he will have a flock of collegiate stars as well as the open stars in Eugene for the Glympic trials.

Two collegiates who won't be coming back, though, are Branch, who will sign a contract with the National Football League Oakland Raiders in two weeks, and Edmonson, who claims he is quitting track to concentrate on football.

DOUBLE WIN

Fred Debernardiof UTEP was the meet's only double winner, taking the shot put with a heave of 66-6 1-2 and the discus with a throw of 196-5.

Since Halberstadt is not an American, Prefontaine and Lucas loom as strong Olympic candidates in the distance races.

Prefontaine ran 63, 62 and 60 seconds for the last three laps but said he wasn't going all out.

LUCAS

Lucas, as most of the collegiate stars, probably will pass up the AAU championships at Seattle on June 15-16-17.

Other champions crowned in the NCAA included Canadian Rick Dowsell of Ohio U. in the javelin (265-11), Bruce Collins of Pennsylvania in the 400 hurdles (49.1), Dave Roberts in the pole vault (17-3), Larry Burton of Purdue in the 200 dash (wind aided 20.5), Willie Thomas of Tennessee in the 800 (1:47.1,), Randy Williams of Southern Cal in the 110 highs (13.4) and Edmonson in the 100 (10.1).

Report: NBA To Absorb 6 ABA Squads

GREENBORO, N.C. (UPI) — Some six American Basketball Association teams will join the National Basketball Association later this month, the Greensboro Daily News reported today.

The newspaper said agreement for the ABA teams to be absorbed has been reached between NBA commissioner Walter Kennedy and owner Tedd Munchak of the Carolina Cougars, representing the ABA.

The agreement will be ratified by the NBA owners at a meeting June 15-16 at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., the Daily News said, quoting an unidentified source.

The Daily News said the Pittsburgh, Memphis and Florida franchises of the ABA would be dropped and the Denver club would be put "on ice" for several years while a new arena is built.

The newspaper said the Virginia Squires is in debt and may be rejected by the NBA owners, meaning that Carolina, New York, Indiana, Utah, Dallas and Kentucky are the only certain additions.

Raabe Powers Clobber's Win In Softball

Randy Raabe got four hits in five times at bat, including two doubles and a home run, and drove in six runs to lead Clobber, Inc., to a 20-3 victory over Fleur de France yesterday in San Rafael Recreation Department adult softball league play at Albert Park.

Other scores were: King Realty 20, Marin District Pacific Gas and Electric 6; Hobbit's Habit 7, McKee's 2; Round Table 10, Smitty's 9; Pizza Palace 6, Hub City 4; Charlie Brown 25, Holiday Magic 6.

Scores Saturday were: Hobbit's Habit 3, McKee's 1; Deck House 10, Mill Valley Air Force Station 2; Hiller 9, Squid 1.

FRENCH OPEN

Tennis Crown For Billie Jean

PARIS (UPI) — Billie Jean King has scaled that final, elusive peak in the world of championship tennis.

Billie Jean won the $100,000 French Open women's tennis championship—the only major title she had never previously held—by downing Australian Evonne Goolagong, 6-3, 6-3 Sunday.

The 28-year-old Mrs. King, of Long Beach, parlayed a strong net game and the mental lapses of Miss Goolagong to take the French Open crown from the brow of the talented 20-year-old. Miss Goolagong had never before lost a set at Roland Garros Stadium, where the event was held.

Mrs. King, the self-proclaimed "old lady" of women's tennis, is a three-time winner at Wimbledon, twice women's champion at Forest Hills and a winner in Australia, but this marked the first time she had gotten past the quarter-finals in seven attempts in the French Open.

In the men's tennis, 34-year-old Andres Gimeno, of Spain, won his first major title by defeating France's Patrick Proisy, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1 in the rain. Gimeno wept for joy after winning the $12,000 first prize.

Mrs. King was also overcome by emotion after defeating Miss Goolagong. The first woman athlete to win over $100,000 in a single year tossed her racquet into the air, sat down and wept.

Mrs. King had originally intended to skip the Paris tournament this year but later reneged when she felt it might be a competitive tune-up for Wimbledon.

Crew Title Claimed By Redwood

Redwood High School's varsity eight-oared rowing team today is laying claim to the unofficial championship of the five-school North Bay Crew League.

Redwood's crew defeated previously undefeated Berkeley High School by one and one-half lengths in a 1,500-meter race on the Oakland Estuary Saturday afternoon. Redwood's winning time was 5 minutes, 18.8 seconds. The victory gave the Larkspur school a 7-1 record compared to Berkeley's 4-1 mark.

The lone loss for Redwood's eight-oared team came at the hands of Salesian High of Richmond. Other competing schools were St. Joseph's High of Alameda and Concordia of Oakland.

The team has been invited to compete against Shawnigan Lake Boys School of Vancouver Island, B.C., and nearby Brentwood College June 24, but it has not been determined whether they will make the trip or not, according to the team's advisor, Bob Cumming, president of the Marin Rowing Association.

In four-oared crew, Redwood's four teams went through the season unbeaten, lightweight and heavyweight squads, both varsity and junior varsity.

Gibson Shuts Out Dodgers; Cubs Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Winning a ball game on June 4 isn't as important as winning one in the World Series, but for the individuals involved it can sometimes be as meaningful.

This was the case with a former Series heroe Sunday — an old-time great bent on proving he hasn't yet lost all his skills.

SELF HELP

Bob Gibson, 36-year-old right-hander with St. Louis and loser of his first five decisions this year, posted his third consecutive victory and second straight shutout as the Cardinals whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-0. Gibson, who has a 7-2 record in World Series competition, including three successes in 1967, helped his own cause with a two-run homer.

In other games, the Houston Astros whitewashed the Montreal Expos, 5-0, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs beat the San Diego Padres, 3-1. Pittsburgh swept San Francisco 4-3 and 9-1, and Atlanta topped New York 9-3.

FIVE SINGLES

Gibson limited the Dodgers to five singles and a walk, and hit his first homer of the year following Dal Maxvill's single with two out in the ninth. A crowd of 43,818 turned out at Dodger Stadium for a special oldtimers ceremony during which the numbers worn by former Dodgers Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Sandy Koufax were retired.

Speaking of Gibson's performance, Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston commented: "He'd have beaten a lot of clubs today. We don't get shut out very often (four times in 46 games). Every time we got someone on base, we hit into a double play."

8TH HOMER

Darrell Evans drove home three runs with his eighth homer of the year and two more with a bases-loaded single in pacing Atlanta's rout over the Mets before a capacity crowd of 52,216 at Shea Stadium. Reliever Ron Schueler (2-1) hurled three-hit ball over the final 6 1-3 innings.

Don Wilson, who has two career no-hitters, had another one going at Montreal before Ron Fairly led off the eighth inning with a single. Wilson then allowed another hit in the ninth in evening his record at 44. Cesar Cedeno broke up a scoreless battle with a homer in the eighth, and Houston wrapped it up with four more runs in the ninth.

BENCH

Johnny Bench doubled home the only two runs of the game in the first inning and Jack Billingham, Tom Hall and Clay Carroll combined for an eighth-it shutout as Cincinnati handed the Phils their 18th defeat in 19 games. The Reds now have won seven in a row.

Randy Hundley's first homer in two years broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth inning and Ferguson Jenkins (6-5) held the edge in Chicago's win at San Diego.

ANGEL CAUGHT — Cleveland Indian catcher Ray Fosse tagged out California Angel center fielder Ken Berry at home plate yesterday in Cleveland. Berry was trying to score from third base on an infield hit, but Indian third baseman Craig Nettles' throw in the third inning nailed the Angel outfielder. (UPI Telephoto)

Schaal Belts First Grand Slam In Win

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Paul Schaal did something Sunday he had never done in 11 professional baseball seasons — hit a grand slam home run.

SCHAAL

Schaal's grand slam enabled the Royals to capture the opener, 7-5. Left-hander John Curtis, making his first start since being recalled from Louisville, shut out the Royals on seven singles in the nightcap, 4-0.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees, 6-1 and 5-4, the Detroit Tigers beat the Minnesota Twins, 3-0, the Cleveland Indians downed the California Angels, 6-4, and the Texas Rangers routed the Milwaukee Brewers, 10-0.

A crowd of 51,904 — largest Sox' home crowd since July 27, 1954 — saw the White Sox win their opener behind Tom Bradley's six-hitter and take the second game on pinch-hitter Dick Allen's three-run ninth-inning homer off Yankee relief star Sparky Lyle.

SIXTH WIN

Mike Andrews and Carlos May drove in two runs each with singles in the third inning of the first game with Bradley cruising to his sixth win on a six-hitter. Allen's game-winning homer in the ninth inning of the nightcap came after Mike Kekich walked Bill Melton and yielded a single to Andrews. Allen picked a 1-1 pitch by Lyle, who entered the game with 10 saves in 16 relief appearances.

Mike Stanley's two-run homer in the seventh inning was the big blow for the Tigers as Tom Timmerman turned in a four-hitter while striking out six and walking one. The victory gave the Tigers a three-game lead over both the Indians and Orioles in the AL's eastern division.

WILCOX

Milt Wilcox hit a two-run double and allowed three runs in 6⅔ innings before giving way to reliever Ed Farmer as the Indians ended the Angels' five-game winning streak. Alex Johnson homered for the Indians, who dealt Rick Clark his fifth loss against four wins. Leroy Stanton hit his sixth homer of the year for the Angels.

Eleven Rangers batted in a six-run first inning and Rich Hand, Mike Paul and Horacio Pina combined in a six-hitter over the Brewers. Dave Nelson started the Rangers' big inning with a bunt single and finished it with a run-scoring single. Nelson and Ted Ford had three hits each in the Rangers' 14-hit attack.

Tired Allison Wins Mason-Dixon Race

DOVER, Del. (UPI)—Although driving himself to the point of exhaustion, Bobby Allison never considered stopping for a relief driver en route to his victory in Sunday's 500mile Mason-Dixon stock car race.

"I like to finish them myself if I can," Allison said following the NASCAR victory which left him so dehydrated by intense heat it took him five minutes to get out of his 1972 Chevrolet at the end of the race.

Although track temperatures reached 118 degrees during the race, Allison, the defending champion, claimed "I get in condition for it."

HE said he never considered the possibility of making a late pit stop to have a relief driver take over the wheel.

Allison picked up about $13,000 for the win. He credited a changed tire wedge with enabling him to pull ahead of Petty in the last laps.

Leroy Yarborugh finished third in a Mercury, Jackie Oliver, fourth in a mercury and John Sears fifth in a Plymouth.

Pole-sitter Bobby Isaac was in the 13th of 19 cars finishing the race. In qualifying rounds, he had led with a 130.809 speed.

schedule and the Giants open a three-game stand on Tuesday against the equally foundering St. Louis Cardinals. The pitching assignments for that series are Rick Wise vs. Steve Stone, Reggie Cleveland vs. Juan Marichal and Scippo Spinks vs. Sam McDowell.

Willie McCovey, who hit a homer in his first game Saturday, played only in the second game Sunday after striking out as a pinch-hitter in the ninth of the opener. Willie seemed to be having trouble with his timing —which is understandable —but said he feels okay and will be ready to play on Tuesday.

"It's almost like going to spring training all over again, for me," said McCovey. "I'm just feeling my way around, but the important thing is that my hand feels fine."

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

After delivering the ball, you should be able to hold your final position for several seconds without difficulty. If you have to hop a bit or otherwise adjust to keep your balance, it's likely your approach has been rushed. If you are not well balanced, you will have difficulty being accurate both on strike and spare balls.

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—San Diego Padres infielder Dave Campbell was resting today after undergoing surgery Saturday on a ruptured tendon.

"The operation went well, and I have every anticipation that Campbell will be able to play next year," Bauer said.

Mays Race Win By Bobby Unser

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Bobby Unser drove his turbo-charged Eagle-Offenhauser to victory Sunday in the 150-mile Rex Mays Classic, which was held up for 45 minutes when Johnny Rutherford hit the wall after spinning out of a turn.

Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., led all the way from the pole except for about three laps for a mandatory pit stop. He set a new track record in qualifying Saturday of 126.06 miles per hour and his winning time was 109.139 m.p.h.

Unser led the field of 34 cars and finished four seconds ahead of Mark Donohue, the Newton Square, Pa., driver who won the Indianapolis 500 this year.

In third place was Gary Bettenhausen, of Tinley Park., Ill., driving a McLaren-Offenhauser. Billy Vukovitch of Fresno, Calif., in an Eagle-Offenhauser was fourth and Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., in a Parnelli-Offy, finished fifth.

The 45-vinute halt in the race came in the 42nd lap when Rutherford, of Fort Worth, Tex., smashed his Eagle-Offy into the wall after spinning out of the north turn.

He leaped from the car as it burst into flame and suffered only minor hand and foot burns. Oil and gas from his car spread onto the track and caught fire, delaying the race.

Donohue and Bettenhausen, both on the McLaren team, fought a duel in the last few laps and with only six laps to go Donohue passed Bettenhausen to drop his teammate into third.

Admission Talks At NHL Meeting

MONTREAL (UPI)—The annual National Hockey League meeting open today, with highlights of the four-day convention expected to include the admission of two new teams for the 1974-75 season and the drafting of 42 players by the new Atlanta and Long Island teams, scheduled to begin play next fall.

Today's schedule includes meetings of the rules committee and the players-owners council, along with the intra-league draft.

The NHL owners held a special meeting two weeks ago in New York on applications which would increase the 16-team setup to 18 in two years. At that time, the Governors heard 10 applications from eight cities, then asked for more time to reach a decision Their final choice, admitting two more teams to the NHL, is expected to be made before the end of this week.

NHL President Clarence Campbell praised the applicants and their "high quality" presentations, saying, "the Governors and myself have been overwhelmed with the fine enthusiasm shown by the applicants and this I must admit is a pleasant problem."

The fledgling Atlanta and Long Island teams have already put up part of their $6 million franchise fee and will stock their teams in Tuesday's expansion draft.

The 14 existing teams will be allowed to protect 15 skaters plus two goalies at the outset. As they lose one player, they can fill in with another from their own list. No team can give up more than three players and clubs that gave goalies in the Buffalo-Vancouver draft two years ago are exempt this year from losing another goalie.

Three other drafts this week will also see a number of players change clubs.

The inter-league draft Tuesday gives NHL clubs an opportunity to obtain American Hockey League and Western Hockey League personnel.

The reverse draft, in which NHL clubs make certain players available to the AHL and WHL, will be held Thursday. This draft has two phases, with players going for $15,000 in the first half and $7,500 in the second.

The big plum will be the draft of amateur players which closes the meetings Thursday afternoon. The finest junior and college graduate players will be available to all 16 teams, with Atlanta and Long Island getting first choices, and the other clubs following in the reverse order of last year's regular season finish.

However, Montreal Canadiens' General Manager Sam Pollock, an experienced trader and dealer in professional hockey, has managed to secure four of the first round choices in the amateur draft —his own, plus three others from earlier deals.

Several trades also are likely after the intra-league and expansion drafts. The trading deadline passed in May without any special deals, and the lists were then frozen until after the expansion clubs chose their players.

There is always a flurry of activity along the trading market at the annual sessions, and since the intra-league draft price is $40,000, teams often pass up an available player in hopes of making a man-for-man trade for him.

Winning Diet For British Golfer

SANDWICH, England (UPI) —Strange as it may seem, tongue sandwiches, bananas, tomatoes and coke are what British Amateur golf champions are made of.

Homer ate exactly the same lunch every day of the week-long British tournament, including Saturday when he beat 43-year-old Alan Thirlwell in an all-English 36-hole final to win the title at Royal St. Georges.

"I'm superstitious," the 28-year old golfer said after his 4 and 3 win, the first major victory of his amateur career. "So I did not want to take a chance on a change of diet affecting my luck."

Kemp Richardson of Huntington Beach, Calif., is not superstitious and certainly did not restrict his eating habits to such an extent.

But the 26-year-old stockbroker, who survived longest of the 43-strong original American challenge, had every reason to curse the ill-luck that caused his downfall in Friday's quarter-finals.

After being taken to extra holes by Thirlwell, runner-up in this tournament 14 years ago, Richardson got all the bad breaks to lose at the 20th. He was robbed of victory when Thirlwell chipped in from off the green at the 19th and then saw a fickle wind plug his tee shot at the next hole under the lip of a trap to end his hopes.

It was the first final since 1968 without an American involved. Best placer after Richardson was Walker cupped Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., who reached the fifth round Thursday. Marty West of Washington, D.C., and John Arnold Cameron of Dallas, Texas., bowed out in the fourth round.

Bruins' Green In Draft

MONTREAL (UPI)—Veteran defenseman Teddy Green, who made a comeback after being critically injured in a stick fight, has been left unprotected by the Boston Bruins in the intra-league draft at the National Hockey League meetings.

Milt Schmidt, Boston's general manager, said Sunday, "I had to think of the future.

"Look, we have some older players and I have to think about what's best for the team overall. I didn't like to put up Teddy, but in all logic, I had to."

This led to speculation that Green either would be drafted by the Vancouver Canucks, who have the first draft pick today, or would sign with Winnipeg in the World Hockey Association, which drafted him earlier. He is a native of Winnipeg.

Belgium Grand Prix Taken By Fittipaldi

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

NIVELLES, Belgium — Emerson Fittipaldi's problem is that he does not know how good he is.

Fittipaldi was still talking modestly yesterday after winning the 30th Grand Prix of Belgium. It was his second Grand Prix victory of the season and his fourth Formula One success in nine races.

He completed the 316.54 kilometers (196.7 miles) in one hour, 44 minutes, 6.7 seconds, an average speed of 113.353 miles per hour. He won by 27 seconds over Francois Cevert of France and Denis Hulme of New Zealand.

"Talk of me succeeding (Jackie) Stewart as champion is just that —talk," said Fittipaldi. "We have a long way to go yet and anything can happen. At the moment things are running for us, but in our sport they can change overnight."

Baseball

Track and Field

LOS ANGELES — George Woods, an Olympic silver medalist in 1968, became the third man in history to break the 70-foot barrier in the shot put yesterday when he uncorked an effort of 70-1 3/4 at the Compton Invitational Track Meet. The others were Randy Matson and Al Feverbach.

Football

CHICAGO — Ray May, linebacker of the Baltimore Colts, won the Byron R. (Whizzer) White Humanitarian Award given by the National Football League Players Association last night.

PITTSBURGH — Steve Joachim, considered by coach Joe Paterno as the top sophomore quarterback ever to play for Penn State, has decided to play his junior and senior seasons somewhere else.

"I have to find a place where they throw the ball," Joachim said yesterday. He indicated he was leaning toward Temple, near his home town of Haverford, Pa.

Basketball

EDINBURG, Tex. — The trial begins today for two Pan American University basketball stars, Leo "The Lion" Tolis and Reese Stovall, on charges of rape and assault to rape two coeds in a campus dormitory.

LOS ANGELES — Bill Walton, star center of the UCLA basketball team, has been hospitalized for an infection and will remain at the UCLA Medical Center for a week to 10 days, it was disclosed yesterday. The nature of the infection was not revealed.

Golf

TOWSON, Md. — Carol Mann ended a seven-year victory drought at the course closest to her own home town yesterday when she won the $30,000 Lady Carling Open golf tournament. She came from two strokes off the pace by tying the women's course record yesterday with a six-under-par 67 for a 54-hole total of 210.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — The Texas Open, the granddaddy of pro golf's winter tour, probably will be revivied this fall after a lapse of one year with the pro golfers themselves backing the event with cash. Contracts have not been signed, but all signs pointed to the event's resumption either the first or second weekend in November as a $125,000 stop on the tour.

Rowing

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — The University of Pennsylvania won the varisty eight-oared event Saturday in the 70th annual National Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta on Oondaga Lake. Wisconsin won the Ten Eyck trophy, emblematic of the school with the best over-all showing.

PHILS' MANAGER

Son Defends His Father

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Turn the clock back a few years. Turn it back to when you were 7.

You're no different than any other healthy, red-blooded 7-year-old boy.

You hear the kids on the block talking about this fresh batch of bubble gum cards they've just gotten in at the neighborhood drug store so you fish out that quarter you've been keeping in your pocket for this kind of crisis and you hurry up to where they're selling these cards because you don't want to get shut out.

Eagerly, excitedly, you rip open the wrapper.

You look at the picture on one of the cards. By golly, it's your father!

WORKED UP

You're so worked up, so carried away by the whole thing, you can hardly say your own name. You've got to show this to all the other kids on the block. And that's what you do.

"Hey, look! This is my Dad."

The others circle around you, skeptically, curiously, the way all kids do. They inspect the card closely to make sure it really is your father, and then one of them, the biggest one, naturally, pipes up:

"He stinks, and so do the rest of the Phillies."

You don't believe your ears.

Wars have been fought over less.

You're Bryan Lucchesi, an exceptionally sensitive, well-behaved boy, but this time you don't wait for any draft call.

It is now one year later. Bryan Lucchesi is 8 and some of the kids in the neighborhood still haven't let up. Maybe it's because he lives only five blocks from the stadium in the Packer Park section of Philadelphia, or more likely because the Phillies have dropped 18 of their last 19 ball games, but now and then he'll still hear some kid on the block say, "your father won't be around here managing too long."

Maybe yes, and maybe no, but the Phils did make a move over the weekend when Paul Owens replaced John Quinn as general manager and that has to take at least a little of the heat off the club's field manager.

FATHER

Bryan's father, Frank Lucchesi, manages the Phillies and is doing the best he can with what he has. What he has isn't much.

Some of those things the other kids say to his son bother Frank Lucchesi, but he realizes kids will always be kids.

What hurts more is that the Phillies started off so well, ethen suddenly plummeted toward the bottom, and what hurts most is the absence of the optimism shown by the entire club only a few weeks ago.

THIRD YEAR

This is Lucchesi's third year with the Phillies. Despite their record, unmistakable signs of improvement are apparent.

During Lucchesi's first year, he stuck with frail, nail-biting Larry Bowa and Bowa gradually established himself as a major league shortstop. Last year Lucchesi brought along Willie Montanez nicely, and this year he's doing a fine job with rugged Greg Luzinski.

No matter what, Bryan Lucchesi's father will stay with 'em until he falls down, and then he'll simply pick himself up and start all over again.

A native of Massachusetts, Baenziger joined Crocker Bank in 1966 and has served in administrative capacities in several branches in the Bay Area.

DYNASIX CORP., headquartered at Northgate Industrial Park in San Rafael, has purchased 6,100 acres of the Wickersham Ranch (west of new Lake Sonoma) in Sonoma County for re-sale to the public in 160-acre parcels. The purchase price was in excess of $1 million.

James Hechim of Novato, vice president of Dynasix, said the company's aim to to reclaim the extensively logged and overgrazed ranches in the area, thus reversing the ecological imbalance "In many cases, the cost of a reclamation program on large ranches is economically unfeasible from the rancher's standpoint," Hechim said. "But land in smaller parcels, such as 160 acres, urges the owners of these smaller parcels to take advantage of government programs to upgrade the land."

Dynasix has negotiated access agreements so that each parcel has a 60-foot right of way for general road and utility purposes which will start at Skaggs Springs Road and enter the southeastern corner of the ranch. Existing roads on the ranch have been graded, sloped and drained for watershed.

VAN C. ATHANASAKOS of 3 Mount Darwin Court in Lucas Valley has been named vice president for finance by Fox & Carskadon Financial Corp.

Athanasakos, who has been associated with accounting and management consulting firms, was former director of information systems for Sutro and Co. in San Francisco.

JOHN A. GOVI of San Rafael has been named manager of the San Rafael district of the California State Automobile Association. He succeeds William F. Lennon, who was appointed manager of the Petaluma district.

Govi began his career with CSAA in 1955 as a sales representative in the Vallejo district. He was promoted to sales manager in Sacramento in 1957 and was appointed manager of San Francisco sales in 1962.

VOTERS of San Rafael precinct 1200 will be served pastries and cookies tomorrow when they go to their polling place at 221 Third Street in the Montecito shopping center.

That's because the poll happens to be the new offices of Homestead Savings and Loan Association, which will use the polling place fee received from the county to buy goodies for the voters.

"We're happy to offer our services during the election," said branch manager Gene DiBasilio. "As a new facility, it will give us a chance to introduce ourselves to more people of the community."

"CREATIVE Problem Solving" will be discussed at a daylong seminar for managers, at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael on June 14.

University of California Extension will present the seminar to show how creative behavior can be put to use in managerial practices to eliminate creative blocks and develop self-confidence, sensitivity to problems, originality and flexibility.

Seminary leader will be M. O. Edwards, Palo Alto management consultant and former director of the Midwest Creative Problem Solving Institute at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn. Further details are available at Continuing Education in Management, U.C. Extension, 2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley.

New Castle-Cooke Executive Announced

HONOLULU (BW) — Leonard Marks Jr., senior vice president of Wells Fargo & Co. of San Francisco, will be named to the new position of executive vice president and chief financial officer of Castle & Cooke Inc. of Honolulu effective Aug. 1.

Marks also will become vice president and chief financial officer of the new Castle & Cooke Foods Division in San Francisco. He will divide his time between San Francisco and corporate headquarters in Honolulu.

Cargo Theft Losses Pass $500,000

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Fragmentary figures on cargo theft losses in California and Washington — mostly trucking losses — total more than $528,000 since the first of the year.

E. J. Halm, manager of the National Automobile Theft Bureau's Pacific Coast division, said his organization has just begun to compile a centralized record of cargo losses. "The reports are far from complete, but thefts are frequent and costly," he said.

The $528,500 in losses represented 22 cargo thefts reported to NATB by selected insurers. Reports from other states and insurance companies in the 10-state division have not yet been put into a central file, Halm said.

Nationally, cargo thefts "have become a growing problem," Halm said, with an annual drain on the economy of from $8 billion to $10 billion, according to figures compiled by the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Small Business.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Profit taking helped accelerate a sharp stock market slide during the first hour today, with airlines taking one of the largest beatings.

The market, which had a strong runup in the past three weeks, has run out of steam and may be in for a sharp adjustment, some analysts aid. Profit taking at this time would be normal, they suggested.

Others noted there is little in the news background to stimulate investors. Most of the economy has been encouraging, but analysts said investors already have discounted this.

American Airlines was the most active issue, down 1 3-8 at 43 3-8 because of a block of 261,000 shares at 41 1-2, down 3 1-4. UAL Inc. was second, off 2 5-8 at 45 5-8 in trading that included a block of 96,700 shares at 45, off 3 1-4. Curtiss-Wright was third, off 1 3- 8 at 40 3-4, and Delta Airlines was fourth, off 2 1-8 at 53 1-2.

Some analysts said airlines have reached their peak prices and profit taking is now in order. Others trading lower were National, down 2 1-2, and Northwest, Flying Tiger, TWA and Eastern, around a point each.

Breuners Reports 3-Month Increase

OAKLAND (UPI)—Breuners, a Northern California and Nevada home furnisher, has reported a 17.8 per cent increase in net earnings for the three months which ended April 30.

Breuners also reported an 8.6 per cent gain in sales. The firm said earnings amounted to $162,515 in comparison with $137,920 for the same quarter in 1971. Sales rose from $11,698,015 to $12,709,762.

Bechtel Agreement With Tokyo Firms

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bechtel Corp. has announced that a tripartite protocol agreement was signed in Tokyo with two major Japanese engineering construction firms.

Bechtel, Kajima Corp. and Taisei Construction Co., Ltd., will cooperate in projects in Japan, Southeast Asia and other nations, according to terms of the pact.

Airline Bonds Good For Future Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought 5M American Airlines 11s of 1988 at par and 5M TWA 11s of 1986 at 108. These were purchased for their high return. Should my wife survive me, her only income would be from Social Security interest and dividends, as my pension terminates at my death. We also hold the enclosed list of common stocks. Should I settle for less income from safer bonds? — M.J.

A. Both airlines have experienced a turnaround in operations. As a result of a three-way pact in conjunction with United Air Lines, capacity has been cut on four major domestic routes. The pact, which expires in September, is expected to receive CAB approval for extension beyond that date.

TWA increased its load factor on these routes from 33.9 to 49.8 per cent in the 6 months through March. For the month of May, TWA reported a 7.8 per cent increase in domestic traffic and a 24.4 per cent rise in international passenger revenue miles. American's management expects 1972 results will be encouraging and the second quarter profitable.

Your bonds are selling well above par value indicative of market appraisal of the bonds' safety and investment appeal. Hold for income.

Q. At the present time, I have about a 10-to-12 point loss in Textron. Should I hold or sell? I am interested in growth. — R.J.

A. Textron's (NYSE) takeover of American Research & Development has added an important new dimension to the structure of this mammoth conglomerate. A.R. & D.'s portfolio, after the distribution of Digital Equipment shares, has a value of about $85 million. This venture capital company holds shares of more than 40 companies, many of which are also publicly held.

Earnings for the parent company — A.R. & D will be operated as an independent subsidiary — are expected by management to reach record levels this year. In the first quarter, profits rose 10 per cent on a 5.5 per cent gain in sales. Consumer, industrial and metal product groups led, in the order given, the strong showing of the initial quarter. Hold for recovery.

San Rafael air quality yesterday:

Oxidant, clean air.

Nitrogen dioxide, clean air.

Smoke particles, clean air.

Other Areas:

San Francisco, clean air.

San Jose, light air pollution.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches, and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources, while the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

WATER — SOUTH MARIN

Two of the three candidates are 28 years old. One a doctor, the other a school teacher. Both want to limit the right of the people to move into the area with the resulting depreciation of property values. I know, I can't sell my property in Bolinas because of the moratorium. For a better Marin, please vote for Willard Hall, an engineer with many years of actual experience in the water utility field.

"Point A can be a long and polluted way from point B, in a county that doesn't have adequate transit alternatives to the automobile."

"51 per cent of the people who live in Marin work in Marin. Yet, the only way someone in Corte Madera can get to work in San Rafael is by car. There are 30,000 elderly citizens in Marin who often have no mode of transportation. The ramifications of this are obvious; congestion equals paralysis—the flow of commercial and social activity is inhibited and everyone pays. If Marin does not begin initiating alternatives to the automobile, such as the use of rail service on the existing NWP right of way and compact inter-community service, we will face a future so congested and polluted as to be no future at all."

BEST for JUDGE

Dear Marin County Voter:

You have a right to expect and demand that your Judge:

1. Administer the law in a fair and impartial manner without delays;
2. Make decisions based upon this law and not on what he may think the law should be;
3. Recognize the rights of the public as well as the accused must be protected in criminal matters.
4. At all times respect publicly and privately the trust which has been granted to him.

Your support and vote on June 6 will be appreciated, enabling me to meet these demands and respect this trust.

Sincerely,

Collective Bargaining Vs. Right To Know

There was a bit of a flap in Mill Valley last week. Jean Barnard, who just took over the mayor's chair, turned out to have appointed a committee to deal with an employee grievance without bringing the matter up at a city council meeting.

As this is written, Mill Valley's city manager and city attorney are researching to find out whether what Mayor Barnard did was all according to law. Whether it was or not, the issue it presents is of importance to everybody.

MADAME MAYOR'S unilateral appointments were to a committee to handle a grievance brought by Local 2167, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO. This is the union that represents Mill Valley's employees in negotiations with the city.

Mrs. M. Golden, union steward in the city library, in a letter to the editor which appeared last Thursday emphasized that the procedure used by Mayor Barnard was entirely in accord with the union's grievance procedure.

We don't doubt it.

ALSO ENTIRELY in accord with union procedures are the closed meetings between negotiators named to represent city or county and those appointed by the unions. These closed-door negotiations, which result in commitments that become public only after they already have been made, fix salaries and working conditions for the public's employees.

Even what the unions are asking (or demanding) need not be made public, except in the school districts, which come under a special law.

Behind those closed doors, the decisions are reached which obligate over 60 per cent of the county's budget and even higher percentages of some city budgets (about 70 per cent in Mill Valley, according to Mayor Barnard).

The money for these comes out of taxes — yours and ours.

THERE ARE LAWS on the books to prevent city councils and boards of supervisors from obligating the taxpayers' money without public hearings at which the taxpayers can object. Yet other laws permit closed-door negotiations with employee representatives which result in commitments the public can in no way invalidate. City councils and boards of supervisors empower their negotiators to commit our tax money without our knowledge.

Thus, 60 to 70 per cent of the spending of our local governments is placed entirely beyond our control.

It is argued that there is no difference between such secret union negotiations on behalf of employees in private industry and on behalf of public employees. There is great difference.

Those who do the closed-door negotiating with the public employees are not answerable for the payroll. We taxpayers are.

NEARLY 30 YEARS ago, President Franklin D. Roosevelt (certainly no enemy of organized labor) declared:

"All government employees should realize that the process of collective bargaining as we understand it cannot be transplanted into the public service."

It was true when he said it then. It is still true today.

Honeysuckle

Honeysuckle vines grow wild over Marin's fences, walls, and an occasional tree trunk. They are undistinguished in appearance. But they cannot be missed. All through the summer, and especially on warm evenings, their blossoms fill the air with a fragrance so lovely and rich we can almost taste it. It is a fragrance so appealling to the highly subjective olfactory sense that we have found few people who did not enjoy it.

Honeysuckle is wild nature's gift of fragrance to the people of Marin.

Photogenic Raccoons

Few Marin animals, except perhaps the deer and the rabbits, are as photogenic as raccoons. But getting their pictures is a bit of a problem. They are strictly nocturnal. Most of us use a flash. But our personal raccoons are not so tame that we can get close enough for a good picture. We set up the camera so that it could be triggered by a pull of a fishline in the house. But raccoons are so curious about everything that we were a bit worried that they might fool around with the camera and knock it off the feeding table.

They were a bit leery of the contraption at first. Before long, one was bold enough to venture a close inspection. He licked it with a long tongue, decided it was inedible and harmless, and turned his attention elsewhere.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Gun Control Good Idea, But Is It Enforceable?

In reference to your letter of May 24 entitled "What More Needed For Gun Control Law?". . .

Suppose an effective gun control law was in effect today which required all firearms to be registered. Would all murders and assassinations by firearms cease? Would every criminal immediately rush to the nearest police department to have his gun registered? Unfortunately I just don't believe that either will happen.

Of course nobody wants criminals to possess firearms but logically gun control isn't the way to stop murders and assassinations. For example, how can gun control stop would-be assassins who have no criminal background?. . .None of the more recent assassins had any more of a criminal background than you or I. . .

The point is that guns are here to stay and no law enforcement is going to stop one man with one gun from shooting somebody else. . .

Gun control in itself is not bad as an idea but to try and enforce such a policy would be herculean. In fact the only possible way that any gun law could work is to have each gun owner or potential gun owner undergo an intensive psychiatric examination to determine emotional stability. It may be an absurd idea but it is actually the only logical one. And it probabably wouldn't work either.

Sale Of Personal Data By State Charged

According to the latest veterans magazine I have received and according to legislation passed in Congress, we the people are entitled to privacy and a guard against the invasion of our privacy by the "Fair Credit Reporting Act of 1970." This is a laugh of the century. The power-mad, all-powerful Department of Motor Vehicles makes money "on the side" by selling all your personal information — they have bank reports, insurance reports, personal habit reports, driving reports, etc., etc. on you. They sell this information indiscriminately to all "snooper," credit investigators, banks, collection agencies, etc., etc. for certain fees.

Where they "steal" the information, I do not know. But every day the large so-called law-abiding bureau violates the law and your constitutional rights. When does this hideous practice stop, Mr. State Sen. Peter Behr?

Improved Coverage Of Track Appreciated

On behalf of the Marin County Athletic League track coaches, may I take a moment to acknowledge your sports coverage for high school athletics this spring. Sports coverage in the Independent-Journal has fluctuated tremendously the past few years, but this spring, primarily due to Mr. Lew Coddington's efforts, the coverage given to all sports has reached a high point with your newspaper. Attention given to track and the other so-called "minor sports" has been consistent — something lacking in the past. Attempts to keep all readers informed of league standings and the important struggles of the past season have been realistic and accurate.

We as coaches tend to be rather critical people — whether it be of ourselves or others. May it please you to know that the track coaches, at our last meeting, felt that this year's total coverage of Marin County high school athletics and, in particular, track and field, was worthy of praise and our thanks on a job well done.

What Civilians Need Hamilton Field?

Will conservation groups please tell me — since the I-J hasn't: Why is the board of supervisors trying to make Hamilton Field share its facilities with civilians? What civilians? Whose convenience will be served by opening Marin Air-Space to those few civilians who operate private aircraft? How many of them live in Marin? We have acess to Oakland and San Francisco airports — do we need or want our clean and reasonably quiet air polluted without reason?

I don't understand why this very important subject hasn't been taken up by concerned people. Let's hear from you, please.

Despicable To Turn Back On Country

I must respond to Robert Moore's diatribe against the country and his country's flag. And somewhere I have read, or heard, that a man who is disloyal to his country lives in exile.

All of, I am certain, want our country, which we love, and those people whom we love to be perfect, but, alas, this is very unrealistic and wishful thinking. If one believes in the perfectibility of man and realizes that imperfect men govern countries, then it is basic logic to assume that since the ones who govern are not perfect (not here, not yet!) neither will the countries they govern be perfect.

I would hope my country will always be right, as I would hope my mother will have always been sober, but, if the one should be occasionally pressured into being wrong, or the other to have been pressured into becoming an alcoholic — to turn my back on either and to have walked away would have been disloyal and despicable!

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, June 5, the 157th day of 1972 with 209 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Gemini.

Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the leader of Nationalist China, was born June 5, 1897.

On this day in history:

In 1966 American astronaut Gene Cernan left Gemini 9 for a two-hour, 10 minute spacewalk.

In 1968 Robert Kennedy was shot in Los Angeles by Sirhan B. Sirhan, a 24-year-old Arab. The senator died shortly after and Sirhan remains in prison with a life sentence.

U.S.-Soviet Arms Agreement Assured Of Senate Approval

The White House has good reason to be confident that the Nixon-Brezhnev nuclear arms agreement will get the necessary two-thirds Senate approval. They have counted heads and see nothing near to the 34 votes which would be needed to defeat it.

There will be full-length hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but this will be one matter on which its usual anti-administration majority will be decisively with the President.

There will be flashes of sharp opposition from some conservative senators and retired military leaders, but it is evident that this capstone of the Moscow summit reflects dominant opinion in the country and in both parties in Congress.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S STRONG POSITION. President Nixon knew from the start that a U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms pact, which he would deem acceptable, could only be defeated in the Senate if the nation's top military leaders strongly opposed its terms.

This is why Nixon brought the Joint Chiefs of Staff into the middle of all the advanced planning for SALT. They shared in developing the U.S. negotiating position. Further, Nixon put the actual negotiating into the hands of a trusted, hard-line diplomat, Ambassador Gerard C. Smith, who has the confidence of the military.

The Joint Chiefs will collectively and individually support ratification with one warning — that the United States must use the provisions of the treaty which permit both sides to exchange outdated nuclear weapons for more advanced nuclear weapons.

IS THE COLD WAR NOW OVER? The candid answer is no, but it has been considerably contained. There are still some very sensitive areas of the world where U.S.-Soviet confrontations cannot be ruled out, as in the Middle East.

But the Nixon-Brezhnev meeting made large headway in removing some major causes of the cold war, not just reducing tension. The joint enterprises in space, science, environment, medicine and arms control could become constructively habit-forming.

HOW NIXON PLANNED THE MOSCOW SUMMIT. Every U.S.-Soviet summit conference, including the two at which Britain and France were also present, has either accomplished nothing or left things worse than they were before.

There have been five such since the end of World War II: Geneva, Paris, Camp David, Vienna and Glassboro. They were all futile.

What made the Nixon-Brezhnev meeting different? Both sides had learned from past experience, and there was readiness to co-operate.

But Nixon applied two of his own concepts of summitry which paid off. He felt that details, and then negotiations, on every issue the summit would cover were essential to success. Example: Thirty months of advanced negotiation went into the arms agreement. Nixon also believed that some delicate issues could only be resolved at the top.

This is exactly what happened. The advanced SALT talks made agreement possible, but Brezhnev and Nixon alone were able to tesolve three areas of differences.

REMEMBER WHY KHRUSHCHEV KILLED THE PARIS SUMMIT? He came to Paris but refused to sit down with President Eisenhower. He walked out before the meeting even began. His stated reason — because the United States had sent U-2 spy planes over Soviet territory.

Things have changed. The U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms treaty provides for the very kind of inspection Khrushchev used to blast the Paris summit. It permits surveillance overflights to protect against violations of the treaty and guarantees that neither side will interfere with such inspection.

'Sea Mammal Protection Bill' Strikes At Eskimos' Livelihood

As soon as the wind opened a "lead" in the ice pack covering the Arctic Ocean, the men vigorously chopped a trail through the hard-packed ice ridges and dragged their skin boats to the edge of open water. They built camps with ice barriers against the ceaseless, knifelike wind, and waited and watched for bowhead whales to migrate past the point.

When one was spotted within chasing distance, the sentry on duty spread the word and they rushed their boats after it. If they caught up, they shot it with an explosive dart and attached floats to keep it from sinking, then towed it back to the ice. A flag was run up on the team captain's house in town, and the whole population ran out onto the ice to watch the butchering and get their share of muktuk.

IT HAS BEEN a good spring because so far the village has taken 16 whales, and slabs of meat are stacked outside many houses in Barrow. Sixteen whales is not a lot by commercial whaling standards, but it makes a banner year for one Eskimo village. And that difference — between the mass catch of whales and other sea mammals by mechanized outsiders on the one hand, and the small but vital catches by Eskimos who have made a living from the sea for at least 6,000 years on the other — is at the heart of an emotional controversy between Alaskan natives and the Congress of the United States.

The House has passed, and the Senate is considering, a "sea mammal protection bill" that is shot through with loopholes that favor large-scale sealskin dealers in New York and South Carolina, for example, while limiting the Eskimo's catch to what he can eat and turn into handicraft articles with his own hands.

An outcry against it has risen from Barrow, Kotzebue, Nome, Bethel, and from the cities where friends of hunters in those Eskimo villages have access to media that might reach back to Washington.

One supporter asserted that "the bill as it now stands will surely drive into extinction those land mammals dependent on the ocean mammals, and those are none other than the Eskimos." Another Alaskan suggests that "we take two Eskimos, two Indians and two Aleuts and put them in zoos for preservation" — or call for volunteers to be stuffed and mounted in museums along with other extinct species.

THAT MAY overdramatize the situation. The native is not totally dependent on sea hunting, as he used to be. Here in Barrow, many have jobs at the Navy Arctic Research Laboratory, or at the government school or the government hospital. Many get government food stamps. Everyone who has his own transportation now uses snowmobiles (fueled by $1-a-gallon gasoline) rather than dog sleds, so the tremendous amount of meat formerly needed to feed working dog teams is no longer essential.

But what little extra cash the Eskimo makes still comes mostly from locally made fur mukluks, parkas, dolls and walrus-tusk carvings, or from sending those raw materials inland for crafting. The Eskimo has existed for centuries by using every ounce of every whale, every polar bear, seal, walrus he killed — for his own food, for his dogs, for his own clothing, for barter to other villages, for sale to outsiders.

Yet, altogether, despite wastefulness that has grown in recent years, he has made only a tiny dent in the sea mammal population. It is the outsider, the white man in it for high profit rather than subsistence, who has decimated the animals.

THE NATIVES of Barrow take three or four polar bears in an average year. Hunters from outside, using airplanes to range far out over the icecap, took 60 in this area this spring alone. The typical polar bear hunter is a Texas oilman or some other sportsman affluent enough to afford about $7,500 to bag his trophy; the Eskimo down on the ice surface takes only those bears he blunders into, and each at potential danger to his own life.

Even grosser disproportions exist between the Eskimo catch of whales or seals and those taken by highly mechanized whaling fleets or the mass clubbing slaughter of baby seals in the Canadian arctic each year.

The Eskimo thinks, in short, that he is being discriminated against. There have been congressional hearings at which he has said so. His friends are taking up a collection now to send a delegation to protest in Washington. But the wholesale fur dealers in New York and elsewhere have reached Congress already.

The prospect today is that the bill will keep the United States wide open to large-scale fur trade, and thus the animals involved will be cut down as ruthlessly as ever.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

June 5, 1962

Charles E. Simpson, Monterey police chief, concluded a study of the San Rafael Police Department with a report that urged revision of the city charter to make the police chief appointive.

Secy. of the Treasury John F. Dillon said the Kennedy administration would propose a top-to-bottom reduction in federal income taxes in 1963.

20 YEARS AGO

June 5, 1952

Marin voters put Vera L. Schultz and Stephen Balzan into a run-off for county supervisor from the Third District, and incumbent William D. Fusselman and Carmel Booth into a runoff in the Second District.

Another run-off was forced for Marin Municipal Court judge, between Richard M. Sims and John J. Miller.

Corte Madera Cracks Down On Those Sneaky Tennis Players

The Corte Madera Town Council, never known as a group to coddle to the criminal element, has issued a new hard-line policy to its police force.

First target of this get-tough approach is that hard-core ring of 11 and 12-year-olds which sometimes frequents the town's tennis courts holding up everyone else's game.

Alas, the young tykes — who somehow have learned that a flat, paved surface is ideal for tennis — are to be banished from the playing area on weekends and holidays unless accompanied by parents.

Not only banished, but — if the situation warrants — subject to misdemeanor arrest and a chance to cool their sneakers in the county's pokey.

THE TOWN COUNCIL also has ordered the same ration of justice for anyone caught on the courts without tennis shoes, spending more than five minutes warming up, playing more than one set, etc., etc.

EVER WONDER if that welfare pie is really as good as it looks? Why not ask someone who eats it.

Under a new public information program sponsored by the Marin County Family and Children's Services Advisory Committee, some county residents may get a chance.

As outlined by members of the committee, the new program will provide just about any group or organization a welfare recipient willing to discuss life on welfare.

The program has already been tested with surprising success, especially among high school students, the committee reports. "They are willing to ask questions about all they've heard their parents say," one member explained.

The idea behind the speaking program is to fight the "welfare image" by showing "We're just average people except we're poor," a young mother said.

PUBLIC APPEARANCES comprise the second new program initiated by the committee, which was created to advise the welfare department on the needs of the indigent.

Several months ago the group's public information subcommittee launched a new program to answer inquiries about the welfare program provided the questions didn't infringe on recipients' privacy.

Public response to the offer was good initially but has slowed down, members report.

Persons with questions about either program may write Robert R. Beebe of the information subcommittee, care of Family and Children's Services Committee, P.O. Box 4160, Civic Center Branch, San Rafael.

Dramatists Workshop Is Announced

The Marin Shakespeare Festival and Tamalpais High School District will cooperate in an 11-week high school students' drama workshop beginning June 19, according to Susan Walker, executive director for the festival.

Students will earn high school credits while they study both acting and stagecraft. Dan Caldwell, head of the Tamalpais High School drama department, and Robert Greenwood, music department chief, will lead the course.

Other instructors will come from Redwood High School, Reed College, San Francisco City College, and the professional staff of the Shakespeare Festival.

Classes will be held at Tamalpais High and at the Festival's outdoor theater in Forest Meadows, San Rafael.

Big Endians Vs. Little Endians: Swift Anticipated Sociologists

Jonathan Swift once divided the human race according to the ways its members cracked their breakfast eggs: Big Endians and Little Endians. He was, of course, exaggerating — just barely — the awful compulsion men have to classify the friendlies and the hostiles: Our Kind and Everybody Else.

The Greeks were practically that blunt about it. They divided the world into two parts: Greeks and barbarians. The root meaning of barbarians — "men with beards" — suggests a sad fact. Big Endian-Little Endian distinctions tend to emphasize only what is superficially different and strange.

Yet the consequences can be far from trivial. To set up categories is to introduce value judgements — the Ins and the Outs, the Good Guys and the Bad Guys. Push Big Endian-Little Endian words to their limits and ghettos and even concentration camps materialize.

NONE OF THE TRADITIONAL Big Endian-Little Endian methods of separating men from men — by race, by nation, by ideology — have been abandoned in the 20th century. But thanks to the latter-day inventions of psychology and sociology, people are now also divided according to temperament and life-style. There are the introverts and the extroverts, the hip and the square, and so on. Nobody who uses these terms needs to be told how loaded they are. But on the whole, they start fewer wars.

Nietzsche was the Milton Bradley of these intellectual parlor games. He divided men into Apollonians and Dionysians. Apollonians, like the Greek god they are named after, are devotees of reason, law, moderation. Dionysians subscribe to passion and ecstasy; you call it "chaos," they call it "creativity."

Spengler, another German, may be all-time champion at "What's My Type?" He invented, among other types, Faustian men, defined as limit-exceeding boundary-busters who sent Gothic spires thrusting into the sky in search of infinity during the Middle Ages and now, presumably, are sending up rockets, probing for that secular version of infinity: the future.

THE LATEST Nietzschean gamesman is a British professor, now teaching in the United States. In "Cities of Light and Sons of the Morning," Martin Green extrapolates from his own position. He is, he decides, an Erasmian — liberal rather than radical, a man of ideas rather than actions, a dreamer of the triumph of moderation and reason. An "antienthusiastic" man of the "soggy, would-be center," a man "never carried away," a don, Green is measured even in his self-contempt.

In that self-contempt he envies the polarizers: the contemporary world's two brands of revolutionaries. The Calvinist in Green's scenario is today's political radical. Dedicated, disciplined, dogmatic, he is more apt "to demonstrate and organize truths than to respond to them." Thus, by a curiously mixed theological metaphor, the Berrigans would be Calvinists, along with Norm Chomsky.

Calvinists driven to their duty can make Green feel guilty. But Faustians are the people he really envies. The Faustian, in Green's variation, is the gambler who goes with his hunches, the man of heat rather than light.

"Does he know of death and the Devil" Or is he all sweetness and light?" Luther's test for the Christian teacher is Green's test for Faustians and Erasmians.

IT IS THE FASHION to put down "sweetness and light," and Green — basically a sweetness-and-light man — does so while deferring to "death and the Devil" contemporaries like Norman Mailer and Leslie Fiedler: the Other.

"I can't love what is unlike me." The old slogan of Big Endians and Little Endians has been reversed. In Green's hand, labeling, which began as a technique for discriminating against aliens, has ended up as a technique for discriminating against oneself.

All of which leads us to a final label, fellow labelers. Definition of a sophisticated Big Endian: A Man who lays his egg on its side, and then orders Rice Crispies anyway.

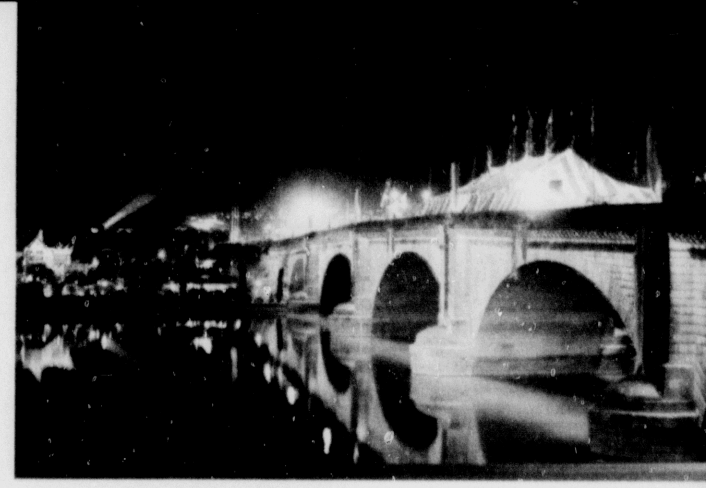
Fly as our guests to see how Lake Havasu City is growing– but still protected from overgrowth!



You can be McCulloch's flight guests to Lake Havasu City, Arizona. There it won't take you long to learn that Lake Havasu City's 8,000 residents really like the community's sunny, year 'round better living and recreation . . . its priceless protection from "Big City" conditions.

The community is protected from overgrowth problems by its Master Plan conceived by C. V. Wood, Jr., famed designer of new communities.

The $117 million in physical improvements to date has included all the things needed for the "good life" — homes, schools, medical facilities, shopping centers, utilities, industry and recreation facilities. Recent progress includes a second shopping center, the new $1.75 million Senior and Junior High Schools, the second golf course and two new medical centers.

Besides the Master Plan for controlled growth, the size of Lake Havasu City is further limited by surrounding Government-preserved recreational land . . . it's an "act-now" opportunity!

Why McCulloch offers this "Fly To See" service

We feel that the story of the London Bridge and Lake Havasu City's growth is so astounding that you almost have to see it to believe it!

That's why we are anxious for every sincerely interested couple to fly as our guests to see for themselves.

You will fly on McCulloch International Airlines, a U.S.-certificated supplemental air carrier. It operates the nation's largest fleet of giant, 4-engine Electra-Jets. With multi-million-mile pilots, flight engineers and attentive stewardesses. You'll find the McCulloch International Airlines team of 250 people proud of its unique service.

And you'll agree . . . a flying visit to Lake Havasu City is the ideal way to explore this wonderful small world . . . a world of opportunity that offers you a chance to grow with it.

At the foot of London Bridge is the English Village (left) built by the City of London on an acre of land it owns. This is the completed portion of the proposed International Resort Center. Fly to the wonderful small world of Lake Havasu City Arizona as McCulloch's flight guests!

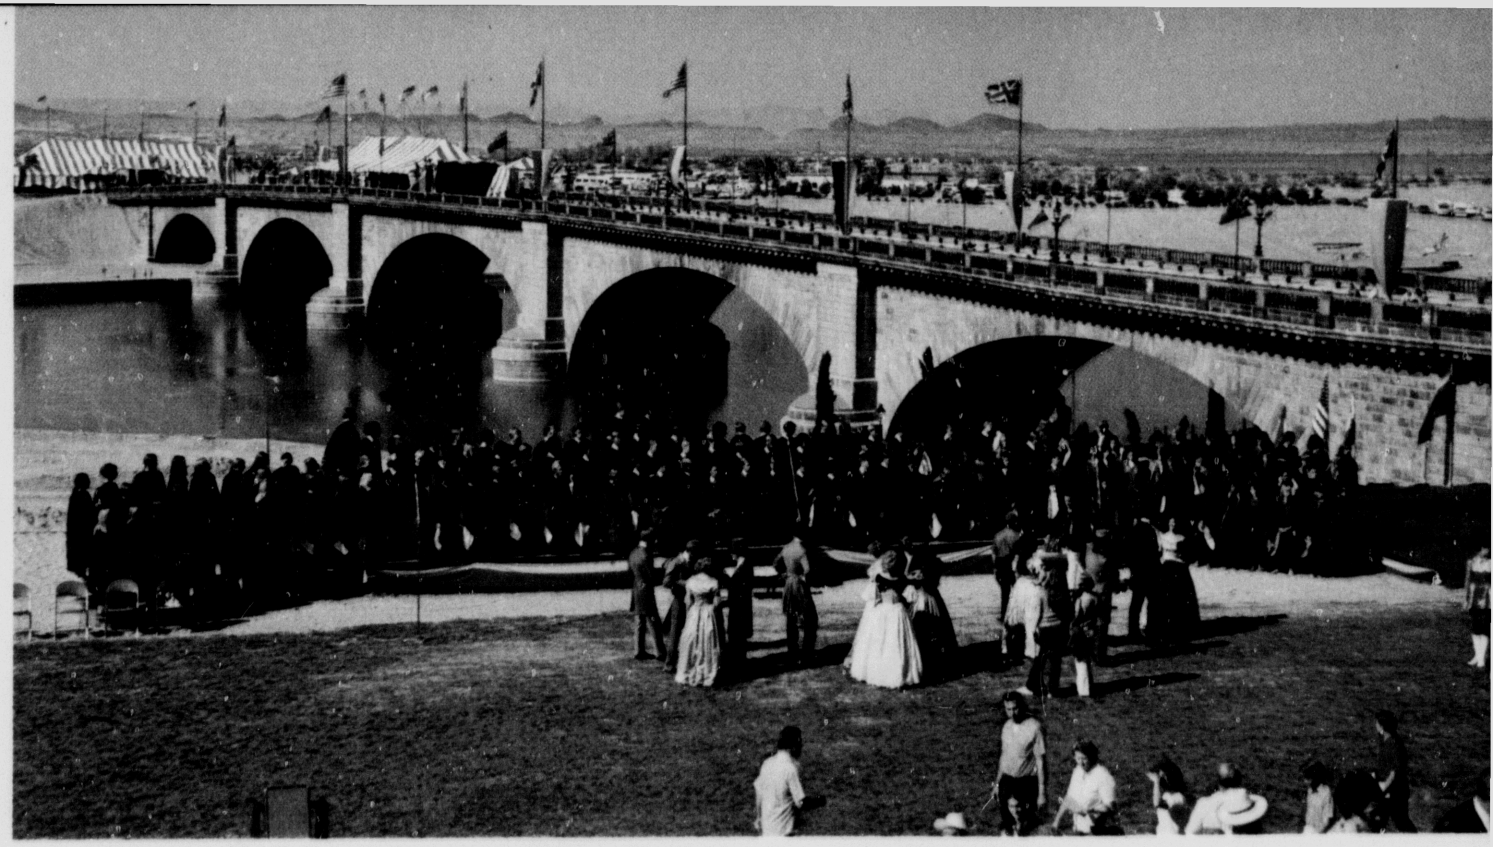
Now both of you — husband and wife — can fly as our guests to a wonderful small world — Lake Havasu City, Arizona!

You'll find a land of year 'round water recreation, better living and industry. All in a protected "small town" environment.

You'll see that Lake Havasu City is truly a planned city — self-sufficient and beautiful. As McCulloch's first planned city, it was begun in recognition of a growing national need for completely new cities — with a new approach to living.



London Bridge at Lake Havasu City. Its reconstruction has been called one of the most fascinating engineering feats in modern history. Above is a scene during the London Bridge dedication ceremony attended by thousands in October, 1971.

Lake Havasu City is designed to help relieve the pressures and problems that beset most of our nation's big cities — congestion, traffic snarls, pollution, noise and tension. Developed every step of the way according to McCulloch's Master Plan for a balanced population and economy — light industry, service businesses and "leisure industry."

You'll also see the famous London Bridge and even walk across it. Now it's completed — but the opportunity it represents is just beginning!

You'll learn firsthand how London Bridge can have far-reaching effects on the economic future of Lake Havasu City. Its reconstruction alone was an $8 million project. And now still more employment is expected to result as the proposed multi-million-dollar International Resort Center is developed. Already the City of London has completed its English Village, including a pub and restaurant, on an acre of land it owns.

Also, adding to the jobs provided by other employers already established in Lake Havasu City, McCulloch Corporation is now moving its entire Los Angeles chain saw manufacturing operation employing over 700 to this community. When the entire move is completed in 1975, it is anticipating up to 1200 employees in Lake Havasu City — with an annual payroll of millions.

While you are at Lake Havasu City, you'll also see the miles of beautiful beaches, golf courses, over 400 businesses, banks, schools and light industries that have sprung up in just eight short years. And Lake Havasu City is still growing! Since 1964, capital investment has increased by 1480%, and the increased valuation total went up 3350%!

You'll see a pleasant community of new homes — a thriving town of over 8,000 residents who have "found their place in the sun" — in the nation's third fastest-growing state.

All this growth is coupled with the many advantages of a new and better way of life that can mean new opportunities for you. So fly to see for yourselves the many opportunities that Lake Havasu City offers you!

See the city! See the opportunities!
